Clean Up Howden Day

Sixteen volunteers went to work cleaning up Howden on Sunday, March 7, as part of Clean Up Australia Day around the nation.

"We had our annual Howden clean-up day today and had a great turnout of volunteers," said Howden Progress Association's President, Leslie Frost. "We cleaned up all of Howden, Brightwater and Wingara roadsides and foreshore, Peter Murrell Reserve entrances and car parks."

The group also covered an area along Tinderbox Road, Alanwood Road, Draper Road and Isabel Road. Jessica Court and Olearia Drive were also cleaned. Twelve rubbish bags were filled with small pieces of litter. Other items found included tyres, a very old fibreglass dinghy, bricks, iron and timber pieces.

"We sorted all the rubbish from the recyclables," said Ms Frost.

"I have loaded six bags of recyclables into my trailer to go to the tip."

A Kingborough Council truck collected the remaining rubbish for disposal after the productive day.

Greater south included in travel tickets

Southern Tasmanians were set to miss out on the 800,000 half-price airline tickets the federal government made available as part of a support package for the tourism industry, with Hobart not included in the initial announcement.

The original announcement on Thursday, March 11 only benefitted northern Tasmania, with airports in Launceston, Devonport and Burnie among the 13 chosen destinations across Australia in the $1.2 billion package.

Hobart has now been included after Tasmanian Premier Peter Gutwein wrote to Prime Minister Scott Morrison on Friday, March 12.

"I personally contacted and then wrote to the Prime Minister last week requesting urgent consideration be given to the inclusion of Hobart under the scheme, and we join the tourism industry in welcoming this fantastic news," said Premier Gutwein.

"With Hobart, Launceston, Devonport and Burnie now all included in this initiative, it will bring even more travellers to Tasmania and encourage them to visit all parts of our state, spreading the economic benefit more widely and supporting jobs in all our regions."

Before Hobart was included, federal opposition leader Anthony Albanese MP said on March 11 that the government's chosen destinations were based on "the electoral map", noting two marginal seats in northern Tasmania were receiving economic support.

Speaking on ABC radio on March 11, Federal Minister for Finance, Senator Simon Birmingham said the 13 regions chosen were based on their reliance for their economy and employment on tourism.

"We've started with those regions where the data shows that they are most dependent in terms of regional employment on the tourism industry and where there are particular examples in relation to their dependence on international visitation or tourists and the like," said Minister Birmingham.

"So it has very much been a data driven process to work through the regions looking at tourism impacts, employment impact in those regions, and making sure that in those economies, communities who have such high local dependence on the tourism industry that we are supporting, getting more people there."

Destination Southern Tasmania CEO Alex Heroys said Hobart is classed as "regional" in a multitude of federal programs.

Mr Heroys said he was hopeful the federal government would add Hobart to its program after Darwin and Adelaide were added on March 11.

Premier Peter Gutwein was thrilled Hobart was added to the list of regions benefitting from the package.

"The half-price flights will bring more travellers keen to spend in our hotels, restaurants and cafes, and tourism experiences," said Premier Gutwein.

"This initiative will complement what the Tasmanian Government has already done to support the industry, with around $27.5 million in additional spend estimated to have been generated by our Make Yourself At Home travel voucher program, along with grant programs and tax relief."

A night at our museum returns after pandemic delay

Channel Museum like other tourist destinations has taken the long road to recovery to attract increasing visitors since COVID.

Opening times have been extended, and now the museum is open 10am to 3pm, Sunday to Friday.

'A Night at the Museum' originally planned to commence in 2020, will come to fruition on March 25, at 7.30pm.

Each month the museum plans to provide a topical presentation for the community, generally on the last Thursday in the month.

Community members are invited to attend, with admission of a gold coin.

Due to coronavirus restrictions, Channel Museum ask intending members to book to avoid disappointment.

At the first session of 'A Night at the Museum' on Thursday, March 25, Andrew Tomes is presenting an Introduction to Historical Land Information from the state government's Land Information System Tasmania.

Next, on the evening of Thursday, April 29, Dick Goodwin is delivering a presentation titled Channel War Service the First World War Onwards.

Temporary exhibitions during the month of March include the Illustrating History exhibition featuring the history of Margate, and during April an exhibition on D'Entrecasteaux Waterways.

The museum provides a step back in time, where visitors can discover the region's rich history and bring back memories from youth.

For youngsters, the award-winning displays provide new interests; how did people live without computers, mobile phones, electronic games and television?

Step into history and heritage in Margate

Captivating, award-winning displays of the rich history of days past. Bringing back the treasured memories for adults, and provoking interest and wonder for students.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ignoring the scientists

Dear Editor,

I am appalled and disgusted that even in 2021, Australia's backward government continues to censor, discredit and ignore scientists and scientific research.

As a scientist, I feel attacked and defamed, and I feel the government is slandering my university and many other universities by not taking scientific research seriously.

Ignoring scientists and scientific research will backfire on the government in a big way.

Think about climate change and deforestation, the extinction crisis and carbon emissions.

These issues are not going away and ignoring them is short-sighted and reckless.

Think before the next election.

Sustainable Timber Tasmania sees the writing on the wall

Dear Editor,

Finally, Sustainable Timber Tasmania has seen sense and has begrudgingly permitted the Bob Brown Foundation to put on its annual takayna Trail event in public forest in the Tarkine.

I wonder what changed their minds to allow runners to access public forests usually locked up by our short-sighted forestry industry.

Maybe the government recognised that the forests are not exclusively for cutting down.

Maybe it is also time to stop logging native forest.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

MONDAY. MARCH 8

#Choose to challenge on International Women’s Day

In celebration of International Women’s Day 2021, the Kingborough Chronicle invited three Kingborough women, including the Aboriginal Heritage Council, Deputy Chair, Sarah Wilcox, Deputy Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Jo Westwood and the founder and President of Kingborough Helping Hands, Edna Pennicott OAM, to share their stories and insights with readers.

The three women were guest speakers at an International Women’s Day event organised by Kingborough Council, held at the West Winds Community Centre on Tuesday, March 9.

Sarah Wilcox

Choose to challenge.
This is the theme for International Women’s Day 2021 and we are certainly seeing some challenges for many women right now.
This year, International Women’s Day is encouraging us to choose to challenge and to call out gender bias and inequality.
It encourages us to seek out and celebrate women’s achievements.
It says that together, we can help create an inclusive world and from that challenge comes change.
So that is what I am choosing to do.
I come from a very-long line of the most incredible women who deserve to be celebrated and honoured.
Women who survived ice ages.
Women who cared for country.
Women who shared stories over 2000 generations.
Women who survived invasion.
Women who were taken from their lands and forced to learn a strange language from far away men.

Women who had to practice their culture in secret.
Women who had their children taken away.
Women who endured, and who continue to endure racism.
My ancestral grandmother nimmeranna, was one of these women.
She was removed from her country along with a few others.
They were promised they would be returned home, but this promise was broken.
Every day I acknowledge and pay my respects to their strength and resilience.
There are so many amazing and strong women in our community today, who are leading the way in developing and teaching language, who are reconnecting us to country and who are continuing and sharing cultural practices.
They are also continuing to fight for our rights and for the protection of our country, heritage and culture.
However, we are still massively underrepresented and our unique knowledge ignored.
Decisions are made about us and the future of our cultural landscapes with no meaningful consultation or understanding of what it might mean for us.
I often hear people say Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders shouldn’t have a voice and they dismiss us as a minority, without giving any recognition to how and why that happened.
The Aboriginal voice of this country is over 65,000 years old.
It was the first human voice on this land.
It deserves to be heard with open minds and hearts.
Diversity isn’t just a buzz word.

Studies show that having diverse voices within the leadership of organisations have clear economic advantage.
Different perspectives lead to more in-depth discussions and therefore greater outcomes for all people in our communities.
They encourage honesty and inspire trust.
This in turn leads to happier and more productive employees and improved public confidence.
I am fortunate that I have so many women around me, Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal women, who inspire me, support me, value me and hear me.
I hope that we can all use our voices to challenge bias and inequality whenever we hear or see it.
To use our voice to share truths with compassion and respect, and to listen how we want to be heard.
We can improve, and we can do it together.
nayri nina-tu - thank you.

Sarah Wilcox,
pakana woman from lutruwita / Tasmania

Cr Jo Westwood

The theme for International Women’s Day in 2021 is #ChooseToChallenge.
From challenge comes change.
I am only the third female elected to the role of Deputy Mayor of Kingborough since the municipality was proclaimed in 1907.
I undertake the role with great pride and I hope to inspire other women in our community to follow in my footsteps.
I have previously managed a women in leadership project, which resulted in my workplace being recognised as an employer of choice for women.

I was inspired to run for Council in 2018 because this project showed me gender equity and diversity of thought delivers good outcomes.
Decision makers who reflect the makeup of our community are best placed to collectively make better decisions.
Half our community is female.
Juggling a family and a day job with the all-consuming role of a Councillor certainly has its challenges, but I am determined to show other women my age it is possible to occupy a leadership role in local government.
I chose to challenge by keeping it real and being authentic.
You’ll often find me attending a virtual meeting on the side of the soccer field, wrangling a child out of a tree while talking local issues at the playground or accidentally wearing high heels to a development site.
I don’t try to make the juggle look easy, because it’s not.
It is immensely satisfying to see good outcomes delivered for the community that I love. It is a privilege to advocate on your behalf and to see changes implemented because of this.
In a world where there is so much choice, I strive to raise my four young children (male and female) to be, and do, whatever makes them happy.

Edna Pennicott OAM

Key words of advice for Kingborough women from Edna Pennicott OAM are simple approaches to life that have proven to be successful for Edna herself.
“Rise above adversity,” Edna said.
“Live each day as it comes.
“And just keep going.”

Live well, live long

If you've ever thought how great it would be to have free professional advice on a range of health and wellbeing matters, which includes a cuppa and plenty of time for questions, then read on.

The Tasmanian Health Service in conjunction with Kingborough Council's Positive Ageing program will be hosting Kingborough's first 10-week series of health and wellbeing sessions for older residents.

The program entitled 'Live Well Live Long' is an award-winning program which takes a holistic approach to the health and wellness of older people.

The program focuses on the positive impact of maintaining independence and provides tips for lifestyle changes, big and small.

The sessions begin on April 9, the first Friday after Easter, and run until Friday, June 11.

Each week a different health and wellbeing topic will be covered, including food choices, hearing, stress management and how to protect yourself against scams.

The sessions provide advice and tips and plenty of time will be allocated to questions, answers and sharing of your experiences.

Sessions will be between 10am and 12noon, and will include morning tea and time for a chat afterwards.

Sessions will be held in the Middleton Room at the Kingston Community Hub, 7 Goshawk Way, opposite the Health Centre.

To find out more or to register please phone Julie on 6211 8170 or email jalderfox@kingborough.tas.gov.au

Wet wipes no no

Kingborough Council and TasWater are urging residents to be mindful of the ‘three Ps’, after wet wipes and tree roots obstructed a sewer main and caused a ‘no swim advisory’ for the southern section of Kingston Beach last week.

Early on Tuesday, March 9, Kingborough Council’s stormwater investigation officer located a sewer spill at James Avenue, Kingston Beach.

TasWater was notified and arrived soon after to resolve the issue.

The spill had already contaminated the stormwater system, leading to precautionary warning signs advising against swimming being erected at the southern end of Kingston Beach.

Council tested the water immediately, which returned a ‘fail’ result 24 hours later.

A water testing result returned on Thursday, March 11 returned a healthy result for the south end of the beach. Council staff then removed the advisory signs.

In May last year, a similar event occurred when an accumulation of wet wipes, known as a ‘wet wipe berg’, caused a spill and resulted in a beach ‘no swim advisory’.

Kingborough Mayor, Dean Winter, said it was a disappointing end to the summer testing season.

“The incident shows that a relatively minor incident can have a big impact on water quality,” Cr Winter said.

“We have had a great summer in terms of water quality, with all of our beaches open for the entire summer period.

“To lose the Kingston Beach Pontoon to large swells and then have to close the southern part of the beach because of water quality issues was really disappointing.”

For those unfamiliar with the term, the ‘three Ps’ are poo, pee and toilet paper.

Flushing anything other than the ‘three Ps’ may result in sewage network blockages or an overflow in the home.

TasWater Operations Manager Service Delivery Neal Synott urged the community to avoid flushing wet wipes or other non-paper material down the toilet.

TasWater advises that no matter what is stated on the packet, wet wipes do not break down like toilet paper does.

Michael Harrison

Property Portfolio Manager

"Michael, I have nothing but admiration for you and your team. I cannot fault anything you and the team have done. There was always a quick response when needed, and nothing was too small or too hard for you guys."

Elisha Brown

Property Portfolio Manager

"Any query or questions over this period you have always responded to in a timely manner, inspections reports were detailed and informative and your relationship with both our tenants and us was always professional."

Chantelle Norris

Property Portfolio Manager

"Chantelle, very friendly, bright and professional. Always going above and beyond to ensure our needs are met. Nothing is ever an issue. Would always recommend for anyone to go through Harcourts Kingborough Property management. Thank you!"

Sunshine and water views at Tarooma

Situated in one of Hobart's most sought-after suburbs, this four-bedroom brick home, only a few minutes' walk from the waterfront, is the ideal family address.

With a wonderfully sunny, north-facing aspect the home is light and bright and enjoys lovely river and neighbourhood views.

A flexible floorplan offers an open-plan kitchen and dining area on the ground floor, along with two bedrooms, both with built-ins, and a large family room with external access.

On the first floor there are two further bedrooms, the main with built-ins and an ensuite bathroom with two-way access.

An enormous second living area captures all-day sun and stunning views across the Derwent, all the way to Tranmere and beyond.

A delightful garden with established natives and cottage plants provides peace and privacy.

There's a garage/workshop, a carport plus additional off-street parking.

Tarooma's popularity continues to grow with its coveted schools and numerous sporting and recreational facilities including tennis, bowls and football clubs, all of which are an easy walk along quiet, tree-lined streets from this no-through-road location.

A picturesque foreshore walking track takes you along the coastline to Hinsby and Tarooma beaches and an easy and safe walk to school for the kids.

The thriving Neighbourhood Garden nearby provides another community hub for local residents.

For a rare chance at this highly-prized, lifestyle position call today!

Stunning views in a private location

For anyone seeking a lifestyle property offering privacy, views and a feature-packed home, this is a definite must-see.

This north-facing, architect designed, passive solar home has three bedrooms, two bathrooms, multiple living areas including a sunroom, study and two lounge rooms. Located in a private setting close to the marina at Kettering, the property's passive solar architecture and construction includes clerestory windows, double-glazing and full insulation. A near-new 6-kilowatt solar power system keeps costs down and increases the sustainability of the property. The country style kitchen has high quality appliances, picture windows and double sliding-doors opening onto the north-facing established garden. Opposite the kitchen is a family dining and lounge room with fabulous water views, cosy wood fire and raked ceilings. The second lounge room has a box window seat, doubling as a wood box, with a picture window that captures the spectacular views, making it the perfect place to read a book, listen to music or just chill out. There is a sunroom opposite the second lounge, which could be converted to another bedroom if required, with a bathroom conveniently located close by. The master bedroom is east-facing and features cathedral windows that capture the surrounding views. A concealed walk-through robe, separate sitting area, ensuite and large private deck makes this area the perfect retreat space and has previously been used as guest accommodation. A large, fully insulated and lined three-room studio, with double glazing and stacker doors, is located just a short stroll through the garden from the house. Currently used as a working art studio, this area could serve a number of purposes. To complete the picture there is a large, fenced veggie garden and a chook run for those wanting the freshness of home-grown produce. Inspections are by appointment.

The importance of companionship in your senior years

Community connection plays a vital role in both our physical and mental wellbeing, particularly during our senior years.

Staying social and getting out and about can help reduce health problems, give you purpose and allow you to live independently for longer.

At Oak Tree, our retirement villages are designed to help you meet new companions, foster existing friendships, and maintain that important sense of connectivity during retirement.

- Be as social as you'd like and enrich your retirement doing more of what you love.
- Great village facilities making the process of creating a new social circle easier.
- Have the option to participate in regular village activities, or just relax in the comfort of your own villa.
- Furry friends welcome.

To book a private tour of the village call 1300 367 155 or go to oaktreegroup.com.au

Less drive time. More you time.

Bus services to and from Kingborough and the southern suburbs are changing for the better, giving you more time to do the things that you want to do on your commute. Catch up on the news, read a book, listen to music, and enjoy some down time.

The Tasmanian Government is working hard to give you real choice about how you travel to and from our beautiful city, with faster, more reliable and more frequent buses. We're making things better, so everyone has the freedom to move.

If you'd like to have your say on more changes that will improve future public transport in Hobart, you're invited to join us for our upcoming public consultation. Visit transport.tas.gov.au/southernprojects for more information.

Better for you. Better for Hobart.

Jennifer Webster

Owner and Head Groomer

'Out of the ashes the phoenix shall rise.'

"Nothing like being forced to change. One either embraces it or walks out of a business. That is what I faced last year," says Jennifer, owner of Bubbles Dog Spa & Groom.

"My business closed during COVID-19 last year and, then opened again for an increasing clientele. To my surprise, people started spending more time with their dogs. However, in the middle of the year, my landlord decided to sell the property and my feelings of security went gurgling down the dog bath plug hole. I was in shock."

"Anyway, here I am. New premises in Kingston. Better property, more central location, space for the dogs and a view of the mountain, just lovely. But moving is no joke especially with plant equipment and forward bookings. In one week, I had it up and running thanks to a great team of tradesmen and friends."

"The only difference between success and failure I believe is whether you want to stay down or get back up again and keep fighting," says Jennifer.

Warm, genuine ceremonies filled with love

Helen Stewart is a local wedding celebrant who travels state-wide to host and celebrate a couple's most special day.

"I absolutely love people and thrive on making them happy, particularly on what is often the biggest, most exciting and often most nerve-racking day of their lives," said Helen.

"Nothing is more special than seeing two people in love tie the knot; whether they choose to be surrounded by their family and friends, or to have a small, intimate elopement."
A wedding is often what people dream of their whole lives, and Helen does everything to make it perfect for them; making the couple feel comfortable during the lead up, and on the special day.
Helen believes her warm character and genuine love of people puts her in good stead to ensure the couple marrying feels right at home from their first meeting, all the way through to the signing of their marriage papers.

"Organised, detail-focused and confident with people from all walks of life, I know I can make the special day exactly how it's been envisioned," said Helen.
"Weddings are all about special moments, and as a host, creating a calm, happy atmosphere for the couple and guests is of utmost importance.
"I look forward to planning with you, supporting you, and ultimately, celebrating the life and love you share with your partner."

Wedding Celebrant

- Helen Stewart -

Testimonial: "We had the privilege and pleasure of being married by Helen Stewart. As a celebrant, Helen was so incredibly warm, kind, welcoming and knowledgeable. Naturally, both my husband and I were quite nervous but with Helen's guidance, support and warmth we really enjoyed the experience prior to the wedding and during it. The ceremony itself was so tastefully hosted by Helen who made us to feel so comfortable, we were even made to laugh during it! We feel so lucky to have had such a positive experience and highly recommend choosing Helen as a celebrant for your big day. We hold such special memories of ours and we can't thank her enough for making it absolutely perfect, and making us feel right at home."

Excitement building

Something exciting is building at Tigerland and it involves the senior women's side.

The Southern Football League Women's (SFLW) are looking to pounce in season 2021, working hard behind the scenes in the gym and on the track to ensure they are in peak condition come round one, with the assistance of TeamFit Training and Sprint Coach Samantha Lind.

"The girls are excited to face the new challenges that competing in the SFLW will bring and believe that we are in good stead to be a competitive side in 2021," said Coach Chris Jackson.

"Despite recent talks regarding the future, and ultimately the abolishment of the TSLW, we have remained focused on doing everything we can to play the best brand of football possible."

The Tigers have learnt much from four years in the TSLW and are looking to take their game to the next level in 2021.

The list of support staff is headed by Coach Chris Jackson and Female Coach Coordinator/Women's Team legend Brad Willis.

"I'm incredibly proud of the resilience of this young group, particularly over a very challenging year that saw disruptions from the pandemic and over the last few months the demise of the statewide women's league," said Coach Chris Jackson.

"However, they have never faltered and continue to work to get the best from themselves.

"I'm excited about the huge strides that have noticeably been taken in the last year, both in their footballing ability, understanding, and leadership.

"We said goodbye to a few girls after last season, many moved due to university on the mainland, but we have managed to grow organically."

On Tuesday, March 23 the Kingborough Chronicle will publish a special 'Meet the Teams Tigers FC' feature with more messages from the SFLW and TSL sides.

Maci Lancaster, Zoe Donnelly, April van de Meer and Samantha Grimsey from Tigers SFLW. (PS)

Kingborough bowls roundup

As no Pennant Bowls Competition was being played on March 6 due to Bowls Tasmania Championships in the north of the state, the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club took the opportunity to have all three singles finals competitions played simultaneously, commencing at 11am on the Saturday.

This provided an opportunity for many members to attend and enjoy some extremely competitive bowls. The three games played on the day were Novice, B Grade and the Open Singles Finals.

The Novice final was played between first year bowlers Daniel Holland and Lindsay Webb.

The two players were good mates before they joined the club at the beginning of the season, and both have enjoyed an extraordinarily successful first year of bowling at Kingborough.

After starting in Division 7, Daniel quickly rose through the Division 6 and 4 ranks as the season progressed, before cementing himself into a position in the Division 3 team and played 2 games in Division 1.

Lindsay progressed from Division 7 into Division 6 as his bowling talent grew.

Daniel was the red-hot favourite going into the singles final and was given an early scare when Lindsay picked up four shots, winning the first two ends.

Daniel played his usual consistent game and managed to take the lead on the 7th end, gradually pulling ahead of Lindsay to eventually win the game 25-17.

Both first-year bowlers played a very high-quality game throughout the final.

The B Grade Singles final saw a father and son contest, with Allen Sculthorpe and his son Anthony winning their way into the final.

Anthony surprised his father, jumping out of the blocks and winning the first four ends to lead at this stage 8-0.

Anthony continued to apply pressure in the game and with consistent bowling did not let Allen into the game at all, winning 25-11.

In the Open Division Final, long time club members and Premier Division teammates Jason Fowler and Jarod Long met in a hard-fought competition.

Jason took the upper hand early in the game and after five ends led 8-1.

True to his usual form, Jarod continued to play his concise game and fought his way back into the match.

After the 26th end of the game the score was 20-20 and spectators were glued.

Jason lifted the pace and won the next three ends to score five shots and win the game.

Whilst the crowd was entertained by high-class bowls games, club member Michael Andersch made the day, cooking up delicious egg and bacon rolls, hamburgers with the lot, and more.

Nobody went hungry.

Rostered games in the Bowls Tasmania South Pennant Competition's Saturday Open Gender and Thursday Womens' competition have finished, with finals to take place over the coming weeks.

In the Wednesday mid-week competition, the final rostered round before the finals commence will be played on Wednesday, March 17.

In the Saturday competition, four of the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club teams have qualified for the finals.

The Premier Division team and Division 1 have qualified for home ground games on the first round of the finals.

Divisions 3 and 6 will be playing their first final round away.

Although all three teams in the Wednesday competition must play the final rostered game, they will not be able to qualify for finals playoffs.

In the women's competition, only Kingborough's Division 5 team made the finals and will play a home game in the first finals round.
