

Kingston's ocean race

The Australia Day Ocean Swim held at Kingston Beach on January 26 attracted 155 racers from around Tasmania.

The race was organised and patrolled by Kingston Beach Surf Lifesaving Club as part of the Tasmanian Ocean Swim series.

The ocean swim is usually part of Kingborough's A Day on the Beach event held annually on January 26, however the beach celebration was cancelled this year due to pandemic considerations.

The female 1.5km ocean race was a close finish, with the third-place racer, Junior Female swimmer Sienna Palser, crossing the finish line in 25 minutes and 30 seconds, less than 10 seconds after the overall winner, Senior Masters swimmer Sabins Lane.

Local ocean swimmer Matthew Wilkinson, of the Kingston Beach Weedy Sea Dragons, finished in 10th place overall in the male 1.5km event, achieving a race time of 24 minutes and 52 seconds.

Blackmans Bay mother and daughter team, Melanie and Hannah Joubert, were among 113 racers in the 1.5-kilometre event.

Speaking with the Kingborough Chronicle after the event, Melanie said it was the pair's first ocean swim and it was Hannah's idea to enter.

Hannah (12) is a Grade 7 student at Calvin Christian

School and swims at HC Swim Club.

Hannah said she had been inspired by her mum's swim across a lake many years ago.

"My mum told me she swam a kilometre in a lake once," Hannah explained.

"I asked my mum if she wanted to do the [ocean] swim with me.

"She took a bit of time to decide.

"I trained a few times at Kingston Beach.

"It's so much harder than the pool.

"It's lots of fun."

Melanie Joubert said the ocean swim was invigorating and she'd have felt uncomfortable letting her daughter swim the distance alone.

"It was a big challenge," said Melanie.

"To finish it was the main goal.

"I really enjoyed it.

"We're really looking to do more."

Hannah and Melanie recommend taking the distance swim event slowly, train the distance beforehand and wear suitable swim gear for the conditions.

The 500-metre novice event attracted 42 participants.

Junior swimmers Ruby Biggins, Tempest Enright-Norris and Hannah Jager of Kingston Beach Surf Lifesaving Club were among the first 20 swimmers to cross the finish line in the female 500m event.

Solidarity with nation's first people

The Aboriginal flag was lowered to half-mast outside the Kingborough Council chambers on January 26.

Representatives of weetaapoon Aboriginal Corporation (wAC) and South East Tasmania Corporation (SETAC) joined with the Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Dean Winter and Cr Gideon Cordover to acknowledge January 26 as a day of mourning for all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Following a request from wAC and SETAC, Kingborough Council's general manager agreed to lower the Aboriginal flag to half-mast to recognise the day and show support for the community in Kingborough.

"On January 26 in 1788, Sir Arthur Phillip claimed the land now known as Australia in the name of King George III," explained Uncle Rodney Dillon.

"This marked the start of massacres, dispossession and suppression of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

"We are hurting on this day.

"We remember our ancestors who fought and lost against the invaders.

"Who were moved off their lands onto isolated islands where they were not allowed to speak their language, manage their land and water, or practice their culture.

"Who were murdered en masse so that this land could be colonised by a faraway people.

"We don't want to continue fighting, we just want people to listen and understand our pain and suffering," Uncle Rodney stated.

"This is a day of deep mourning and remembrance and it's not a loss we can easily 'get over' as so many people would like for us to do.

"It's a start that Mayor Winter from Kingborough and Mayor Enders from Huon Valley, have been supporting and working with us.

"We look forward to further developing and strengthening those relationships as we continue to fight for our rights."

Mayor Winter said agreeing to fly the flag at half-mast was an easy decision.

"When weetaapoon and SETAC asked us to fly the aboriginal flag at half-mast, we were happy to agree," Mayor Winter said.

Huntingfield; let's get it right

Dear Editor,

I believe strongly, and I don't think I am alone on this, that it is time for all who are involved/stakeholders in the suburb of Huntingfield to have a clear say on what has been described as a controversial development.

Due to what, in my opinion, has been a lack of clarity to so many, it is time to nip this in the bud while we can.

What I mean by this is, given Huntingfield is its own suburb (and if I am not mistaken, an award-winning suburb) and is relatively small, it would be extremely simple to have a democratic and all voices heard say regarding the development.

I believe the core issues are:

1. People are concerned the development is too high density and will create a multitude of issues, some of which are; the new development does not fit the suburbs character, and that this will create an overly dense area of homes that does not lend itself to a better lifestyle future for Kingborough in general.
2. That this will also lead to logistical problems for the area, of which traffic flow is one of those extreme concerns.

How can we sort this out?

Well, I have a democratic way this can be fairly sorted out and would leave no confusion regarding any possible controversy.

Given Huntingfield is small and has its own postcode, it would not be difficult to organize a by-mail vote with the choices fairly set out and clear once an outcome is found. The vote, I believe could be organized something like this:

1. Do the residents of Huntingfield want the density of the new development lowered to approximately half the current proposed density, and be in line with the current Huntingfield layout, and stay within the original Huntingfield guidelines, and not the current proposed development.

2. Do the residents of Huntingfield think the State Government has the development in line with what the residents want, and that it should go ahead as proposed as it does qualify with the majority of residents wants and feedback.

Let's look to the future, with a horizon that has innovative ways to find a fairer democratic method for large changes to our municipality and suburbs.

Although voting itself nowadays is not innovative per se, what would be somewhat innovative is implementing a vote in an instance where there is some possible controversy in a case, and that it would be very simple due to the scale of the suburb.

If everyone involved in this endeavour is sure about how they want to see this future development move forward, then I believe that there is no reason not to allow an open and fair vote on the matter, especially in the case of something that is being described as controversial due, obviously, to people being concerned.

I believe we need to make this vote happen, so we know truly what the majority want.

Does not get any fairer than that.

Thank you to good Samaritans in tough times

Dear Editor,

On Saturday morning, only a few hundred metres from my home, I came upon a motor vehicle accident which had unfortunately happened only moments earlier.

I am a volunteer member of the local fire brigade, so I was somewhat prepared to deal with the situation, which included two injured people.

Within 30 minutes or so, first responders in the form of Tasmania Fire Service (TFS), Tasmania Police, Tasmania Ambulance and SES were fully in control of the situation.

As per usual, the members of these organisations did a wonderful job.

However, this letter is dedicated to the strangers who stopped and helped before the first responders arrived.

I only caught the name of one of these good Samaritans, who happens to be a nearby local who I met for the first time.

This gentleman and his partner offered medical assistance to the worst injured person.

There was also a young chap driving a white Colorado who made the initial 000 call and helped direct traffic

Rental relief payments end

Tenants and landlords in Kingborough are facing a transition away from pandemic rental protections after the Tasmanian Government's financial hardship protection period came to an end on January 31.

Any rent increases that were due to take place in the "emergency period" between April 23, 2020 and January 31, 2021 took effect from February 1.

The COVID-19 Rent Relief Fund was established in May 2020 to help tenants and property owners suffering extreme hardship, with support of up to $2000 or four weeks rent available.

Residential tenants, who have previously been approved for rental relief are eligible to apply for a second round of Residential Rental Relief Extra Support payments until March 31, if their circumstances have not changed.

Residential tenancy landlords, who have previously been approved for landlord support, are eligible to apply for a second or third payment until March 31.

The financial value of the Extra Support payments is up to a further $2000 per payment, per landlord, in addition to the Landlord Support Fund first round payment.

Minister for Building and Construction, the Honourable Elise Archer MP announced the changes to tenancy support payments on January 27.

"Residential rental protections are coming to an end on January 31, but we have always said that if circumstances dramatically change in the future we will consider further support if required," said Ms Archer.

"The financial hardship period for commercial tenancies will also end on January 31.

"To support residential tenants and landlords through this transition, from 1 February to 31 March our government will extend the financial support already offered through the Rent Relief Fund and Landlord Support Fund.

"More than $2.8 million in support has already been paid to more than 3,400 landlords and tenants who have been financially impacted by COVID-19, representing approximately 81 percent of rent arrears.

"In addition, our government's amendments to the Residential Tenancy Act 1997 will allow for rent arrears payment orders to be issued by the Residential Tenancy Commissioner to allow landlords to recoup any remaining rental arrears accrued during the COVID-19 emergency period.

"The rent arrears payment orders do not override the obligation of a tenant to make regular payments of rent but instead outline a schedule for repayments in addition to normal rent obligations, and in turn protect them from eviction whilst complying with the payment order.

"It is also important to note that once the emergency period expires on January 31, a landlord can only increase rent in line with the Residential Tenancy Act 1997.

"If a tenant believes a rent increase is unreasonably high, they can apply to the Residential Tenancy Commissioner to have the rent increase reviewed."

Responding to the government's announcement on January 27, Shadow Housing Minister, the Honourable Alison Standen MP said the end to private rental protections would have a devastating impact on families affected by the pandemic.

"Many, many Tasmanian families are already facing homelessness because of a lack of social housing and now more tenants who are struggling to pay the rent in the fallout of the pandemic are at risk," Ms Standen said.

"By refusing to extend rental protections today, Ms Archer is abandoning families that are without a safety net and are now facing homelessness through the failure of the State Government to provide enough social housing.

"Ms Archer, Mr Gutwein and Housing Minister Roger Jaensch know that there are nearly 3,600 families now waiting to be housed.

"They know that priority applicants for social housing will have to wait an average of 64 weeks and others will have to wait much longer.

"They know at the same time, shelters are full, turning away 31 unassisted requests every day.

"They either fail to grasp this extremely grave situation or they have given up trying to fix the mess they have created.

"With unemployment figures some of the worst in the country, extending rental protections in the fallout of the pandemic should have been a no brainer," Ms Standen said.

Further details regarding residential and commercial tenancy changes can be found at www.cbos.tas.gov.au

Recognising a day of mourning

“Australia Day is such a great opportunity to celebrate our nation and how lucky we are to live here, but I’d love to see it moved to a different date so that our whole community can celebrate it,” said Mayor Winter.

Co-Chair of weetaapoono Laura Butler thanked the councils for their support.

“We thank both the Kingborough Council and Huon Valley Council for their continued support for our people,” Ms Bulter said.

“We need allies to listen deeply to us and recognise our pain.

“Lowering the flag to half-mast to recognise this means a lot and it gives us some hope that people are starting to hear us.

“We held a vigil in Cygnet to start the day remembering our old people and honouring their spirit and we’d like to thank all those who turned up to stand by us.

“There were community members, locals, councillors and even travellers who came along to support us.

“It was very a very moving ceremony and we hope that everyone will continue to have meaningful conversations with their families, friends and colleagues as to why this day is so painful for all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

“It is the only way we can move forward together and find a way, and another day, to celebrate as a country.”

Kingborough Councillor Gideon Cordover said it was a privilege to stand in solidarity with First Nations peoples.

“It was my privilege to stand with members of SETAC and weetaapoono Aboriginal Corporation outside the Kingborough Council Chambers with the Aboriginal flag flying at half-mast to commemorate Invasion Day,” Cr Cordover remarked.

“January 26 is a day of mourning.

“It is not the appropriate day for a national celebration.

“It is, however, an opportunity for us to stand in solidarity with First Nations peoples and respectfully reflect on our true history and what actions we can take to help right the wrongs of dispossession and oppression.

“Sovereignty was never ceded.

“Today marks 233 years since the start of a protracted regime of colonisation, the impacts of which are still being felt by First Nations peoples.

“On this day, and every day, we can show our allyship with First Nations peoples by encouraging truth-telling, starting work on treaties and improving mechanisms for self-determination.

“This is how we can move forward together.”

The Aboriginal flag was lowered to half-mast outside Kingborough Council chambers on January 26, as representatives of weetaapoono Aboriginal Corporation (wAC) and South East Tasmania Corporation (SETAC) joined with the Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Dean Winter and Cr Gideon Cordover, to acknowledge the date as a Day of Mourning for all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. ## Free training in disability support

An additional 415 free training places have been made available in full qualifications and skill sets for the disability sector in Tasmania.

Minister for Education and Training, the Honourable Jeremy Rockliff MP announced the new places, available via the Commonwealth and Tasmanian Government JobTrainer Fund, on January 22.

“Jobs in the disability and community support sector are predicted to be one of the biggest areas of future demand, and will continue to grow with the continued roll-out of the NDIS as well as the general ageing of our population,” said Minister Rockliff.

“JobTrainer is providing an additional 415 free training places in full qualifications and skill sets for the disability sector in Tasmania.

“By enabling both public and private Registered Training Organisations to take part in JobTrainer we are maximising the number of placements, qualifications and skill sets that can be offered.

“It continues our commitment to the sector, with more than $8 million invested in 6,000 subsidised qualification and skill sets funded over the last 3 years.”

A spokesperson for Minister Rockliff advised the Kingborough Chronicle on January 27 that the additional free training comprises of:

- 175 full qualification places for the Certificate III in Individual Support
- 175 skill sets places from the individual support qualification
- 62 full qualification places from the community services training package
- 3 full qualification places in disability.

Crash delays

Motorists travelling along the Channel Highway on Friday, January 29 experienced delays throughout the evening due to two separate incidents.

Only hours apart on the same stretch of road, the crashes caused lengthy delays through the Kingston CBD and Channel Highway.

A two-vehicle crash occurred at approximately 4:30pm on Friday afternoon at the Westside Circle roundabout.

No serious injuries were reported, although there was a significant increase in traffic through central Kingston as motorists diverted down John Street and other parts of central Kingston.

A single-vehicle crash closed the southern end of the Channel Highway near the Antarctic Division when a ute overturned at approximately 7:15pm.

Motorists were encouraged to avoid the area if possible and again, no serious injuries were reported.

Volunteers across Kingborough who deserve recognition for their efforts can now be nominated as part of the sixth annual Tasmanian Volunteering Awards.

Chief Executive Officer of Volunteering Tasmania, Dr Lisa Schimanski said the awards are the only state-wide awards program showcasing inspiring stories and recognising excellence in volunteering.

"After a particularly challenging year for many people, there is no better time to thank, recognise and acknowledge the incredible efforts of volunteers, volunteer managers and organisations," said Dr Schimanski.

"Their contributions have kept Tasmanian communities supported and connected."

Attracting hundreds of nominations from around the state each year, nominations are now open until midnight on March 15.

All nominees will receive a certificate of recognition and will be considered for one of the ten state-wide

Volunteering is critical to our state and volunteers can be found in almost every sector and most certainly in every community.

Almost 300,000 Tasmanians volunteer, contributing on average 4.4 hours a week to their fellow Tasmanians.

According to Volunteering Tasmania the value of volunteering in Tasmania is calculated at $4 billion dollars every year.

Dr Schimanski, encourages people to recognise volunteer contribution by nominating a volunteer or volunteer program.

"The value of volunteering is undeniable," declared Dr Schimanski.

"Volunteering connects us to ourselves, it connects us to others and it connects us to our communities.

"In every location and every realm of life's activities there are volunteers.

"The Tasmanian Volunteering Awards celebrate those amazing people contributing across Tasmania.

"Every contribution is significant."

COMMENT COLUMN

with Senator for Tasmania, Catryna Bilyk

As a former early childhood educator, I have seen first-hand the transformational impact that early childhood education and care has had on the learning and development of children.

Often families think of early childhood education as being about helping workers to participate in the workforce and to balance their family responsibilities with their careers.

But early childhood education is a lot more than that. We know from research that quality early learning can have enormous benefits for the physical, intellectual, social and emotional development of children.

This point seems to be lost on the Federal Government. The Prime Minister has described subsidised early childhood education and care as a "money pit" and former Education Minister, Dan Tehan, labelled investment in the sector as "communism".

Backbench Senator Gerrard Rennick described subsidised early childhood education as "the hand of government reaching in and taking away our children's youth".

With attitudes like that, it is unsurprising that Australia's out of pocket child care expenses are among the highest in the world and that these expenses have gone up 35 percent since the Liberals came to government.

The way the child care subsidy system is designed also disincentivises parents from working, women in particular as they, more often than men, tend to be the primary caregivers.

Many women will actually lose money if they work more than three days a week.

Labor sees investment in early childhood education and care not just as an important economic productivity measure, not just as a way of boosting women's participation in the workforce, but also an investment in the future of our most precious asset, our children.

Making child care cheaper for working families achieves a variety of important social and economic outcomes.

Labor understands this, which is why we have a policy to make child care more affordable for working families.

Labor's Cheaper Child Care policy will:

- Make child care cheaper for 97 percent of families with children in care;
- Increase the child care subsidy for more than one million working families;
- Remove the annual cap on child care benefits; and
- Prevent out of control fee increases.

To find out how much your family could save, visit Labor's Child Care Calculator at www.childcarecalculator.com.au

Historical unveiling at Gordon

New interpretation panels have been developed by the South Channel Ratepayer's and Residents Association (SCRRA) to tell the story of the township of Gordon.

The project aims to tell the story of the area's Traditional Owners, the township's early days and the devastating impact the 1967 bushfires had on Gordon.

The interpretation panels will be unveiled at a short ceremony to be held at Three Hut Point in Gordon on Saturday, February 6, at 2pm.

The interpretative signage project is a collaboration between the SCRRA and Kingborough Council, with contributions from the Tasmanian Aboriginal Centre (TAC), the South East Tasmanian Aboriginal Corporation (SETAC) and weetaoona Aboriginal Corporation.

Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Dean Winter, encourages all who have an interest in the area to attend the unveiling ceremony, which will be an opportunity for some to reminisce about old times and for others to learn something new about the township at Gordon, including its key civic buildings and residents.

"I am proud see Kingborough Council has supported the SCRRA in their efforts to educate locals and visitors about Gordon's history," Mayor Winter stated.

"SCRRA's members have demonstrated leadership and genuine interest in consultation with all relevant stakeholders throughout the process.

"Valuable information about the township's early residents and buildings was uncovered during a consultation event held at the Middleton Community Hall in late November 2020.

"I am especially pleased that council was able to support the project by liaising directly with Aboriginal organisations, who represent the area's traditional owners and Tasmanian Aboriginal Community, on behalf of SCRRA's members," Mayor Winter continued.

"Contributions from SETAC and weetaoona Aboriginal Corporation have added value and integrity to the project. "Council thanks the Tasmanian Aboriginal Centre (TAC) for its contribution to the project, which enriches Gordon's story.

"The TAC's contribution does this by presenting information from the perspective of the area's first inhabitants.

"I've really enjoyed reading these contributions and look forward to seeing more truth telling in Kingborough."

The panels also include tales of Gordon's early colonial families, who were timber getters, whalers, policemen, orchardists, farmers, builders, congregants, midwives, teachers, postmasters, grocers, bus drivers and much more.

President of SCRRA Gloria Lonergan said it has been a pleasure to work with the members on the project.

"We are very excited to present it to the community on this particular weekend, which is when the Middleton Fair would normally be held," explained Ms Lonergan.

"We are, of course, disappointed the fair will not be going ahead this year due to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

"However, we are pleased to be able to share more of Gordon's history with locals and visitors to the area."

Members of the Channel community, and those who have a connection to Gordon, are invited to attend the unveiling ceremony in Gordon adjacent to the Gordon jetty this Saturday, February 6 at 2pm.

The panels will remain on permanent display at Three Hut Point and Abbott's Point, the site of the Gordon Recreation and Camping Ground.

All those wishing to attend are asked to follow all safety measure for this COVID-Safe event.

Insight for interns

A group of students from the University of Tasmania (UTAS), including two from the Kingborough area, have spent their summer holidays learning about the inner workings of TasWater, as part of the organisation's internship program.

The 12-week paid program allows university students to gain work experience and insights into the water and sewerage services industry in their last or second last year of study.

The interns are spending time on-site, out in the field and working from home working across a range of areas within the organisation, such as communications and project delivery.

TasWater Organisation Planning and Performance Manager Melissa Flynn said despite a few constraints this year due to COVID-19, TasWater was committed to building on the internships' programs success.

"The program provides students with practical experience and insight into water and sewerage services, as well as building important skills for the future," Ms Flynn said.

"There are six interns for the 2020/2021 summer internship program, spread across a range of disciplines."

"Additionally, three Steve Balcombe Scholarship winners have returned for summer placements."

TasWater offers the Steve Balcombe Scholarship to support students studying in an area relevant to the water industry, such as engineering, environmental science or earth science.

"Both the internship and Steve Balcombe Scholarship programs form an integral part of our strategy to build capability for the workforce of the future where we aim to attract and retain new talent at the beginning of their career," Ms Flynn explained.

"It would be fantastic to see some of these interns return to TasWater as full-time staff in the future."

TasWater Interns Chloe An, Marcel Swanepoel (Kingborough) and Atak Ngor are getting hands on experience as part of TasWater's paid internship program. (PS)

Free Wi-Fi keeping Kingborough connected

Kingborough residents will be able to benefit from State Government provided free Wi-Fi for another four years as announced by Minister for Science and Technology, the Honourable Michael Ferguson MP last month.

Minister Ferguson said the successful launch of the network in 2015, has helped boost the tourism industry by allowing visitors to create and share "uniquely Tasmanian" experiences with friends and family.

"As we continue to respond to the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic, supporting our regional communities and the broader visitor economy is more crucial than ever," Minister Ferguson declared.

"That's why we have partnered with Telstra to deliver the Free Wi-Fi Network services at key locations around the state for an additional four years, through to the end of 2024."

Telstra was contracted to build, operate and maintain the network, which has grown to include more than 170 access points at more than 70 locations around the state.

Kingborough has access points in Blackmans Bay and Kettering with expansion expected across the region over the next four years.

Other popular locations include Salamanca Place, Cradle Mountain, Freycinet and Port Arthur, as well as regional locations such as Bridport, Queenstown, Derby, Oatlands, Sheffield, Latrobe, Geeveston, and Cygnet.

As part of the service, people can access 30-minutes of free Wi-Fi per device, per day, at no charge.

Minister Ferguson said as well as supporting visitor experiences, the network is also helping to connect vulnerable Tasmanians with support and services in the community.

"We know when Tasmanians are connected to digital services, they are healthier, safer, more productive and better able to connect with local, national and international communities," Minister Ferguson said.

"Addressing the digital divide is a key component of our Digital Ready for Daily Life program, which coupled with the Free Wi-Fi Network is addressing internet access around the state, and providing Tasmanians with valuable locally based digital assistance and training sessions."

Minister Ferguson said the government is pleased to have again partnered with Telstra.

"The renewed contract means we will provide a total of nine years of continuous free Wi-Fi services for tourists and Tasmanians."

Telstra Enterprise Executive Gretchen Cooke said the network is an exciting project that will continue to boost digital connectivity for visitors, businesses and residents and create opportunities for the entire state to grow and thrive.

"This project is another example of Telstra co-investing with government to bring fast and reliable Wi-Fi to public spaces across the nation, and deliver innovative programs and services via the Telstra Air network," Ms Cooke said.

Telstra's strong local presence will ensure the network is well maintained and able to meet user demand.

Rosehaven returns for a fifth season

Kingborough residents who enjoy the locally made comedy series Rosehaven will be excited to hear that the show is returning to the state in order to film a fifth season this month.

Minister for Arts, the Honourable Elise Archer MP and stars of the series Luke McGregor and Celia Pacquola met on January 21 to make the announcement.

“The Tasmanian Government is a strong supporter of our vibrant arts sector,” said Minister Archer.

“I am excited to announce our government’s support of the fifth season of the hit, Logie-winning comedy series Rosehaven, investing $500,000 through Screen Tasmania towards the production of the new season, scheduled to begin shooting in February.”

Filmed entirely in Tasmania, Rosehaven has charmed audiences across the country since its debut in 2016, and has since become one of the ABC’s highest-rating programs.

In this season, having defeated the first agent that tried to encroach on McCallum Real Estate’s territory, Daniel (ex-pat Tasmanian Luke McGregor) and Emma (Celia Pacquola) are content for things to go back to normal.

But Barbara (Kris McQuade) isn’t, and she forces them to take on more responsibility for the business.

Could this be the year she finally retires?

Meanwhile Daniel is regretting breaking up with the love of his life and Emma finally gets what she’s always wanted, a Rosehaven-based nemesis.

“All in all, it’s Rosehaven as we know and love it and all set in Tasmania,” Minister Archer stated.

Rosehaven co-creators and lead actors Celia Pacquola and Luke McGregor spoke of their excitement to be returning for the newest instalment of the hit show.

“This is really exciting for us and it hasn’t quite sunk in yet,” Ms Pacquola and Mr McGregor said.

“In 2015 we knew we wanted to make a TV show, but we had no idea what to write about and we were extremely worried no one would want to watch whatever we came up with.

“Now we’re getting to make a fifth season, we will allow our very self-deprecating comedian brains to feel a tiny amount of pride that we’ve made a good thing.

“But having written that, we already feel arrogant so we take it back and apologise for getting a big head there for a second.

“Thank you to everyone who helped us get here and a huge thank you to Tasmania for being such an awesome state to film in; from the amazing crew and actors we’ve found here, to the beautiful locations and local cuisine we get to eat on the weekends, we wouldn’t want to film anywhere else,” Ms Pacquola and Mr McGregor declared.

To date, the Tasmanian Government has now invested a total of $2.45 million in all five seasons of Rosehaven, and about 500 Tasmanian cast and crew have found work on the show.

In addition, 36 emerging Tasmanian screen practitioners have also gained valuable experience and skills working on the production through training attachments.

This year, the production is attaching emerging Tasmanian director Michael O’Neill (Australia’s Best Street Racer, Small Town Drifter).

Mr O’Neill will get the opportunity to learn first-hand from the Rosehaven director Jonathan Brough, furthering his professional development within the film industry.

Season five of Rosehaven will be in production for seven weeks across southern Tasmania, employing over 70 Tasmanian cast and crew members, and filming is expected to generate over $2 million in the local economy.

The announcement follows the recent launch of the Tasmanian Government’s Cultural and Creative Industries Recovery Strategy, which focuses on supporting the arts sector as it recovers from COVID-19 and beyond.

“Our ongoing commitment to Tasmanian screen production has enabled the screen industry to strengthen its capacity to develop new stories and service productions on the scale of Rosehaven, ensuring Tasmania’s unique stories, landscapes and people continue to intrigue, engage and entertain audiences around the world,” Minister Archer said.

“Screen production has proven itself to be very COVID-Safe, and this was evident at today’s Rosehaven rehearsal at the Theatre Royal.

“It is a natural fit for a responsible industry like screen production to seek to work in a COVID-Safe environment like Tasmania.

“I’d like to particularly thank production companies Guesswork Television and What Horse, and the show’s producers Luke McGregor, Celia Pacquola, Kevin Whyte and Andy Walker.

“I also acknowledge the ongoing and substantial support the ABC and Film Victoria has provided the Rosehaven production,” concluded Minister Archer.

A-League aspirations

Kingborough football fans may be able to enjoy a higher level of local involvement in the sport with talk of a Tasmanian A-League team.

Premier of Tasmania, the Honourable Peter Gutwein MP and Acting Minister for Sport and Recreation, the Honourable Sarah Courtney MP recently spoke about discussions with Football Tasmania about establishing the team.

Premier Gutwein said a Tasmanian franchise would deliver the A-League a truly national competition.

“We have seen strong growth in football participation in recent years in Tasmania and the government believes the next logical step is for Tasmania to have an A-League team of its own,” Premier Gutwein remarked.

“Any sporting competition is not truly national without Tasmania in it and on the back of entering the NBL later this year, this is our chance to further make our mark on the national sporting stage.

“Tasmanians deserve the same opportunity as other states in providing a pathway for elite football in our state and we stand ready to assist however we can as they work with A-League management to progress their bid.”

Acting Minister Courtney said nearly 40,000 Tasmanians play football, more than any other team sport in the state.

“Football has a great future in Tasmania and an A-League team of our own would be another positive step forward in recognising our state as a true national competitor,” Acting Minister Courtney said.

“Elite level sports are also very important for our events strategy and will help position Tasmania as a destination of choice for visitors.

“It will also create significant opportunities to develop our local talent, while creating jobs and providing significant economic benefits to Tasmania.”

A match pitting the top team against the bottom of the HCCA A1 Grade ladder was held at Kingston Beach Oval on Saturday, January 30. The Kingston Crows (6/159) defeated the Kettering Mariners (8/153) by four wickets. Belting another ball, Reece Schuth (40) was the Mariners' top scorer for the match. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

On Friday evening, January 29, at Kingston Beach Oval the Kingborough Knights played the Kingborough Tigers in a fundraiser for the Alex Gadomski Fellowship. Although rain threatened, the game went down to the wire with a super over needed to decide the winner. The Tigers made eight from their over while the Knights belted a six from their first ball and the writing was on the wall. The event was well attended, with members of the community reporting a good time being had by all. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Synthetic fortress not greener for bowlers

In the Bowls Tasmania South Open Gender Pennant Competition on Saturday, January 23, the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club Premier Division team showed they were back on top of their game.

They easily accounted for the visiting New Norfolk Bowls Club team at Margate, defeating them overall 102 shots to 62.

Kingborough won on all four rinks played and, because of picking up all 14 points on the day, are now only two points off top spot on the competition ladder.

Jason Fowler's rink won 32-16, Jarod Long 21-10, Will Coad 23-17 and Ryan Guy 26-19.

Division 1 did not fare so well when they travelled away to Howrah Bowls Club, only winning on one of the four rinks played, with Howrah winning overall 94 shots to 80.

Kingborough's winning rink was Tony Rowe 30-19.

Division 3 came away the victors when they hosted Glenorchy Roman at Margate, beating them overall 89 shots to 74.

The rinks were shared with both teams winning on two rinks.

Fred Shead and his rink had a good day, winning 35-17 and Mike Westlake 25-19.

Division 4 travelled away to the Cremorne Bowls Club, a synthetic fortress, where they were competitive until the half time break.

After the break, the local team displayed dominance on their synthetic green and defeated the visiting Kingborough team on all four rinks, winning overall 95 shots to 55.

Division 6 had the long trip to Dover where they were defeated overall 70 shots to 59, losing on two rinks and managing a draw on the third.

Michael Cawthorn's rink drew 20-20.

Division 7 had a day to forget when they hosted the visiting Taroona 2 team at home at Margate.

The visitors overran them on both rinks played, winning overall 58 shots to 21.

On Monday, January 25, the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre proved a haven from the 36 degree temperature when the 40 attending bowlers enjoyed their random draw bowls competition inside in the cooler conditions.

The Monday competition is a good way for non-bowlers to learn the game in a relaxed atmosphere.

Players on the day play in teams that are picked randomly each week and interested persons only need to turn up at the centre at 12.30pm for a 1pm start.

In the Wednesday mid-week competition, all three Kingborough teams came up against extraordinarily strong competition, with Division 1 managing a close three shot win over their opposition and the other two teams soundly beaten in their games.

Division 1 hosted a team from the Cremorne Bowls Club, on the home green at Margate where they won on two rinks and drew on the third.

Michael Andersch won 18-17, Shane Garth 22-21 and Graeme Walker drew 16-16.

Division 3 travelled away to Sandy Bay Bowls Club where all three rinks were overrun by their hosts, with Sandy Bay defeating them overall 78 shots to 39.

Division 4 also played away at Glenorchy Rodman Bowls Club, where they also failed to win on any of the three rinks played.

Rodmans defeated them overall by a massive 80 shots to 31.

John Isles had a baptism of fire, skipping for the first time due to the absence on the day of Pat Lee during this game.

In the Thursday Women's Competition, Division 1 hosted the visiting Rosny Park Bowls Club team in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre at Margate, Kingborough winning on two of the three rinks played for an overall 74 shots to 51 win.

Leonie Price and her team of Judy Traill, Greta Murray and Karlene Beadle played a solid game, winning 28-13 and Vicki Bannister, along with Kerrie Lane, Pauline Connell and Sue Mann lead all day to win 28-17.

This win makes them only three points off a top four position on the competition ladder.

Unfortunately, Division 2 did not fare too well when they travelled away to the New Norfolk Bowls Club, where they lost on all three rinks played and were defeated overall by their hosts, 70 shots to 47.

Division 5 played along side Division 1 in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre, hosting the visiting Sandy Bay team.

Kingborough had a convincing win on one rink and drew the second, for an overall win of 52 shots to 38.

The rink of Helena Harris, Anne Palmer, Michael Hemming and Carleen Crane won 33-19 and Jean Hemmings drew 19-19.

Channel and Huon rivalry at Woodbridge

The Huon Channel Cricket Association (HCCA) has announced that this season's T20 Charity fundraisers will be hosted by the Woodbridge Wombats Cricket Club on Regatta Day, Monday, February 8, with the game starting at 2pm.

The day will feature the annual Channel versus Huon T20 rivalry match, which was first played following the Riveaux Road bushfires in 2019, to raise money for affected families.

Last year's match was played at Blackmans Bay to support Melanoma Tasmania following the loss of a much-loved club member, Narelle Burgess.

With the current score standing at one match apiece, there will no doubt be some heat in this year's match at Woodbridge.

In 2021, proceeds from the day will go to SPEAK UP! Stay ChaTY, a suicide prevention organisation, which aims to normalise conversations about mental health and encourage people to seek help when they need it.

The teams will be split from the following clubs:

HUON: Southern Tigers, Slab Road, Huonville Bulls, Judbury, North Huon Warriors and Summerleas Eagles.

CHANNEL: Woodbridge, Kingston Crows, Blackmans Bay, Longley, Margate, Snug, Kettering and Bruny Island.

The HCCA asked each club to nominate two players who are willing and able to participate in the game.
