No apology for COVID infected schools

The Kingborough Chronicle is aware that numerous schools in Kingborough have been affected by COVID-19 outbreaks since opening for the year, with many families impacted.

The full impact is unknown, as this information is not reported by the Tasmanian Government, however daily case numbers of COVID-19 across the State are likely to provide an indication, suggests Member for Clark, Cassy O'Connor MP.

"As of last Friday, daily case numbers were up by almost 50 per cent since the start of school," noted Ms O'Connor in a media release on March 1.

"Just today, the number of confirmed COVID cases has trended up yet again to 957, a jump of more than 200 reported cases in 24 hours."

The Tasmanian Government has defined a school outbreak as "five cases in one classroom".

As State Parliament resumed, the Tasmanian Greens asked the Premier to apologise to students, teachers and families.

"When the Premier made the decision to send unvaccinated, unmasked primary school children back in to classrooms during raging community transmission of COVID, he assured Tasmanian parents, students and teachers his government had a plan to 'return to school safely'."

"Peter Gutwein promised schools would provide a 'COVID safe learning environment'.

"Within two and a half weeks, eight in ten Tasmanian schools had reported COVID infections.

"Today, on the first opportunity in Parliament, we asked the Premier to apologise to Tasmanian parents, students and teachers for not keeping them safe from COVID.

"Peter Gutwein refused to acknowledge his part in the COVID spread in schools, instead attacking the Greens for raising concerns based on evidence. "Peter Gutwein's plan has not provided COVID safe learning environments for unvaccinated, unmasked primary school students.

"Primary schools are, in fact, where most of the infections and outbreaks have occurred, and subsequently been taken home to infect families.

"Children have been exposed to a deadly virus with known long term health consequences.

"He should apologise for his leading role in facilitating the spread of COVID in schools."

The Kingborough Chronicle has contacted the Government for comment and asked how many schools in Kingborough have had COVID cases since opening in 2022, and how many cases have been reported in each school.

The response to these questions shall be reported in our next edition.

Housing crisis prompts promises

As Tasmania's Premier used his State of the State 2022 address in Parliament to promise 10,000 new homes in the State over the next decade, independent federal Member for Clark Andrew Wilkie MP has called for "much more" to be "done now" to address the "urgent need" for homes.

The Premier's statement on Tuesday, March 1 did not go as far as using the word "crisis" to describe the ongoing lack of rental accommodation and affordable housing in Tasmania in recent years, however the Premier conceded rising property values had "impacted" the cost of renting a home.

"We know that the strong property market has made it difficult for some to access rentals and rising property values have further impacted the cost of renting a home," stated Premier Peter Gutwein.

Premier Gutwein said the recently announced statutory authority Housing Tasmania will have the capacity to borrow and invest, and "when established" it will have a balance sheet of "more than $2 billion" to increase the delivery of new social and affordable homes.

"Over the next decade, Housing Tasmania's Board will be tasked with building and acquiring, as well as partnering with the not-for-profit sector, to deliver an additional 6500 homes and units on top of our current target of 3500 homes by 2027 for a total of 10,000 new homes by 2032," Premier Gutwein said.

Community Grants Program opens

Community organisations are being encouraged to apply for funding available through Kingborough Council's 2022 Community Grants Program.

In a media release on Wednesday, March 2, Kingborough Mayor, Paula Wriedt said grants were a way for Council to work with community groups to enhance community wellbeing through innovative activities.

"Our Grants Program is an important source of funding for many of our community groups," Cr Wriedt said.

North West Bay Golf Club president Neil Sorensen said funding received through the Community Grants Program in 2021 enabled the club to introduce a junior golf program.

"The nation-wide MyGolf Program aims to give young people the chance to learn to play golf from a young age," Mr Sorensen said.

"This encourages young people to be involved in outdoor activities, provides them with the fundamental skills needed for the sport and hopefully helps to develop their love of golf."

"There are so many excellent projects funded every year," Cr Wriedt said.

"It is an absolute pleasure to be able to support our dedicated community groups."

"Last year we also provided funding to BirdLife Tasmania's brochure, which was a great resource to help people get out and enjoy our natural areas and connect with the biodiversity of Kingborough.

The Community Grants Program supports activities and initiatives such as community health and wellbeing, arts and culture, community development, heritage and history, sport and recreation, festivals and events, environmental projects and sustainable living initiatives.

Applications close at 5pm on Monday, May 2.

"As well as our Community Grants program Council also provides a Quick Response Grants program, which is designed to respond to unique opportunities that present at short notice," Cr Wriedt said.

For further details and to view the selection criteria, visit Kingborough Council's website.

Australian and Aboriginal flags were presented by Federal Senator Catryna Bilyk to St Aloysius Catholic College Principal Eamonn Pollard and student leaders at the school's Huntingfield campus recently. "Flying these flags in schools is a great way for students to celebrate our shared identity, and it is important that students also gain an appreciation for the important place of First Nations people in Australia's history," Senator Bilyk said. "I also hope that seeing these flags in schools will help spark students' curiosity about the meaning and history behind our national symbols." (PS)

Housing crisis continues on

In a message on Twitter on March 2, Independent federal Member for Clark Andrew Wilkie MP that while the Tasmanian Government's pledge of 10,000 new dwellings by 2032 is welcome, "there could be much more done now to address the urgent need for homes". "Airbnb needs to be limited to spare rooms...so homes stay available for owner-occupiers and long-term rentals," suggested Mr Wilkie MP.

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to the Premier and to the Minister for Housing, Michael Ferguson MP on March 4, requesting the latest figures on homelessness in Kingborough.

"Can the Premier and Minister Ferguson MP please provide the latest figures on homelessness in Kingborough, if available.

"Can the Premier and Minister Ferguson MP please tell the community: What is stopping developers from profiting from the taxpayer-funded Residential Land Rebate? "Could taxpayers' money potentially be channelled by developers into political donations?"

No response has yet been provided at time of print. Under the current Residential Land Rebate program, rebates of up to $10,000 per lot are available to developers to help cover the cost of power, water and sewerage infrastructure.

As part of the announcements on March 1, Premier Gutwein said the government would double the Residential Land Rebate program for developers from $15 million to $30 million.

"Already more than 820 lots state-wide have been approved and another 127 are being assessed, and to keep the supply of land flowing, we are extending our funding commitment, while all other criteria for the program will remain the same," said Premier Gutwein.

Other housing related commitments announced include.

Land tax thresholds reset

"We will again reset land tax thresholds, doubling the tax-free threshold to $100,000, meaning no land tax will now be paid on land valued under $100,000," said Premier Gutwein.

"We will also lift the upper tax threshold to $500,000 and lower the tax rate for land valued between $100,000 and $500,000 from 0.55 per cent to 0.45 per cent.

"The changes mean around 70,000 Tasmanians will save on average approximately $800 every year, up to a maximum saving of $1625, with close to 12,000 taxpayers no longer needing to pay any land tax at all."

Rezoning for residential development to be considered "on merit"

"One thing that will be a critical factor in increasing housing supply and improving affordability is the availability of land," stated Premier Gutwein.

"While recent estimates indicate there is already around 5000 hectares of vacant land zoned for residential use, which could yield up to 60,000 residential lots, much of it remains undeveloped.

"That's why we are continuing to incentivise landowners to activate this land.

"However, we recognise that there is more that we can do, this includes providing amendments that will allow the Tasmanian Planning Commission to consider more contemporary growth forecasts when rezoning land.

"Rezoning proposals for residential development will be able to be considered on their merits without needing to wait for the full review of our regional land-use strategies to be completed and without compromising sound planning processes."

"Government intervention" to facilitate medium-density infill housing

"Currently, there is a lack of centrally located medium-density infill housing occurring in our cities.

"I believe active Government intervention is required, to not only identify areas for infill development, but to make it happen.

"As a first step, through the Hobart City Deal, we will prioritise this focus area and work with our City Deal partners to provide innovative solutions, including legislating if required so that we can open up the corridor sooner and build more homes."

Home Share program extended

"We will be extending the thresholds and expanding the eligibility for our successful Home Share program, which will now be called the Housing Market Entry Program allowing more Tasmanians who meet our very reasonable income and assets tests access.

"We will also double the State's equity contribution to a maximum of $200,000 or 40 per cent of the purchase price for purchasers of new homes or units, and up to a maximum of $150,000 or 30 per cent of the purchase price for eligible established homes or units.

"We are also opening up access to eligible First Home Buyers, who would otherwise be unable to obtain finance, to enable them with our help to purchase existing homes rather than have to build a home."

First Home Owners Grant program extended

"We will extend the First Home Owners Grant of $30,000 for another 12 months from July 1.

"The First Home Owners Grant will also be available to those who use our Housing Market Entry Program to build a new home."

Private Rental Incentives Program scheme extended

"The Government will also double the Private Rental Incentives Program, which encourages property owners to make their homes available for affordable rent to low-income households, with low or no support needs.

"We will extend this Scheme from its current limit of 200 homes to 400 homes, creating another 200 affordable rental properties for the next two years."

Ancillary dwelling program extended

"An additional $2.5 million will be invested making 250 more places available on top of the initial allocation of 250 and the program will be extended until the end of next year," continued Premier Gutwein.

Thresholds on concessions on property transfer duty Stamp Duty

"We are today also announcing that all Stamp Duty and First Home-Owner grants and concessions will be increased to a $600,000 threshold, which including the previous changes last year, results in a 50 per cent increase keeping in line with rising property prices."

Alia Stamatova (8) of North West Bay Sea Scouts in Snug was presented with a Joey Scout Challenge Award, by Joeys Tasmania branch commissioner Ruth Margetts Henderson, at Coningham Beach on February 24. North West Bay Joey Scout Leader Danie Forinash (Rakali) said the award is the highest achievement in the Joeys section of Scouting, acknowledging Alia's proficiency in bushcraft, bushwalking and camping, completion of six special-interest projects and her leadership of a patrol of Joey Scouts on a 10-kilometre hike in Lime Bay. Ogilvie joins Cabinet Member for Clark, Madeline Ogilvie MP is the latest addition to Tasmania's Cabinet.

Premier of Tasmania, Peter Gutwein announced the ministerial appointment in a media statement on Monday, February 28.

Ms Ogilvie was elected to the House of Assembly as a Labor Party candidate in 2014, representing the electorate of Denison (later renamed Clark), and was defeated at the State election in 2018.

Ms Ogilvie re-entered Tasmania's Parliament as an independent in 2019, then joined the Liberal Party in 2021 and was re-elected in the seat of Clark.

"I'd like to congratulate Madeleine and welcome her to our Cabinet," stated Premier Gutwein.

"Madeleine will become the Minister for the following portfolios: small business; women; hospitality and events; disability services; and racing.

"She will be sworn in at Government House shortly. "The changes follow the resignation of Jane Howlett for personal and family reasons.

"Madeleine is an experienced Member of Parliament who was first elected in 2014.

"Madeleine has an extensive background in business and law, including having worked for UNESCO, Allen's law firm and as a general manager with Telstra.

"All other Ministerial portfolios will remain as they were allocated on February 17."

A Wills Day in Blackmans Bay

The Salvation Army is holding a Community Wills Day in Blackmans Bay on Tuesday, March 20.

Local solicitors will be donating their time to help participants prepare a simple Will.

The sessions are of 30-minute duration and a donation and booking fee applies.

The Salvation Army's public relations manager for Tasmania, Amelia Natoli said the organisation's Community Wills Days are a "cost-effective way to make sure that everyone is able to have a Will drafted that is both valid and up to date".

"We know that the cost and complexity of arranging to have a Will prepared can be really daunting for many members of our community," said Ms Natoli.

"Having a Will is one of the simplest ways to ensure the people who matter to you are taken care of.

"Community Wills Days provide members of our community with the opportunity to have a Will professionally prepared by an independent local solicitor, in return for a $70 donation ($120 for a couple) to the work of the Salvos."

The Community Wills Day will be held in Blackmans Bay on Tuesday, March 15 at The Salvation Army, 3 Opal Drive, Blackmans Bay.

Bookings are required.

To book, call 1800 337 082 or visit salvationarmy.org.au/willsday

Kingston High's 2022 athletics carnival

The Kingston High School community held their athletics carnival on February 24 and 25.

Twin sisters Hannah and Ruby Eddleston, members of the school's creative writing unit, interviewed staff and students during the event and prepared the following report for the Kingborough Chronicle.

The Kingston High School (KHS) athletics carnival went off with a bang last week.

Students had the opportunity to spend two days at the Queen's Domain in Hobart, participating in a range of track, field and novelty events.

Year 9 student Austin Dickenson commented on the heightened sense of school community brought about by the carnival, saying, "it's really cheerful; everyone's happy, having fun, and trying their best."

When asked what they thought of the KHS athletics carnival, Year 7 students said that the location, equipment, and wide range of events made the carnival feel professional and exciting.

Students across the whole school felt that the atmosphere was supportive, relaxed and fun.

The environment allowed students to enter events without feeling pressure to perform.

Both staff and peers were encouraging, making it clear they valued students wanting to do their best and have some fun.

Students were unanimous in saying that the staff relay was the best event.

"It's funny to watch your favourite teachers running," students said.

"It's surprising and unexpected."

Claire Taylor, a new staff member to KHS this year, said, "there's a really wonderful atmosphere at the Kingston High School athletics carnival, a great sense of community and teamwork."

At the carnival, teachers have the opportunity to see students excel outside of the classroom.

Staff member Alex Edwards said, "the athletics carnival allows students to succeed in different ways, and encourages them to try new things, which hopefully translates into a classroom setting."

Year 10 student Elliot Ogilvie made incredible achievements at his first KHS athletics carnival.

Elliot took out first place in the Year 10 boys' high jump, reaching 1.79 metres after 19 jumps, coming unbelievably close to breaking the 1987 record of 1.82m.

When asked about the achievement, Elliot said, "it feels pretty good, considering that it's my first time here at the Domain."

Elliot also said he felt a lot of support from his peers.

All Year 10 students gave up time on their events to watch and cheer for Elliot.

He came out of the athletics carnival as the Year 10 boys' track and field champion.

Year 7 student Kayla McPherson made Kingston High history, with a record-breaking triple jump.

Kayla, who has only been training in athletics for one-and-a-half years, broke a 15-year standing record of 9.51m, jumping an incredible 9.65m.

Kayla went on to become the Year 7 Girls' Field Champion.

A massive congratulations to Elliot and Kayla from the KHS community.

This exciting event could not happen without the commitment of the KHS staff who volunteer their time to prepare on both days of the carnival.

Staff members from all learning areas do their bit to make the athletics carnival successful.

Students enjoy seeing their teachers take on different roles, such as music teachers announcing events, and cooking teachers firing the starting pistol.

The student body greatly appreciates all of these invaluable contributions and look forward to future sporting carnivals.

Literally conversing with warmth and friendship

The Kingborough Chronicle met with Kingston Library's English Conversation Group members for a chat on Thursday, March 3.

The friendly, group atmosphere was as warm as the sunshine.

The library's literacy coordinator Sandy von Allmen said participants from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds are encouraged to practice speaking English, to feel part of the community and gain confidence.

Participants have included both long-time residents and new arrivals, and have come from Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Korea, Egypt, Iran, Japan, China and Thailand.

Kingston volunteers Margot and Frances have tutored English Conversation Group members since 2021.

Margot previously taught English in Romania and said she volunteered because she "missed being around people from a different background".

"It's so lovely to get different perspectives," commented Margot.

"We have blind spots because we have grown up in our culture."

Frances said she took on the role as a tutor because she wanted to "give something back".

Taroona resident and group member Yuko has lived in Tasmania for six years, originating from Japan.

"My husband and I speak Japanese at home, so coming here helps," commented Yuko Kingston resident and group member Fahimeh has lived in Tasmania for 10 years, originating from Iran.

Fahimeh said she appreciates the tutors and is a volunteer herself at Kingston Neighbourhood House.

"I really respect them for giving their time," Fahimeh commented.

"We learn about Australian culture."

The group celebrated the end of 2021 with everyone bringing food from their various cultures.

"There's lots of giving from the students as well, said Sandy von Allmen.

"It's so satisfying."

Sandy will deliver a talk to the group on March 24 about the 1967 bushfires and how it impacted Tasmania, particularly the Channel area.

"This month we have some special events to introduce the group members to some historical aspects of the Kingston area and hear firsthand from some people impacted by our history," said Sandy.

"We would love to welcome new members to our group, to join in the fun."

Kris Schaffer will be a special guest speaker on March 17, focussing on indigenous culture, with native plants, shells and stone implements on hand to discuss their cultural significance.

A free excursion is planned for the end of the month, travelling by bus to the Snug Bushfire Memorial, the StoryWalk and Aboriginal Reconciliation Garden at Dru Point Bicentennial Park and the Channel Museum.

The English conversation group meets every Thursday, except during the school holidays, from 10.30am to 11.30am.

Allens Rivulet bus shelter

The Allens Rivulet Bus Shelter, constructed by the Rotary Club of Kingston, was officially opened on Sunday, February 27, by Mayor, Paula Wriedt.

Mike Percy from the Rotary Club of Kingston said around 35 people attended the opening, with the event held onsite and then moving across the road to "a local's house for afternoon tea".

"During the day about 35 attended although it was such a bad day people come and went," noted Mike Percy.

"It proved how valuable the bus shelter will be if there is similar weather when kids are waiting for their school buses."

Rotary President elect, Peter Turner, welcomed Mayor Wriedt and members of the Allens Rivulet community.

"The previous bus shelter, which stood on the site for 23 years until being damaged by a vehicle, was built free of charge by internationally renowned local artist and sculptor Marcus Tatton, for the school children in the local area, to provide cover on wet and windy days whilst waiting for their bus," noted Mr Percy.

"Rotary club members, with the support from local residents Rick Ware and Neil Page, constructed the concrete pad and steel bus shelter, over a couple of weekends.

"The cost of the bus shelter was substantially reduced by donations of materials and labour from local companies; PDA Surveyors, Hazell Brothers, Totalfab Engineering Services, Neil Page Civil Contracting, Bennett Roofing and Hutchinson Builders.

"The Rotary Club of Kingston contributed to the cost of the shelter from their fundraising activities such as their annual Mega Market."

The Mega Market is to be held again at Dru Point, on Sunday, March 20, with site bookings accepted online or by calling 0408 416 375.

Water-based activities once played a prominent role in the Woodbridge community. Festival goers grabbed the opportunity for a tug o' war, as part of the Woodbridge Water Fest at Silverwater Park on the weekend of February 20. (PS)

Woodbridge Water Fest

The Woodbridge Water Fest took place in ideal weather at Silverwater Park on the weekend of February 20.

Locals were encouraged to turn out in nautical dress for the occasion.

The latest event on the Woodbridge Life 2022 anniversary-year calendar was organised by Ann Dechaineaux and the Woodbridge Community Association Committee.

Woodbridge Life 2022 committee chairman Graham Rae said the event began with a welcome to Country, given by Graeme Seabourne, and a blessing by Anglican Minister Dr Leslie Borowitska.

"On offer were a range of regatta-inspired activities and entertainment designed to pay homage to the continuity of the water-based activities that once played a prominent role in local life," reported Graham Rae.

"Long-time Channel resident and fisherman Morrie Wolf gave the opening address.

"Wandering minstrels Ned Trewartha and Brian the Flute provided a musical backdrop.

"They were supported by a performance of sea shanties from Marco and Fabian Lo Shiovo.

"The square rigger S V Rhona H was on hand to take passengers out on a short scenic cruise, while skiffs and pacers were available for visitors wishing to experience sailing first hand.

"Children availed themselves of the ever-popular Social Circus, with more strenuous activities including tug o' war competitions for both children and adults.

"David Wanless and his Dance Folk Tasmania group added to the nautical atmosphere with demonstrations of the "sailor's hornpipe" and the like.

"Conscious that annual regattas had not been held since the early 60's, Ann was delighted by the response noting, "it lived up to its former reputation as an ideal site for an aquatic carnival, an appraisal bestowed by the Hobart Mercury, and we were able to recreate this fun environment again today."

Sunflower art fundraiser

The annual, Sunflower Art Exhibition is being held at St John's Church in Franklin, for the second time.

A range of local artistic talent will be on show from March 18 to 27, between 11am and 3pm.

If last year is anything to go by, there promises to be an array of sunflower interpretations to delight.

St John's Church provides an ideal backdrop for an art exhibition, with walls, pews and tables used to display the works.

It's an opportunity to support local artists, and perhaps purchase a cheery sunflower painting to brighten up a room.

A gold coin donation entry is appreciated as the event is a fundraiser to help repair the St John's historic cemetery, which has many headstones in need of repair.

The Sunflower Art Exhibition opening will take place at 4pm on Friday, March 18.

For further details, contact Naomie on 0438 663525. Sorry, no room for more art entries.

Heidi Modrovich – Principal Audiologist & CEO

"My entrepreneurial journey started in my late 20s. One challenge I faced was to ignore other people's judgements and just get on with it", says Heidi – co-owner of Ability Hearing and Balance.

"As women, we sometimes have to be three times better at something to be given a shot. And then, there is backlash at being too ambitious... too driven... too focused... There is a lot of societal expectations on what is acceptable. At the end of the day, if you know what you want, you just go for it, and you don't mind what people say. At least, that is what I tell my daughters!"

Heidi is an experienced Audiologist of 20 years. She was a utas W.O. McCarthy Award recipient for being the highest achieving MBA graduate, and was shortlisted for the Telstra Business Women's Awards in 2015. Heidi also consults as a Strategic Business Coach for small to medium sized businesses.

Lauren Pringle - The Beaute Spot

Lauren Pringle has been a young local leader in the beauty industry for over 14 years.

Lauren purchased the Beaute Spot Advanced Aesthetics in January 2021, and within four months was given the unexpected opportunity of expanding the business and doubling the space.

With great effort from local businesses and tradespeople, Lauren opened her new space in August 2021 and has never looked back.

"We have 170 squares of pure bliss," said Lauren.

"Every time I walk into the salon I always smile.

"With our new treatments, online bookings, group bookings and parties, there is so much to offer.

"The greatest addition was our infrared sauna."

Lauren said none of this would have been possible without the continued support from the community and her loyal clients.

"Even the last few months since opening the Tasmanian borders, I'm so lucky to have such great loyal customers who feel safe in entering our salon," Lauren said.

"We have always prided ourselves on outstanding hygiene and keeping our clients safe.

"What I am most proud of is my team, we have over 20 years of experience among our team of Lisa, Rachael Hailey and Laura.

"I feel very honoured and proud of my team, always providing amazing work in servicing our clients and taking amazing care of them.

"They always have my back in what new exciting challenges the salon had to offer.

"Without my team I wouldn't be where I am today!"

Team of Superwomen - Aleena, Trudy, Jes and Kara

CLEANING & RESTORATION PROBLEM SOLVERS

6229 7505
39 Patriarch Drive, Kingston

Living up to their motto of cleaning and restoration problem-solvers means the Kingborough Carpet Care & Restoration office is always buzzing with activity.

Kara Miranda proudly leads a crew that is strongly, client focused. As business manager of a fast-growing, family-owned and operated enterprise, Kara says there is never a dull moment, with the problem-solving made possible due to a solid, supportive team of strong women, keeping all the wheels turning. "Trudy, Jes and Aleena's skills and qualities complement one another, and their work ethic is second-to-none," said Kara.

"There is nothing better than a customer walking in the door saying they can hear the laughter and fun before they opened the door. This is just another day for this awesome-foursome and the joy is reflected in their service. Things can get pretty crazy, particularly in heavy rain and severe weather events, where the team may process one-hundred jobs in only a couple of days.

They pull together and help each other, whilst supporting technicians and external crews, to assist clients at a difficult time when their homes and lives may have been turned upside-down." This team of superwomen are nothing short of spectacular. Here's to strong women. May we know them. May we be them. May we raise them!

MEG WEBB

Your Independent Member for Nelson

This International Women's Day, I'm supporting the push to break the bias.

Gender-based bias has been ingrained in our communities. Women face significant barriers to equitable and safe participation in the workplace, at home and in positions of leadership.

It's on all of us to speak up, every day, to help break the bias.

Bowlers on top of ladder

There were strong performances by Kingborough Bowls and Community Club teams on the greens last week.

Here's Pat Lee's report on encounters around southern region and on home turf.

Bowls Tasmania South pennant competition, Saturday, February 26

Kingborough triumphed in round 16 of the pennant competition, with five out of its six teams winning overall.

Premier Division played at home at the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre, defeating the visiting Brighton Bowls Club team on three out of four rinks, for an overall 82-66 result.

Kingborough remains on top of the competition ladder, with a one-point lead.

Jason Fowler, with Philip Payne, Graeme Walker and Nathan Dinning led the way, winning 27-13.

Will Coad, with Callum Dinning, Shane Garth and Robert O'Neill also had a good win (19-11) and Jarod Long, with Jason Commene, Craig Griggs and Darren Reeve got up 22-19.

Division 1 had a close encounter at Sorell Bowls Club when they were defeated by their hosts by just two shots (93-91).

Maddie Johnson, with Vince Grimes, Ian Cooke and Iain Dinning had a convincing win (39-12), as did Mark Crawford with Ken Du Bois, Lynn Barlow and Tony Verrier (33-19).

Division 3 clinched three of four rinks when they travelled away to Brighton Bowls Club, defeating their hosts overall, 86-shots-to-69.

Greg Riley's rink of Ann Hinkley, Geoff Price and Terry Thompson won 37-20.

Mike Westlake, with Mark Drake, Brock Bricknell and

Allen Sculthorpe won 23-17 and Anthony Sculthorpe, with John Iles, Vicki Bannister and Bruce Moran won 20-15.

Division 4 played on grass at home in Margate against the visiting Sorell Bowls Club team.
