Polly, owner of this recently completed home, said, "In a time where the building industry is in mayhem, Luke, Jo and Phil from Cygnet Building and Joinery were able to bring our dream home to life without a hitch. We had complete trust in the team who were well organised and worked to an extremely high quality." (PS)

Cygnet Building and Joinery, quality over quantity

Cygnet Building and Joinery, established in 1989, is a local family operated building and joinery business with extensive ties to the Huon and Channel regions.

32 years on the business continues to thrive in what has been difficult and sometimes trying circumstances for most building companies due to the impact of COVID over the past two years.

Cygnet Building and Joinery specialise in new homes, renovations, kitchen and bathroom makeovers.

With a great reputation for quality workmanship and client satisfaction, they have proven having loyal, hardworking employees, together with a long association with their subcontractors, will ensure your project runs smoothly and as stress free as possible.

They recently completed an exquisite home for clients at Nicholls Rivulet and their review says a lot about the business.

Polly said, "In a time where the building industry is in mayhem, Luke, Jo and Phil from Cygnet Building and Joinery were able to bring our dream home to life without a hitch.

"Our house was not a simple design and they did not bat an eyelid or try and overcharge us.

"Most people say building a house is one of the most stressful experiences you can have, this was not our experience at all.

"We had complete trust in the team who were well organised and worked to an extremely high quality.

"To make things better they are local to our beloved Huon Valley.

"Without these guys, I don't think we would be where we are today."

Luke said it was a privilege to build the home and be able to see the client's vision of their forever home come to life.

The company motto has always been 'quality over quantity' and this home is a fine example of that.

Pellet fires the sustainable and effective heating solution

How did you go during last winter, did you make the right choice in heating?

Traditionally in Tasmania, the more popular choices have been heat pumps, also known as reverse cycle air-conditioning, or the traditional wood heater.

In recent years, another player in the heating stakes has emerged, merging consistent and pleasant heat with an eco-friendly angle.

Pellet fires are becoming more popular by the year, and there are many reasons why.

Pellet fires utilise recycled timber waste sawdust as a fuel.

Pellets, when burned, create a consistent heat akin to a wood or gas heater retaining the pleasant feel that comes from combustion heating but retains the convenience of a push button, thermostat controlled heat pump.

They are seen as one of the more environmentally friendly approaches to providing constant heat during the cooler periods due to this fuel source, as sawdust waste traditionally ends up in landfill.

Their popularity has only increased in recent years as a result, along with their reliability during the colder months, and increasing competition in the industry.

Rob Douglas, Managing Director of Pellet Fires Tasmania, is well aware of the heightened interest in pellet fires in recent times.

“The most common reason for buying a pellet fire is for those who appreciate the aesthetics, but don’t want the additional work that comes with maintaining a fireplace.

On top of the emotional appeal of a pellet fire furnace, is the incredible efficiency, which directly translates into huge savings when compared to other forms of heating.

Pellet fuel is also much cheaper than traditional firewood, costing less to run than at the current market rate of $200 per tonne of firewood.

This is set to decrease even further in the future, with heightened interest in the pellet fire industry opening the marketplace up to new competitors.

New suppliers of pellet fuel have emerged, driving the price of the renewable source down by 20 per cent this year alone.

“The market is maturing”, said Rob on what the new suppliers of pellet fuel have done for the industry here in Tasmania.

“The added competition is creating a healthy product, and the industry really is poised to grow.”

When you next think about heating, consider Pellet Fires Tasmania before making your final choice.

Reduce risk with cleaner gutters

Vacuum gutter cleaning is a specialised process that will remove the corrosive sludge from your gutters, giving your gutters a longer lease on life.

Mud and sludge cause most of the corrosion which is why hand cleaning gutters is simply not enough sometimes to remove the bulky materials.

If you have gutter guard installed, make sure to clean underneath regularly to avoid the decomposed materials building up and rusting the gutter.

You could blow or hose out the gutters, but you run the risk of water, mud and sludge entering the roof cavity or running down the side of the house and windows, creating a huge mess.

Vacuum cleaning is a practical and ideal way to ensure that the job site is left clean and free of debris, Gutter-Vac's motto is clean, safe, easy.

Gutter-Vac Southern Tasmania carries out the gutter cleaning efficiently and effectively, using professional equipment to achieve results.

The team are all trained to work at heights. Every vehicle carries a temporary anchor system to work from the roof safely.

The team utilises a ground system to vacuum the gutters when the roof can't be safely accessed.

Safety is important.

The Gutter-Vac team know how to manoeuvre around the roof and on and off the ladders.

It is not an easy task at times and is best left to the professionals.

Ladder accidents are too common in Australia and are not worth the risk.

Gutter-Vac Southern Tasmania specialise in domestic and commercial gutter cleaning and also provide additional services such as solar panel cleaning, lichen treatments, cleaning of storm water pits and french drains, and bird proofing gutters.

As ex-Tasmanians living in Melbourne during the COVID-19 pandemic, we were selling our home remotely.

We were unable to return to Hobart to prepare our home for sale, so Kerri-Louise took it upon herself to take all the stress off our shoulders.

Not only did she co-ordinate renovations, cleaning, gardening and beautiful staging, she also added finishing touches to the home in a way that really helped it shine.

She then marketed our property beautifully, took countless parties through the home, had multiple offers and ultimately got us an offer that far exceeded our expectations.

We can't thank Kerri-Louise enough for all the hard work she put into selling our home. The sale has set our family up for a very bright future indeed.

From Steph and John

Kerri-Louise Hooper offers expert advice on preparing a property for sale. From what to do, to what not to do, where to place your energy in the preparation and what will have the most cost benefit. You will find Kerri-Louise coordinating painters and gardeners, styling bed linen and arranging flowers for photo shoots, going that 'extra mile'. (PS)

Kerri-Louise understands and appreciates family, with her own large family, including two sets of twins and two step-daughters, she is driven to assist and support others with their property dreams. (PS)

Cygnet's haberdashery shop

2SEW is Robin Cameron's haberdashery shop, which opened early October in Cygnet, located behind Near and Far at 30B Mary Street.

Robin has a vast knowledge of sewing in all mediums from dressmaking and bridal, to curtains, blinds and soft furnishings.

For many years, Robin successfully ran her window furnishings shop, Hangups, manufacturing curtains, blinds and soft furnishings for homes, hotels and commercial buildings.

Robin has a Certificate 4 in Interior Decoration and taught fabric knowledge, curtain making and soft furnishings at TAFE.

Robin explored the need for a sewing accessories outlet in the Huon Valley.

Having lived in Cygnet for over 40 years, Robin has found it frustrating not being able to buy a reel of thread without a trip to Hobart.

Now that the 'big shop' has moved out to Glenorchy, it's even harder to obtain all your sewing bits and bobs.

2SEW stocks the usual haberdashery items such as buttons, zips and threads, and some quilting items.

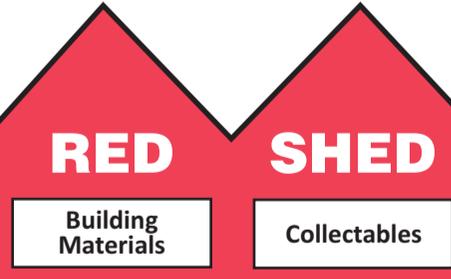

2SEW can order curtain accessories

such as tracks, heading tapes and linings, as well as Warwick curtain and upholstery fabrics.

"So, come on ladies and gents, dust off your sewing machines, grab some fabric and start 2SEW," said Robin.

Robin Cameron opened a haberdashery outlet in Cygnet last year. Pop in to 2SEW at 30B Mary Street, Cygnet to stock up on all your sewing requirements. (PS)

Innovative, energy saving honeycomb shades

As the colder months are approaching, Taylor & Stirling are offering a 10 per cent discount during Autumn, from their Norman range of honeycomb blinds.

Honeycomb shades are made with a unique, cellular structured fabric that traps air within pockets to create layers of insulation.

Honeycomb shades come in a number of different styles and efficiencies.

Ranging from single cell 10mm through to 20mm double cell being the most efficient.

All these styles offer differing energy savings all year round.

Honeycomb shades have a comfortable appearance with a low profile and functional design including different methods of control.

Choosing the right honeycomb shades to provide the ultimate insulation, solar heat control, interior daylight control and energy savings depends on your individual requirements.

Save up to 34.1 per cent* more energy with honeycomb shades.

Most of the dwelling's heating and cooling energy can be lost through its windows.

Solar heat passes through windows in summer and indoor heating escapes through the windows in winter.

Indoor and outdoor air circulation also passes through the windows.

Honeycomb shades can significantly protect your home against heat loss in winter and unwanted solar heating in the warmer summer months, creating more comfortable living conditions all year around.

Honeycomb shades will significantly reduce your annual heating and cooling energy costs and lessen your carbon footprint by lowering your home energy consumption.

For further information and to arrange a free measure and quote, please contact Taylor & Stirling on 6231 4120 or stop and see them at 11 Wilmot Road, Huonville.

*Individual results may vary, calculation based on simulated yearly energy savings.
