Lines of cars stretched kilometres along local roads in several directions before a new drive-through COVID testing clinic officially opened at Kingborough Sports Centre on Wednesday, January 5. Many residents were turned away, as Tasmania reached a daily record of 867 new COVID cases, and with a total of 3118 reported active cases. The State Government reported up-to-date figures on Monday, January 10, with 1218 new infections and 7917 active cases reported.

Virus testing turnaround

Residents were turned away in droves on the opening day of a new drive-through COVID testing clinic in Kingston on Wednesday, January 5, as Tasmania reached a daily record of 867 new COVID cases, and with a total of 3118 reported active cases.

The new drive-through testing clinic, located in a car park at the Kingborough Sports Centre, was scheduled to officially open at 10am on January 5. At the time, clinical polymerase (PCR) tests were required to be taken by people experiencing COVID symptoms and those defined as a 'close contact' of a COVID case.

Hundreds of people had queued in their cars prior to the opening time, some as early as 6am, desperate to have a COVID test.

The Kingborough Chronicle arrived at 10:15am on the official opening day to witness long lines of cars stretched kilometres along roads in several directions, blocking other traffic.

The cars that neared the final section of the queue were being turned around by the only traffic controller on site.

The traffic controller was tasked with telling the waiting motorists, one-by-one, that the clinic was overwhelmed and they should come back the next morning.

A sign at the TML Pathology testing tent read "COVID TESTING Drive Through CLOSED".

A staff member confirmed the site was "currently closed" as "people have been lining up since 6am" causing the testing clinic to reach capacity.

Some people were witnessed leaving their vehicles and walking to the drive-through testing tent, attempting to seek urgent testing and make enquiries.

At the time, Tasmanians who had obtained a COVID positive result from a rapid antigen test (RAT) were required to have a PCR test to validate the result.

The PCR test results had provided the daily COVID case numbers tallied by each State government, used to predict the surge in COVID hospitalisations.

However, at a meeting of National Cabinet on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 5, it was agreed to remove the requirement for a PCR test to validate a positive RAT result.

At the time the Kingborough Sports Centre COVID test clinic opened, Tasmania was also experiencing a shortage in supply of rapid antigen self-tests, with local pharmacies and supermarket stocks empty.

The Tasmanian Government had come under fire for opening the State border before children had received their first COVID vaccination, before much of the adult population had received vaccination boosters and without adequate supplies of rapid antigen tests available.

At the time, the Australian Government was also under fire for failing to secure enough supply of the rapid antigen tests, as the shortage impacts were felt nation-wide.

The Kingborough Sports Centre drive-through clinic is scheduled to open between 10am and 4pm, Monday to Friday and bookings are not required.

Bookings are required for the Hobart Macquarie Point COVID testing drive-through clinic and can be made by contacting the Public Health Hotline on 1800 671 738 or registering online at <https://covidtestbooking.health.tas.gov.au/>

General Practitioners may offer COVID-19 testing and may charge a consultation fee.

Snug aged care lockdown

Snug Village aged care reportedly went into lockdown on New Year's Eve after a staff member tested positive to COVID-19.

On January 3 it was reported that seven staff and one resident had tested positive. By Friday, January 7, Snug Village was one of 20 aged care homes in Tasmania impacted by COVID.

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to Tasmania's Minister for Health, Jeremy Rockliff MP, regarding the situation on January 6.

"Can Minister Rockliff MP please provide a briefing regarding the Snug Village residential aged care facility situation so we can inform locals, as many people in the area visit the village.

"How many COVID cases have been detected amongst staff to date?"

"How many COVID cases have been detected amongst residents to date?"

"How many village residents had received their COVID vaccine booster (third vaccination) at the time the COVID case emerged?"

"How many village residents have now received three COVID vaccinations?"

"How many people reside at the facility?"

"Are village residents still locked down/isolated in their rooms?"

"What is the plan for the village residents moving forward?"

The Kingborough Chronicle was referred to Tasmania's Department of Health and is awaiting a response.

By January 7 there were 1489 new daily COVID cases in Tasmania.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you, kind customer

Dear Editor,
Last month I was at a Kingston supermarket and at the checkout I was speaking to a friend, updating him about the circumstances which are presently affecting my family. I was extremely emotional and could not talk. When it was my turn to pay for my items, unknown to me, the kind customer before me had paid for my items via a gift card.
This was so unexpected and very much appreciated. I have no idea who the lovely lady was, or even what she looks like, but the kind gesture was very overwhelming and amazing.
Thank you.

Remember this at election time

Dear Editor,
I have a long-term, serious health condition and am therefore medically an 'at-risk' person for detrimental COVID health impacts.
Consequently, I ask that when the next election day occurs, others in a similar situation and/or those who were pleased with our former COVID-free island, think back to who it was that made Tasmania a place with a rapidly increasing COVID population.
Please don't be apathetic any longer, and don't just vote for a government because that is who you have always voted for.

Yes, there are people who have not been able to see loved ones due to restrictions and that is understandable.

And yes, we rely on tourism, but what will tourism look like if borders close due to either COVID statistics or tourists refusing to visit due to the risk of contracting COVID.

Every voting person has the right to vote for whichever political party they like, I just ask that you think carefully about the individuals that make up those parties that allowed this situation to arise.

It is bizarre that the so-called "brains" of our country, whilst daily COVID case numbers soared, opened borders up.

They also didn't consider our front-line medical staff.

Front-line medical staff were at breaking point before borders opened, so what would their Christmas holidays have looked like, apart from a bloody long way off?

Hopefully the brains of our country don't get a paper jam in their printers, as they obviously don't have the intelligence to fix it.

Outlet plumbing fix, or not

Dear Editor,
I give credit to Keith Anderson's simple pipe analogy of the Southern Outlet peak traffic problem, in the Kingborough Chronicle on November 30.

The letter, with its analogy, sums up the many previous letters on the subject.

What to do to resolve the situation is another question, but more importantly it raises the umbrella question facing societies the world over, coping with a continuous expanding population.

What we do today will become the problem of tomorrow.

The original Southern Outlet created its own problem of today by enticing greater population in the Channel region, creating an unsustainable, catch-22 situation.

I would find it hard to believe that any of the town planners, road engineers and other professionals in government or private sector would summarise the situation differently.

However, conveying these logical facts to the political/economic leaders seems to be an exercise in diplomatic irrationality to those whose simple thinking is that technology can always provide.

Playground declared a must visit

Dear Editor,
My family from Sydney and Melbourne were here for Christmas and thoroughly enjoyed their time here in Kingborough especially.

The new playground in Kingston was a "must" visit for the grandchildren who enjoyed the wonderful equipment there with dozens of others on the day.

They "shopped locally" in Kingston for Christmas gifts and enjoyed many local cafes and restaurants as well.

A barbecue at Dru Point in Margate provided a wonderful final family get together before some of the family returned back home.

The rest of the family enjoyed a day trip to Bruny Island in the New Year.

All this goes to show that Kingborough is indeed a great place to live, work and play.

Local people and business at risk

Epidemiologist, Greens Health Spokesperson and Member for Franklin, Dr Rosalie Woodruff MP said there is obvious community transmission and businesses are closing their doors.

"The predicted and rapidly unfolding COVID crisis is hurting Tasmania," said Rosalie Woodruff MP.

"Hundreds of people a day are being infected, testing is a mess and businesses are closing their doors.

"Since Peter Gutwein opened the State's borders and welcomed COVID to our island, we've gone from a confident and healthy island to a bunkered-down, infected community, with many living in anxiety.

"There is obvious community transmission, close contacts and symptomatic people are being turned away from testing clinics and businesses are closing their doors.

"The Premier bulldozed to open the borders, despite knowing almost nothing about Omicron, but in the full knowledge of unvaccinated under 12s and a fast-spreading new wave in NSW and Victoria.

"Tasmania is now in the grip of a serious health crisis and public confidence in the government's management of COVID has collapsed, largely because Peter Gutwein has stopped leading with care," said Dr Woodruff MP.

"We need to slow the rapid spread of COVID in the community, and we implore Peter Gutwein to put the needs of vulnerable people first.

"Slowing the virus is a multi-pronged strategy starting with closing the borders to high risk states, and using a short lockdown to allow the beleaguered public health response to catch up with the massive caseload.

"We urgently need to fast-track vaccines, more rapid antigen tests and staff for contact tracing, to continue quarantine, better masks (KF94, P2/FFP2, N95), and to improve indoor air quality," recommended Dr Woodruff MP.

"If the Premier continues this 'let it rip' strategy, he is responsible for every Tasmanian who tests positive, every person turned away from a testing clinic, and every business that closes its doors."

"After 22 months of putting public health first, and telling people how serious and debilitating COVID could be, the Premier has opened the border and walked away.

"The Premier must stop trying to normalise Omicron and put the health and safety of Tasmanians and local businesses first."

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to the Premier of Tasmania, Peter Gutwein MP on December 7.

"Can Premier Gutwein please remind the Kingborough community why he chose to open the border on December 15?"

At the time of printing, no response had been received.

Long COVID

The Kingborough Chronicle also wrote to the Premier of Tasmania, Peter Gutwein MP, and Minister for Health Jeremy Rockliff MP on January 6 regarding the health impacts and risks associated with Long COVID.

"Has Premier Gutwein and Minister Rockliff MP mentioned health impacts and risks associated with Long COVID in any media statements?"

"What advice has the Premier Gutwein and Minister Rockliff MP received regarding Long COVID health impacts and risks for Tasmanians?"

"Can Premier Gutwein and Minister Rockliff MP please advise the residents of Kingborough regarding Long COVID health impacts and risks?"

To date none of the above questions have been answered.

Epidemiologist and Member for Franklin, Dr Rosalie Woodruff MP has called on Tasmania's Premier to close the borders to high-risk states and use a short lockdown to allow the public health response to catch up with the massive caseload. Pictured a sign at a TML Pathology testing clinic in Kingston read "COVID TESTING Drive Through CLOSED", as the clinic became overwhelmed on its opening morning on Wednesday, January 5.

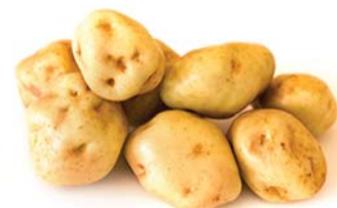

Many residents were turned away on the opening day of a new drive-through COVID testing clinic in Kingston on Wednesday, January 5, as Tasmania reached a daily record of 867 new COVID cases.

Urgent action and COVID support needed

Tasmania's government needs to be doing more to get Tasmania through the COVID pandemic, according to Member for Franklin, Dean Winter MP.

Mr Winter said it was now clear that the government's plan for reopening had failed and it was time they listened to community concerns.

"Here in Kingston we have seen the line for a PCR test stretch for hours and with RATs sold out it is incredibly difficult for people to know if they are COVID positive," said Dean Winter MP.

"The community has every right to be anxious, with businesses closing and our health system under enormous pressure.

"The Premier said we were ready and set the December 15 opening date, he needs to now tell Tasmanians why things haven't gone to plan."

Mr Winter said Labor had released a framework to assist the government get back on top of the virus.

"COVID is now in our community and the government need to act urgently to ensure people remain safe."

Financial support needed

Small and micro businesses impacted by COVID should not be "expected to bear the brunt" at this challenging time, according to Tasmania's Shadow Minister for Small Business, Janie Finlay MP.

Ms Finlay called on the Tasmanian government to reinstate support packages for business operators, as COVID numbers continued to rapidly rise on Saturday, January 8.

"With 97 per cent of Tasmanian businesses classified as small business, many of whom are sole operators, the government must act quickly to ensure that impacted Tasmanians are supported during this challenging time," Ms Finlay said.

"Many small and micro business operators have been impacted by rising COVID case numbers and are struggling to make ends meet, in some instances they have no choice but to close their doors.

"If a customer does not show for an appointment or if a courier or truck driver cannot work due to COVID restrictions, their revenue and livelihood is directly and adversely impacted as they are unable to absorb the losses elsewhere.

"The bills and overhead costs don't just stop.

"Businesses are expected to bear the brunt of this challenging time.

"This is not just about businesses closing their doors but those who are losing trade and having to make complex decisions in the best interest of their workers and the community.

"If the government's COVID modelling is correct and they are confident that this virus will come and go in waves, then they should reinstate support measures immediately.

"The program is there and it has been used previously. Surely it's a no-brainer for the government to once again provide this critical support."

Tasmania's Minister for Small Business, Jane Howlett said "businesses can apply for funding under the COVID-19 Small Business Advice and Financial Guidance Program".

For further details see the Business Tasmania website at https://www.business.tas.gov.au/covid-19_business_support_packages/covid-19_small_business_advice_and_financial_guidance_program or call the Business Tasmania team directly on 1800 440 026 or email ask@business.tas.gov.au

Cafes around Kingborough closed early and others moved to take-away only service last week. One café informed the Kingborough Chronicle it was taking precautionary measures to protect staff and patrons, while another said staffing numbers had become impacted by the COVID pandemic.

Out-door dining at Kingston Beach was popular on Sunday, January 9, as numerous indoor-dining options were impacted by the COVID pandemic.

Face masks are required indoors

Excess speed major cause of road casualties

Excessive speed has continued to be the major cause of casualties on Tasmanian roads, with 35 lives lost and 242 people seriously injured in 2021.

Two people were killed over the period between Christmas and New Year.

One in three serious casualty crashes on Tasmanian roads involve excessive speed, according to the Road Safety Advisory Council.

Motorcyclists remain over-represented in casualty numbers, accounting for around a third of all serious casualties.

The RSAC has been urging Tasmanian motorists to slow down, with a campaign titled Over is Over launched in December.

RSAC chairman Scott Tilyard said too many road users continue to engage in high-risk behaviours on our roads putting themselves and other road users at risk.

"Sometimes we're in a rush to get what we need or get to our destinations," commented Mr Tilyard.

"We might be tempted to go over the speed limit or answer that mobile phone text, but what might seem like a harmless action at the time can be fatal.

"It doesn't matter if you're speeding by 15 kilometres per hour or 4 km/hr.

"As speed increases, so too do serious casualties.

"Findings from RSAC's triennial attitudinal tracking research shows one in five Tasmanians find it acceptable to drive up to 10 km/h over the speed limit," Mr Tilyard noted.

"This shows Tasmanians aren't taking speeding seriously enough.

"As our new advertising campaign says, if you're driving even a few kms over the speed limit, it's over.

"Over is Over is our call for social responsibility.

"It challenges motorists to rethink their attitudes to speed and encourages them to adjust their behaviour by not driving over the speed limit, at any level.

"The 'fatal five' driving behaviours remain the highest contributors to serious casualty crashes.

"These are speeding, driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, distraction, not wearing a seatbelt, and fatigue." In a media release on January 1, Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, Michael Ferguson MP said last year 35 people lost their lives, which is only slightly down from 37 in 2020.

"In 2021 there were 242 serious injuries on our roads, down from 290 in 2020," noted Minister Ferguson.

"The 2021 figures also show that motorcyclists remain over-represented, accounting for around a third of all serious casualties.

"Concerningly, it seems some people just don't get the message, with alcohol or drugs and inattention being factors in about 22 per cent and 15 per cent of casualties respectively."

Concerns for children as vaccinations begin

While Queensland Premier Anastacia Palaszczuk has delayed the beginning of the school year in response to rapid increases in COVID positive cases, Tasmania's Minister for Education has said the priority is to see Tasmanian kids at school.

"We are committed to giving every primary school age child the opportunity to have at least one dose of the vaccine before schools return from summer holidays in February," said Sarah Courtney MP on January 9.

"In an effort to get as many Tasmanian children vaccinated before the new school year, dedicated children's clinics will be kicking off tomorrow right across the State.

"I would like to encourage all parents and carers to book their children into one of the special COVID-19 vaccination clinics for 5 to 11 year olds, as we know that vaccination is the best defence against the symptoms of COVID-19.

"The clinics are set up to deliver the special children's dose of the Pfizer vaccine which is a third of the adult dose and is recommended by health authorities as the most effective and safe way to protect your children from COVID-19.

"It's pleasing to see that more than 40 per cent of children aged 5 to 11 have already booked in for a COVID-19 vaccination appointment at a state-run vaccination clinic.

"This figure does not include bookings with GPs, who are also set to play an important role in vaccinating children in this age group.

"The choice to vaccinate children in this cohort, while strongly recommended, is entirely voluntary and will not be mandated," said Ms Courtney.

"In addition, the Department of Education is working closely with Public Health as we plan for the return of students to school on February 9."

Tasmania's Education Minister said any changes to the plan for students to return to school on February 9 based on Public Health advice will be communicated clearly with schools, communities and stakeholder groups.

"The Department of Education is currently implementing a range of measures in schools including natural ventilation improvements, air purifiers, enhancing outdoor learning and additional cleaning arrangements to ensure the safety of students," said Ms Courtney MP.

"Tasmanians are encouraged to continue to use common sense: wear your mask indoors, practice good hygiene, get tested if unwell even with mild symptoms and use the Check in Tas App."

To see a full list of state-run community clinics and to make a booking visit: www.coronavirus.tas.gov.au/book or call the Public Health Hotline 1800 671 738.

Booster interval reduced

On December 24, Tasmania's Minister for Health, Jeremy Rockliff MP said the Tasmanian Government welcomed the reduction of booster dose intervals for Tasmanians aged 18 and over.

"I welcome the Australian Government's announcement that will see the interval between the second dose of the vaccine and booster shots forward," said Minister Rockliff. "From 4 January, Tasmanians aged 18 and over will now be eligible for a booster four months after their second dose, down from five months.

"The move follows new advice from the Australian Technical Advisory Group on Immunisations (ATAGI) that an earlier booster dose will strengthen protection against severe illness from COVID-19 and strengthen protection against transmission.

"This change will allow us to give Tasmanians extra early protection against COVID-19 and additional peace of mind as we learn to live with the virus.

"To date approximately 50,000 Tasmanians have already had their booster, 15,000 are booked in for a booster in State clinics, and 40,000 are eligible and not yet booked in for a booster," said Minister Rockliff.

"We want to continue to protect the oldest and most vulnerable members of the community by giving people with the greatest time since their second dose the opportunity to book their booster now.

"For this reason, Tasmanians who will become eligible under the new rules, having had their second dose of the vaccine four months before 4 January 2022, are asked to wait until the New Year to make a booking with their vaccine provider, allowing those older and more vulnerable people the chance to receive their booster."

Children played in the open air at Kingston Beach on Sunday, January 9. Tasmanian children are due to return to school, on February 9, meanwhile schooling has been delayed for Queensland students.

Cherry pickers needed

Cherry pickers are required in Huon Valley and Derwent Valley cherry orchards.

Reid Fruits Managing Director Tim Reid said "hundreds" of extra workers are required to pick cherries for the interstate and international export markets and people who have permanent jobs during the week can sign on and work weekends.

"We have an immediate need for 50 jobs in the Huonville packing house and up to 100 pickers in the Huon Valley orchards," Mr Reid said.

"We also need another 100 to 150 people in our Derwent Valley orchard.

"Picking jobs on these orchards will last for approximately three weeks, after which pickers will also have the opportunity to transfer from those two orchards to our late harvest orchard at Jericho in the Southern Midlands.

"Jobs at the late harvest orchard will continue until mid-February."

"You don't have to work flat out, just consistently," said Mr Reid.

"It's a great working environment, you are outside in the fresh air, the trees are not very high and the fruit is large and firm."

The orchards already have some 140 pickers through a Pacific Island program, mainly from Vanuatu, according to Mr Reid.

"We also have a great team of local pickers, including from Tasmania's migrant population, mainly from Bhutanese, Nepalese and African communities," said Mr Reid.

"The packing shed at Huonville is very popular with university students."

Interested people can apply at <https://linxemployment.com.au/2021-22-registration/> or phone 6330 2471.

Appealing home with views and fruit trees

This appealing property with views, built circa 1974, is ideally located in Blackmans Bay.

It has newly polished and waxed timber floors and three, carpeted bedrooms with built-in wardrobes. The kitchen has been planned for easy use with heaps of cupboards, pantry space and soft close drawers. The north/east facing living area is flooded with sun all year round.

Watch the Sydney to Hobart yachts arriving and the research vessels head to Antarctica.

The home is freshly painted inside and out and there are new custom-made venetians and roller blinds throughout. There is a heat pump/air conditioner in the main living area and a large new panel heater for the hall and bedrooms. Underfloor and ceiling insulation have been installed. There is an NBN cable to the house.

The gardens are fully fenced and separate back and front fences with gates to circulate the property. It is on a single level, no more than a doorstep to navigate from the car to the view. The garden was carefully developed by a horticulturalist for easy maintenance.

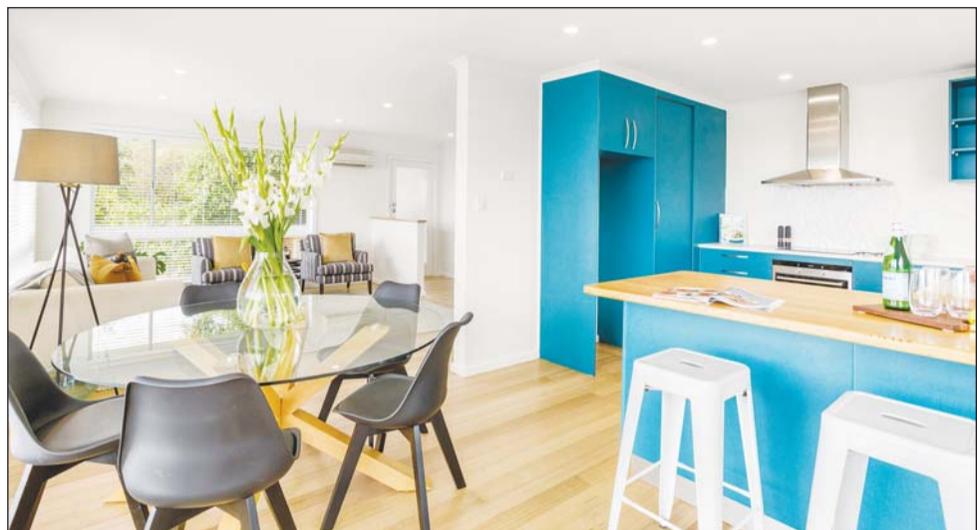

Irrigation is installed through the garden beds. There are twenty fruit trees including a citrus screen planted below the water view, established and delicious apricots, greengages and plum and newly established espaliered apple and pear varieties as well as olive trees. Herbs border flower beds and there's a local natives zone. A raised veggie bed planted with tomatoes is ready for garlic or winter greens to follow.

The garden planting is designed for privacy and a view from each window onto greenery. The deck is newly oiled and a 'deck arch' gives protection from sun and rain without reducing the view of the liquid amber tree or the river.

The recently paved courtyard features an olive tree pruned to give ever increasing shade as it grows. It is a five-minute walk to the quiet end of Blackmans Bay Beach.

Illawarra Primary School is a three-minute walk from the house and close by are beach cafés, Hill Street Grocer, dog exercise areas and the nature reserve. This is the very quiet end of Roslyn Avenue and there are two bus stops around the corner from the front door. What more could you want?

All the hard work has been done.

Kingston High celebrates 50

There is much to celebrate at Kingston High School during its 50th birthday year.

The school is opening a new learning facility for senior students embarking on student directed inquiries. Its achievement, responsibility and community (ARC) program extends the learning of students in Years 9 to 12 through facilitated individual inquiries, whilst maintaining academic rigor.

Students who were successful in applying for ARC in 2022 will have a new half-million-dollar learning environment.

This will include a multi-media and blended-learning facility, with flexible seating arrangements to allow teacher-directed, collaborative and individual learning to occur.

All students participating in the program will engage with their areas of interest through internships and individual expert mentors.

Whether the goal is to be a professional soccer player, go on to university or develop skills for a career in trades, ARC will respond, facilitated by an expert team of teachers.

A wonderful fiftieth birthday gift for Kingston High is a partnership with MONA, with funding provided through the school's 24 Carrot Garden.

Over the next four years, Kingston High will work with a garden architect and artisan teachers to design, construct and use an extensive kitchen-garden, with outdoor classroom space.

The school's principal Dr Libby Robinson is looking forward to seeing development of materials technology, home economics and construction skills via the project.

"Students from our Hands on Learning program and students studying foods will have an exceptional opportunity to participate in a transformative project," said Dr Robinson.

"We cannot wait to invite the community along to some exciting 24 Carrot Garden events once our garden is established."

Dr Robinson said the school has many achievements to celebrate.

"We celebrated so many stories of student success in 2021, such as the Frank MacDonald Memorial Prize, where two students, Noah Gladdish and Noah Karakyriakos were awarded the prestigious prize this year," noted Dr Robinson.

"We also congratulated one of our students on a prize in the Young Archies and the Grade 10 debating team for reaching the semi-finals.

"Another big development in 2022 is our partnership with the Jack Jumpers as a key provider of sports education for our 7 to 12 health, physical education and athlete development programs.

"We also welcome the Kingborough Lions United Football Club as partners in the quality assurance of our sports pathway," said Dr Robinson.

"With over 30 students enrolled in 2022 for Athlete Development and Outdoor Education in Years 11 and 12, we are also super excited about taking delivery of a school bus to better facilitate the learning opportunities of the amazing outdoor learning environment of southern Tasmania.

"We look forward to celebrating our birthday with the Kingborough community.

"We thank you for your partnerships with us in caring for our young people and ensuring safe and exciting learning opportunities."

Drama school in Kingston

O'Grady Drama's after-school acting classes are dynamic and vibrant and take place in Kingston each Tuesday afternoon during school terms.

Using a structured program aimed at developing social, emotional and communication skills, students have fun in a supportive team environment, building confidence and self-worth through drama activities and performance opportunities.

O'Grady Drama principals Katharine and Chris Hamley currently run weekly classes around Hobart for young people, aged 6 to 24 years of age.

With many years of experience working in local theatrical settings and teaching, Kath and Chris are passionate about providing creative learning experiences, where students can develop friendships, express their individuality and use drama as a life-long positive influence on self-confidence.

"It's so fulfilling to hear feedback from parents of how their once shy and anxious child is now brimming with confidence, speaking at school assemblies and expressing themselves confidently," said principal Katharine Hamley.

"We definitely see improvements in our students throughout each year, and even year after year in those students who continue with drama long-term," said principal, Chris Hamley.

"Some students who were once perpetually quiet and shy are now confidently taking lead roles in our performances. It's fantastic to see."

Performance skills such as improvisation, characterisation, speech, voice and stage work are embedded in the dynamic and fun classes, by trained and experienced teachers.

Students have opportunities to perform for family and friends throughout the year, including a fully staged in-theatre production.

Older students, aged 16 to 24, are part of the On Cue Performance Ensemble, an advanced acting and performance class bridging the gap between drama classes and college or community theatre productions.

The ensemble class works on producing full-length shows at the Peacock Theatre each year, giving students the incredible experience of performing to a very high standard, and presenting a short, public season of theatre.

New students are always welcome and enrolments are now being accepted for Term 1, with trial classes available.

Opportunities at Collegiate

As the 2022 school year approaches, students at St Michael's Collegiate School are looking forward to some exciting new learning opportunities.

"We have made significant advances in recent years in catering for individual student pathways and in 2022 our new 'I Futures Hub' will provide opportunities for students to work with specialist staff to create unique learning plans suited to their specific interests and skills," said Principal, Dr Adam Forsyth.

"Also, this year we are delivering an array of new vocational options for our students alongside their TCE/ATAR subjects.

Collegiate is also well prepared, with flexible plans ready in the event of COVID disruptions.

"Our learning and pastoral care during the past two years has been world-class," noted Dr Forsyth.

"In 2019 we were the first Australian school to become a member of the Global Online Academy (GOA).

"GOA offers our students the chance to learn online as part of a global community and gives them access to real-world topics they might not otherwise be able to access through the Australian Curriculum.

"Being a member school, we are part of global network of educators," Dr Forsyth said.

"Together with other connections, such as our affiliation with The Future Schools Alliance, has meant that throughout the pandemic we have been fortunate to learn valuable lessons from schools that were three-to-six-months ahead of us here in Tasmania.

"This was vital to help us understand the wellbeing and learning needs of students, families and staff and has ensured we're in the best possible state of readiness for 2022.

"We have a psychologist on staff in addition to our educational counsellor and chaplains.

"We recognise that it may be quite some time before we get to a new normal, so we will continue to be adaptable and work closely with our families to provide the best possible support to our students."

Hobart College tops the State

Over 11,000 students received a statement of results from the Office of Tasmanian Assessments, Standards and Certification in December, documenting their 2021 academic achievements.

From Vocational Education and Training (VET) Qualification certificates to Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) scores, Hobart College students received some of the highest achievements in the State.

In fact, seventeen students were named in the Top 100 ranked Tertiary Entrance scores, which was the largest representation in Tasmania from one school.

Nathan Smith was also named in the top three students for the southern region.

Principal Tracy Siedler said, "Hobart College is proud of all our students and what they have achieved, and I want to congratulate each of them for the way they have embraced their learning this year".

"The graduating Year 12 cohort for 2021 demonstrated resilience and positiveness over their two years of study during a global pandemic, epitomising the Department of Education values of aspiration, respect, courage and growth," said Ms Siedler.

"The outstanding results are testament to the resourcefulness, resilience and optimism of our students and staff in what has been another year of uncertainty."

Kingston High School alumnus Thomas Brown said the key to his success was staying on top of his studies.

"I made sure I got all my assignments in on time, studied and asked questions in class when I was unsure," noted Thomas.

The future is looking bright for these 17 Top 100 Hobart College students, with pathways that include medicine, marine biology and oceanography and engineering:

Max Bishop (The Friends School), Thomas Brown (Kingston High School), Leyna Doi (Taroona High School), Flynn Gorman (Southern Christian College), Roseanna Green (Taroona High School), Chloe Harrington (Taroona High School), Ben Hawkes (Taroona High School), Maddie Horton (Mount Carmel College), Jim Howard (Taroona High School Alumni), Tate Kingston (Kingston High School), Ben Poortenaar (Tarremah Steiner School), Kate Poynter (Taroona High School), Isaac Scott (Taroona High School), Nathan Smith (Taroona High School), Joel Verdouw (Calvin Christian School), Meika Zygmant (Kingston High School), and [Name Withheld] (Tarremah Steiner School).

Courage.

Mount Carmel College is all about educating girls.

At every level of learning, from Kindergarten to Year 10, a Mount Carmel girl will be challenged, motivated and supported.

Our learning environment creates opportunities for individual students to develop their unique gifts and to undertake endeavours which will enable them to participate fully in the life of the College and contribute to their community.

Our College community is small enough to enable each student to be known and valued as an individual, while being encouraged to explore a wide variety of educational opportunities. Close relationships develop between students, staff and parents, and reflect a unique atmosphere of collaboration, genuine care and support.

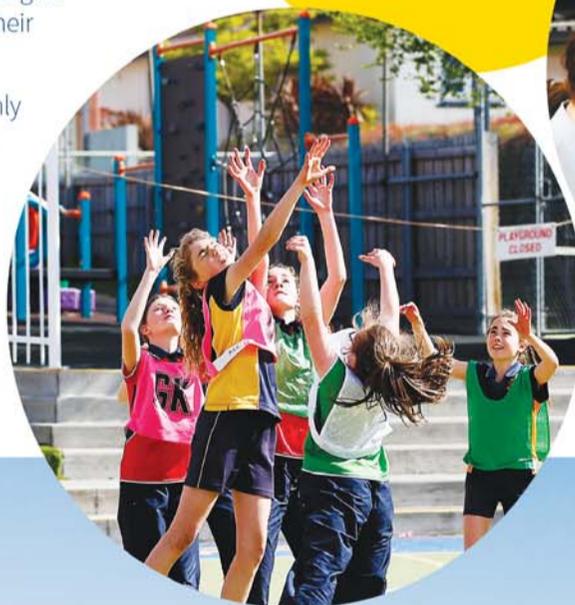

Nourished by this experience, each student is challenged to achieve her best, through diverse educative endeavours, both inside and outside the classroom. Immersing our students in a wide range of experiences throughout their schooling, opens new and different doors for each girl. We know that girls thrive when they are encouraged to embrace their individuality and empowered to forge their own career path.

Mount Carmel is a school enriched by the Catholic faith and is firmly grounded in the Sisters of Charity heritage and values of courage, compassion and justice. Our values create a strong community where students act with justice and embody a strong sense of inclusiveness, compassion and charitable service to others.

We encourage you to come and see how we can offer your daughter excellence in education.

Excellence at Illawarra Primary

Illawarra Primary School has a long tradition as an inclusive public school, working with families and supporting children to reach their social and academic potential.

An Illawarra Primary education begins with the Launching into Learning Program, open to all children from 0 to 4-years of age.

The program runs every Friday, providing an opportunity for children to learn through play and for parents to make social connections.

The kindergarten program has achieved a rating of 'excellent' when measured against the National Quality Standards.

Illawarra Primary's teaching philosophy and learning environment encourages children's natural curiosity and sense of wonder.

Nature-based play is supported, with Kinder having its own purpose-built playground with a mud kitchen and water-play area.

As children move through their early childhood and primary years, Illawarra's proximity to Blackmans Bay beach provides an ideal additional environment for learning, recreation and sport activities.

Illawarra also provide extension programs in areas such as robotics and mathematics, as well as a range of music programs, including band and choir.

The school is committed to using evidence-based approaches to develop literate and numerate students.

For students experiencing learning difficulty, effective intervention programs are in place.

Illawarra are also committed to developing a sense of care and compassion in students through community involvement.

Just one example of this is the Jumping Jacks skipping team that has raised awareness and funds for the Heart Foundation over the last 22 years.

Fahan School prep students Freya Harvey and Ava Wang, with kindergarten and Year 1 students during tinker-lab. (PS)

Nurturing children's curiosity

Fahan School celebrates the natural curiosity of children and provides a nurturing and stimulating environment to grow and develop during the vital first years of education.

Kindergarten to Year 2 students have been enjoying a new style of learning that was introduced to the school's Early Learning framework a few years ago.

The program is designed to extend children's learning beyond their classroom and maximize the use of Fahan's kindergarten to Year 12 facilities.

Vertical grouping, as it is known, has been enthusiastically embraced by all.

Students from kindergarten to Year 2 participate each week in a range of activities in a rigorous and stimulating environment.

Working together in small, mixed-age groups, students participate in a variety of learning experiences, including:

- a gardening group that collect and press flowers to use in their own handmade paper;
- a tinker-lab group which pull apart machines to discover how they work and looked at different building materials;
- a science and technology group that work with bee-bots, magnets, electrical circuits and built solar lights; and
- a cooking group that make delicious items such as sushi, bread, pizza and fruit salad with ice-cream.

"I looked forward to vertical groups every week and my favourite activities were making muffins in the Food Hub, especially the icing, as well as coding the bee-bots in our science activity," said Year 2 student Mahveen Mudasar.

"My group created dances for the robots and then programmed them into the bee-bots."

"I really liked showing the kindergarten girls how to do some of our group activities," said Mahveen Mudasar.

"I loved working in the tinker-lab group," said Year 2 student Mila Schramm.

"There were lots of machines with screws that we could take apart, look inside and try to put back together.

"My group took apart a sewing machine one week and a keyboard another week."

"The best part about working with groups from kinder, prep and Year 1 is that we make friends and then play together out in the playground," explained Year 2 student Mila Schramm.

Research has highlighted the benefits for both teachers and children when learning and teaching in a multi-age classroom.

Benefits include more holistic, child-responsive curriculum practices that consider the understandings, capabilities and dispositions that children need for their future.

Children and teachers have the opportunity to work together for more than one year, which enhances continuity of learning and formation of positive relationships with teachers and children, and between children.

"Children benefit from learning in a multi-age and multi-disciplinary classroom environment," said Acting Head of Junior School, Susan Wright.

"Mixed age-groups provide younger children with exposure to, and therefore an ability to model, behaviours of older children, often aspiring to their levels of capability.

"In return, older children rise to the expectations of the younger children and act as mentors, becoming responsible and having opportunities to lend and use their expertise.

"Strong and robust programs such as this focus on maximising learning outcomes for all individuals and remind us how important it is, as educators, to be adaptable and creative."

Fahan Early Learning teachers are strong advocates of this style of learning, recognising the benefits from their experience in, and commitment to, the Reggio Emilia approach and the importance of inquiry-based learning that is integral to the teaching approach at Fahan.

"Children have a strong sense of identity and through being involved in our vertical groups program they are able to feel connected with, and contribute to, their world and their learning," shares kindergarten teacher, Rebecca Wiggins.

"The girls are confident, becoming effective communicators with children they may not have engaged with on a regular basis.

"This fosters our Fahan philosophy of instilling in the girls the importance of family and community."

Fahan School kinder student Olympia Cangelosi baked muffins in a cooking group. Fahan students from kindergarten to Year 2 have been enjoying a new style of learning, known as vertical grouping. (PS)

SERVICE OF THE WEEK

Tassie Tree Climbers is owned and operated by Shaun Norris and his wife Katie. Shaun is a Huon Valley local and has spent most of his life climbing trees.

What started as a hobby eventually turned into a bigger venture, with Shaun organising recreational tree climbs with fellow enthusiasts and volunteering his rigging services for parties and events.

After deciding to move on from his former wildlife keeping career, Shaun began working full time as a tree climber for a large Tasmanian company.

After several years of full time tree climbing and after starting a family of his own, Shaun took the plunge and started his own business.

Depending on the size of the job, Shaun works alongside a crew of fellow tree climbing enthusiasts. They assist with ground-work, chipping, rigging, as well as climbing. All representatives of Tassie Tree Climbers are experienced, qualified, insured, and passionate about tree work!

Tassie tree climbers can attend your business or property to provide a free quote on jobs ranging from basic pruning through to large scale removals and generally complete jobs with a small ground crew to ensure safety, efficiency and professionalism

Waste can be removed from site if desired and are happy to assist with blocking felled trees for firewood. Chipping can also be arranged on site if required.

The Kingborough Knights played Lindisfarne Blues in the Cricket Tasmania Premier League, women's second grade competition at Clare Street Oval in New Town on Sunday, January 9. The game was a ladder leader versus cellar dweller match up. Knights chose to bat and made 115 runs, with Captain Alice Kelly top scorer achieving 27 off 44 balls. The Blues went into bat facing Leah Wierenga in the first over, only to lose a batter for a duck when caught by wicket-keeper Josie Rose, her first of four for the game. Yabba dabba-doo, let the games begin

Welcome to the first report from Kingborough Bowls and Community Club for the new year, as 2021 rolls over to 2022, courtesy of Pat Lee.

Saturday pennant competition

On December 18, leading into the Christmas/New Year break, round 10 of the Bowls Tasmania South Saturday pennant competition was played out.

Fierce competition took place when Kingborough's top-of-the-ladder Premier Division team hosted the second-placed Glenorchy Rodman team.

Both teams won on two rinks in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre.

Kingborough's overall success was virtually guaranteed on Ryan Guy's rink of Jeff Parsons, Jack Butler and Brent Forsyth with a convincing 31-7 win.

Meanwhile, Kingborough's other winning rink, comprising Will Coad with Callum Dinning, Shane Garth and Robert O'Neill, came home with a 28-23 success story.

Kingborough defeated Rodman overall, 85-shots-to-69.

The overall win put Kingborough 13 points ahead of Rodman on the competition ladder.

Division 1 had a (synthetic) field day when they travelled away to the synthetic fortress at Glenorchy City's Berriedale Club.

Kingborough won on all four rinks played, defeating their hosts overall 83-shots-to-58.

Michael Andersch with Laura Best, Ian Harris and Gavin Cleary accomplished a healthy 21-10 win.

Also winning well, Maddison Johnston's rink of Vince Grimes, Jim La Duke and Iain Dinning, with 21-shots-to-12.

Tony Clark with Conrad Westhead, Daniel Holland and Michael Steele won 18-17 and Mark Crawford with Ken Du Bois, Lynn Barlow and Tony Verrier won 23-19.

Division 3 made the trip across the Channel to the Bruny Island Bowls Club at Adventure Bay, where they were met with challenging challengers and given a real lesson in bowls by their host team.

Bruny Island won on all four rinks played, with a total of 101-shots against Kingborough's 61.

Division 4 played indoors in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre where they hosted the visiting Cygnet Bowls Club team.

Kingborough managed a four-shot overall win (90-86), with both teams winning on two rinks.

Gavin Fenton with Stephen Sanders, Frances Phillips and Dale Freeman pulled off a 32-20 win and Carmel Rainbird with Greta Murray, John Mac and Lorraine Walker engineered a 23-22 result.

Division 5 had a smooth excursion to New Norfolk Bowls Club, defeating their hosts on all three rinks played, for an overall 78-shots-to-50 win.

Peter Kirby with Gordon Hynes, Jim Beadle and Bill Reeve won 26-15.

Lee Connors with Fiona Hickey, Tony Chaffey and Lindsay Pearce won 29-20 and Paul Bricknell with Phillip Hayes, Michael Harris and Nicole Bricknell won 23-15.

Division 7 hosted the visiting Beltana team on grass at Margate where they found the visitors too strong on the day.

Beltana won on both rinks played for an overall 46-shots-to-29 win.

Wednesday mid-week competition

In the Wednesday mid-week competition on Wednesday, December 22, Kingborough's Division 1 team did not get the result they hoped for when they travelled away to the New Norfolk Bowls Club.

Their hosts overran them on all three rinks played with New Norfolk winning overall 72-shots-to-46.

Division 3 had the opposite result in their last game before the Christmas break when they hosted the Tarooma Bowls Club team on grass at Margate.

Kingborough defeated Tarooma on all three rinks played, attaining an overall 76-shots-to-48 win.

Tom Ferguson and his rink of Peter Oates, Jim Beadle and Michael Harris achieved an outstanding 31-13 result.

Bruce Moran with John Iles, Peter Wheeler and Michael Steele won 24-19 and Pat Lee with the Bruny Island rink of Geoff Eddington, Penaia Lese and John Kobylec won 21-16.

In a close game Division 4 defeated the Howrah team at Howrah by 4 shots, winning overall 57-shots-to-53.

Kingborough won two of the three rinks played.

Allen Sculthorpe with John Rosevear, Lindsay Pearce and Roger Duggan won 24-14 and George Rahmanovic with Phil Hayes, Tony Chaffey and Graeme Young won 21-14.

New year games begin

After the new year, activity again increased around the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club as members honed their skills for the recommencement of Bowls Tasmania South pennant competitions with first games being the mid-week Wednesday competition on January 12, then the Thursday women's competition on January 13 and the Saturday competition on January 15.

Many members also used the break to compete in the many club competitions which they had entered.
