Intervention on firearms

ISSUE No. 633

The Tasmanian Government is now actively considering how to amend state laws to address community considerations in the issuing of firearms dealer's licences following serious, ongoing concerns raised publicly by the Margate Primary School community over the sale of firearms next door to the school.

In a response to questions sent to ministers by the Kingborough Chronicle, the Premier's office said advice on the legislative issue has been sought as a matter of priority.

"The Government is actively considering how we amend the legislation to address the issue of firearms dealer's licences and community considerations, and have asked for advice on this from the Department as a matter of priority," stated the Government Spokesperson on Thursday, June 2.

There was no immediate solution provided in relation to the current situation at Margate Primary School in particular, however.

The Kingborough Chronicle has not received specific answers to the following questions put to Education Minister Roger Jaensch MP and Police Minister Jacquie Petrusma MP.

"While the planning scheme is unable to distinguish between the sale of pasta and coffee and the sale of firearms, the Police Commissioner has the power to determine that the sale of firearms in this location is contrary to the public interest. Do you agree?

"How many other licences to sell guns have been issued for premises adjacent or near (within 200 metres) of schools in Kingborough?

"How many other licences to sell guns have been issued for premises adjacent or near (within 200 metres) of schools in Tasmania? "Why doesn't the State Government have an exclusion zone for the retail of guns around locations such as schools and childcare centres?" However, the Police Minister's office responded that "decisions regarding firearms licencing are the responsibility of the Commissioner of Police alone, based on legislation passed by the Parliament that aligns with the National Firearms Agreement".

"The Government does not intervene in a decision of the Commissioner," stated Minister Petrusma's office.

Vice Chair of Gun Control Australia, Roland Browne spoke with the Kingborough Chronicle on Thursday, June 2.

"More than ever before we are focussed on the issue of gun misuse in school settings after what we have seen in the United States," said Roland Browne.

"Siting a gun shop next to a primary school has the consequence of normalising gun ownership and use, and promotes a gun culture. "In 1996 Australia decided it doesn't want a gun culture.

"And in 2022 we don't want gun shops next to primary or secondary schools."

Kingborough Councillors have met with and heard from members of the school community.

In an email to the Kingborough Chronicle on May 19, Deputy Mayor, Cr Jo Westwood confirmed the school community and the Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Paula Wriedt have expressed their concerns at various levels of government.

"Dean Winter MP and myself have been contacted by concerned parents and members of the School Association regarding the recent decision of the Commissioner of Police," wrote Cr Westwood.

Industrial action over Council wages

Kingborough Council workers have voted to reject a proposed cut in real wages, with industrial action on the horizon.

In a media release on June 3, the Australian Services Union said it has begun the process of taking protected industrial action after workers rejected

The union said Kingborough Council members were offered a pay rise "of just 2.8 per cent, when the cost of living in Hobart has increased by 5.8 percent in the last 12 months".

An analysis of comparative wages show Kingborough workers' wages are already lower than nearby councils said the union.

"A labourer at Kingborough Council earns $2 less per hour than someone performing the same work for Huon Valley Council, $2.20 less per hour than someone at Brighton Council and more than $1 less than someone at Tasman Council," read the statement.

Australian Services Union Organiser Karen Tantari said workers at Kingborough need a pay rise that keeps up with the cost of living.

"The wage offer to staff for this year is just 2.8 per cent," noted Ms Tantari.

"That would be a real wage cut of 3 per cent or $1,650 for Kingborough's labourers and customer service staff.

Proposal rejected for the third time

"Employees at Kingborough Council have rejected council's previous proposals three times already, something that hasn't happened at a Tasmanian council in recent memory.

"Recently, Kingborough General Manager Gary Arnold outrageously suggested that workers could part-fund a pay increase by reducing their superannuation," noted Ms Tantari.

"If this becomes a formal proposal, I am certain it will be overwhelmingly rejected by Kingborough Council employees.

Higher staff turnover

"Kingborough Council is experiencing staff turnover that is much higher than at other councils with workers moving to neighbouring councils or the State Government where wages are higher and conditions are better.

Recent pay freeze

"Kingborough Council workers had a pay freeze forced on them in 2020-21 and need a wage increase in line with the cost of living.

"Members of the Australian Services Union want to progress negotiations on the enterprise agreement but will not accept a cut in real wages."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Peaceful protests are necessary for positive change

It has long been accepted that logging of native forests must be phased out in Tasmania, with an immediate transition into plantation-based businesses.

Yet successions of governments have ignored this fact, and continue to prop up the failing, outdated, climate-unfriendly business of Forestry Tasmania logging native forests.

Where is this necessary transition?

Why is nothing still in place?

It is no surprise that peaceful protesters continue to fight for the forests and for climate change action, and it is also no surprise that the government calls these protests unsafe: to hide the obvious fact that the government is doing exactly nothing to transition from native forest logging to a fully plantation-based estate. Peaceful protesters have not injured workers in the work place. They have not acted dangerously around machinery. De-escalation techniques are used to maintain a non-violent approach to protesting, and protesters are trained in non-violent direct action.

Protests will continue because the risks are too high if we continue to underestimate the effects of climate change.

So, I ask the Legislative Council of Tasmania to discard this obsolete Bill and do not turn it into law.

As Greens Member Cassy O'Connor said, the jails in Tasmania are just not big enough.

Council election looming

The Kingborough Chronicle carried an article on May 24 describing six, strategic Kingborough Council

Council propaganda will increase this year due to coming local government elections.

May I address Mayor Wriedt on two of Council's six strategic actions?.

Firstly, regarding ensuring Kingborough is a low rating (rates) council amongst the Greater Hobart Councils (strategic action 4)

The Greater Hobart council group consists of three councils: Kingborough; Glenorchy and Hobart.

Glenorchy and Hobart are the worst performing Councils in Tasmania.

Of the 29 councils, Kingborough would be one of the most expensive.

Secondly, regarding being open and transparent with the community (strategic action 6).

Kingborough Council meet twice each month (24 times each year) in a closed environment.

That is, no ratepayers allowed.

Is this open and transparent?

More ratepayers should engage and question our Councillors

Are Councillors acting in the interests of ratepayers?

Jireh House winter appeal

The annual winter appeal fundraiser for Jireh House women's shelter is on during the month of June.

Jireh House in southern Tasmania provides 24-hour crisis accommodation and support services to around 90 women and 120 children each year.

Typically, these people have become homeless due to situations of domestic violence and other traumatic life crises. Jireh House said the shelter is grateful for any donations and assistance received from the community as "the women and children often have very little in the way of personal belongings".

Anyone in the Kingborough community who would like to assist with the collection is invited to deliver donations to organiser Anna Vincent, by June 30.

Anna notes, due to Covid-19 only new items can be accepted and items needed include:

Household items, saucepans, crockery, cutlery and glassware, towels, sheets, pyjamas, toiletries, nappies, cleaning products, laundry items, wash-baskets and buckets. Anna said supermarket gift cards are also very supportive for those who are short of groceries.

Donations can be delivered to Anna Vincent, at the office of Nic Street MP Shop 96, Channel Court Shopping Centre, Kingston.

Commissioner unwilling to change decision

"The school community is very upset about this decision and has made representations to the Minister for Police and the Police commissioner, as has the Mayor. "The Police Commissioner is unwilling to change his decision, stating council allows this under the planning scheme. "The planning scheme is unable to distinguish between the sale of pasta and coffee and the sale of firearms so this is incorrect. "The commission, however, has the power to determine that the sale of firearms in this location is contrary to the public interest.

"I feel there should be an exclusion zone around locations such as schools and child care centres."

Cr Westwood confirmed Mayor Wriedt's previous advice that under current planning laws the Council has no power to prevent the activity.

"I can confirm that the planning scheme cannot be used to impose an exclusion zone in relation to the sale of firearms, as firearms sales are classified as 'general retail and hire'," confirmed Cr Jo Westwood, on May 26. In an April 21 letter addressed to the Minister for Police and to the Police Commissioner regarding the firearms dealer licence in Margate, Mayor Paula Wreidt

"The Tasmanian Planning Scheme does not allow us to give any special considerations to gun dealerships.

"A gun dealership is classified as general retail hire and is considered, in a planning sense, in the same way as a beauty salon, betting agency, department store, market, general shop, sex shop or video shop.

"As the site is already zoned for General Retail and Hire, there were no controls available to Council through the planning system to give consideration as to whether it is an appropriate site for a gun dealership.

Contrary to public interest

"It appears that currently the only way consideration can be given to location is under s. 36 of the Firearms Act 1996 namely "(the) Commissioner may refuse to grant an application for a licence if satisfied that to grant it would be contrary to the public interest.

"There do not appear to be any publicly available guidelines on how this 'public interest' is determined (by

"In that way, the legislation which allows for gun licensing is significantly different, and in our view deficient, when compared to liquor and gaming legislation.

"To that end, we reiterate there is a need to urgently review the legislative instruments to make sure they meet contemporary expectations with respect to the appropriate locations for firearms dealerships.

"Further, we maintain that reliance on the planning system for the Margate decision as the 'public interest' test was erroneous and needs reconsideration.

Acting Commissioner of Police, Donna Adams replied to Mayor Wriedt on May 13.

"The Commissioner outlined in his letter dated April 12, 2022, that he does not propose to rescind the approval to grant a firearms dealer licence with regard previously advised, these issues will be considered as part of any future review of the Firearms

In a letter on April 12, the Commissioner of Police, D.L. Hine state it was not his intention to rescind the approval. "I am advised that the Minister for Police, Fire and Emergency Management has indicated that this matter will be included in any future consultation on amendments to the Firearms Act 1996.

"It must be noted however that any change to allow the location of a firearms dealership to be considered in granting a licence could have unintended consequences for existing operators.

"It is not my intention to rescind the approval to grant a firearms dealer licence on this occasion.'

The Kingborough Chronicle has met with and heard from a number of parents of children at Margate Primary School and notes some of the comments received as follows:

"(The issue is causing) an ongoing feeling of anxiety and uneasiness for myself and other parents.

"We found out about the gun licence through the newspaper.'

"My initial response was disbelief that it could be allowed so close to a school."

"Every other parent I spoke to had the same reaction as well as huge concern."

"All it takes is an accident for something to happen." "The risk is substantially greater due to the proximity to such vulnerable children.

"If legislation has allowed this then it requires rewriting." "I am unhappy it was granted and that the community is not being heard about the concerns when challenged

"It is not safe being in such close proximity of young children who often walk through their carpark before and after school."

"I am also unhappy there was no community consultation prior to it being granted."

"Wider community that I have spoken to also cannot believe it has happened and question how it has been allowed to happen.

"It creates a general community feel of unrest."

KINGBOROUGH END OF LIFE EXPO

CONVERSATIONS AND PLANNING FOR THE BIG DECISIONS AND FINER DETAILS

Wednesday 15 June 10am-2pm

Kingborough Community Hub 7 Goshawk Way, Kingston

Stalls, guest speakers and one-on-one conversations with the people who will help you to plan and prepare in advance for your end of life wishes. Includes advice and information on wills, guardianships, financials, funerals, death doulas, grief and bereavement counselling and more.

End-of-Life Expo

An End-of-Life Expo will be held at the Kingborough Community Hub on Wednesday, June 15.

A program of free talks and workshops will be running throughout the day and into the evening.

There will be a range of stallholders, representing groups such as Palliative Care Tasmania, funeral services, financial advice and independent doulas.

Grief and bereavement specialists will be on hand.

Natural and environmentally sustainable caskets/ coffins shall be on show too.

While death is something we all face, the topic of death and dying is often taboo, and conversations about funerals, burials and how one wishes to die can be difficult and emotional

In a media release on 3 June, Mayor Paula Wriedt said Kingborough Council is pleased to have high calibre speakers on a variety of interesting and informative topics at the expo.

"Community members can learn how to start a conversation about death and dying; what to do if someone dies; how to care for their loved ones at home; how palliative care works, and build their understanding of guardianships, grief and bereavement," said Mayor Wriedt

There will also be information available on death doulas, natural burials, home funerals, voluntary assisted dying and how to manage your digital legacy.

The benefit of the expo is that is shines a light on the topics many prefer to keep hidden.

"By bringing together the talks and stalls at a public event, members of the community can come along with friends and family and start to have these very important raise awareness of services which can support community members with end-of-life decision-making;

Kingborough's End-of-Life Expo provides an opportunity to:

 have honest and open conversations on topics that some many find confronting or distressing; and prepare well for death, as an important act that can also be a gift for the loved ones we will leave behind. The End-of-Life Expo is happening from 10am until 2pm, at the Kingborough Community Hub, on Wednesday, June 15. For details on the speaker's program visit the Kingborough Council website at www.kingborough.tas. gov.au/community-event/end-of-life-expo/

Free flu vaccines

Flu vaccinations will be provided free of charge at GP clinics and pharmacies in Tasmania for a four-week period beginning this week.

In a media release on June 2, the Tasmanian Government said a claim process will be put in place to allow GPs and pharmacies to make claims as they deliver the doses

'The usual Medicare arrangements will apply for the GP consultation." stated the media release

"Make an appointment now to take advantage of this scheme and to ensure GPs and pharmacies are able to manage stock and available appointments.

"The Department of Health will continue to run community clinics, which will include areas where access to GPs and pharmacies is limited.

Kingborough "heartists" create kindness

Heartists" across Kingborough have been handmaking felt pocket hearts to send to people affected by tragedies including the Ukrainian war and the recent school shooting tragedy in Texas.

The Kingborough Chronicle visited a colourful group of Heartists for an afternoon of heart-making at the Adult Learning Centre in Kingston on Saturday, May 28.

1000 Hearts is a local kindness project, founded by Kingston woman Sarah De Jonge in 2016.

Sarah said the project has "grown to be a global community of people who want to show kindness and compassion through hand-making and sharing small, felt pocket hearts".

"These hearts are made with love and offered as a reminder of the goodness and care in the world,"

"They can be powerful talismans in times of distress, violence and grief.

"Hearts have been sent to people impacted by the 2016 Orlando nightclub shooting, the 2017 Manchester bombing and Grenfell Tower fire and more recently, to Ukrainian refugees escaping the war in their home coun-

RECONCILIATION WEEK 2022 - MAY 27 TO JUNE 3 - BE BRAVE. MAKE A CHANGE.

Formal recognition in Australia's Constitution

School students around Kingborough marked National Reconciliation Week 2022 participating in events and activities on the theme, Be Brave. Make a Change.

"We started our commemorations on National Sorry Day, Thursday, May 26 with a Reconciliation Assembly at the Middle Campus," reported St Aloysius Catholic College's Aboriginal Student Success Teacher (K-10), Anne-Marie McWatters.

"Grade 10 students opened the assembly with an Acknowledgement of Country.

"After Parish Priest Fr Mike Delaney guided us in prayer, Jesse Frost, a descendent of Fanny Cochrane Smith, delivered a moving speech about the stolen generations.

"Showing great pride in their heritage, Jack Batchelor and Archer McMeekin wore traditional palawa attire including ochre.

"Together with Emily Scanlon, the boys explained the significance of the 1967 Referendum. "College Principal Mr Eamonn Pollard spoke to students about the Uluru Statement from the Heart," continued Ms McWatters.

"Our Director of Teaching and Learning (K-12) Miss and discussed Vincent Namitjira's painting 'Stand Strong For Who You Are'

St Aloysius' Grade 10 student leaders attended a forum in Hobart on Friday, May 27 marking the anniversary of the historic 1967 Referendum.

"On the anniversary of the 1967 Referendum, Friday, May 27, eleven Grade 10 student leaders attended a lunchtime forum at Hobart's Function and Conference

"Listening to guest speakers including Aria Ritz lutruwita Youth Mob) and the Right Honourable Lord Mayor of Hobart Anna Reynolds, students learned some of the brave actions of First Nations People.

"The group were able to meet and chat with guest speakers before eating lunch together.'

Sea of Hands

St Aloysius junior campus students participated in a 'Sea of Hands' to mark National Reconciliation Week.

"Students walked up to the outdoor Aboriginal learning space and 'planted' a 'hand' to symbolise their respect for Aboriginal histories and cultures," said Anne-Marie McWatters.

"Kinder and Prep classes were presented with a copy of Thomas Mayor's book about the Uluru Statement called Finding Our Heart.

"Grade 1 to 4 classes received a copy of 'Say Yes': a story about friendship and fairness in the context of the 1967 Referendum.

"When all 500 hands had been planted, the installation was made complete when College Principal Mr Eamonn Pollard added his."

Margate Primary School also commemorated National Reconciliation Week and hosted a Sorry Day event on Thursday, May 26.

In a Referendum held in 1967, Australians overwhelmingly voted to change the Constitution so Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples would be counted as part of the population and the Commonwealth would be able to make laws for them. More than 90 per cent of Australians supported the Fast forward to 2022

After securing majority government and announcing his new ministry on Tuesday, May 31, Prime Minister Anthony Albanese included Patrick Dodson as special envoy for reconciliation and the implementation of the Uluru Statement From The Heart.

Linda Burney MP was announced as Minister for Indigenous Australians in the Anthony Albanese cabinet and Mark Dreyfus QC, MP was announced as Attorney-General and Cabinet Secretary.

In his first media release in the new role, Attorney-General, Mark Dreyfus QC, MP said he would be working closely with his colleague Indigenous Affairs Minister Linda Burney "to put a Voice to Parliament in the Constitution"

"The Uluru Statement from the Heart, delivered five years ago, remains a deeply generous offer for a partnership to pursue meaningful reconciliation as a nation, said the Attorney-General Mark Dreyfus QC, MP on June 1.

"This is an offer our nation cannot afford to let slip by. "As I said when first appointed Attorney-General in 2013 by Prime Minister Gillard, "Australia's legal system should provide a framework that allows us to protect and care for all Australians, including our elderly, our sick, our injured, our workers, our new arrivals, our indigenous people, our young and our outspoken writers, artists and journalists."

The historic, 2017 Uluru Statement From The Heart addressed to the Australian people invited the nation to create a better future via the proposal of key reforms.

Gather for Taroona's historic, book sale

The Lions Club Kingborough is holding the 53rd Taroona Book Sale during July.

In preparation, book donations are being gratefully accepted at the Taroona Shopping Centre on Tuesdays and Thursday, between 10am and 12.30pm.

The annual book sale is "an avenue for promoting the joy of reading" in addition to being a fundraiser, said the

The event originated in 1969 when the Ladies Guild of St Luke's Church, Taroona embarked on a fundraiser for the Clarendon Children's Home in Kingston. In 2004, the book sale was handed over to Taroona High School, as a fundraiser for the school.

Then, in 2013, the Lions Club of Sandy Bay took the reigns, to raise funds for community projects.

The Lions Club of Kingborough has run the Book Sale since 2015.

Lions Club member Helen Brookfield said the way books are priced for the sale is unique, as the books are placed against a yard stick and sold according to their height.

"Priced per centimetre there are plenty of bargains for buyers," noted Ms Brookfield.

"This fundraising effort would not be possible without permission from the owners of the Taroona Shopping Centre to use the old supermarket, for which we are very grateful."

The annual book sale will take place at Taroona Shopping Centre from Friday, July 8 to Sunday, July 10. For further details or to arrange book donations, call Alan on 0417 528 463 or Sue on 0409 442 593.

HEATING FEATURE Keep warm this winter —

Keep winter bills down and warmth up

Kingborough residents can maximise insulation and reduce energy bills this winter with innovative window fashions from HFT Interiors.

Research has shown as much as 30 per cent of total heat and energy from the home can be lost through uncovered windows.

As everyone looks to reduce spending at this uncertain time, keeping the heat locked in and bills down is important with the arrival of cooler months.

The innovative use of window furnishings, blinds and shutters can offer a sustainable solution and enhance the performance of windows in the home.

"It's easy to create the illusion of warmth through textiles, accessories and lighting, but it's important of course, to find cost-effective, sustainable ways of heating our homes," says Neale Whitaker, interior design expert and Luxaflex Window Fashions brand ambassador.

"Insulation is key to maintaining room temperatures and a few small changes can help make your home energy efficient and keep the bills down."

Not all window shades are insulating

Research will show installing honeycomb technology blinds, like the chic, sophisticated and revolutionary Luxaflex® Duette® Architella® can help reduce energy bills as heat is retained inside the home when they are closed, moderating the temperature to reduce the need for additional heating.

The unique design of the shade features a honeycomb-within-a-honeycomb cell construction, creating four fabric layers and three insulating pockets of air.

These distinct air pockets reduce the heat transfer through a window, reducing the average home's heating costs by up to 43 per cent in winter.

Consider the size of a blind's 'halo'

Luxaflex® Window Fashions launched its all-new Luxaflex® Duette® LightLock™ shades in 2020, combining the industry leading Duette shades with a patented LightLock™ side channel system, to deliver the next level in ultimate room darkening capabilities and further locking in temperatures.

Luxaflex® LightLock™ side channels overlap the front and back of the Duette Blockout Shades to achieve

With its innovative and patented light blocking design which blocks the 'halo', where exterior light enters the room through window covering gaps.

This maximises energy efficiency and gives control to the homeowner

Automate your home

As home automation is fast becoming a widely adopted technology across Australia, managing our homes energy, privacy and 'scenes' is more efficient

Artificial intelligence, such as Luxaflex® PowerView® Motorisation, is compatible with many smart home devices and maximises energy efficiency.

Pre-program blinds to operate on their own throughout the day, creating scenes in line with the sun's movements, such as raising to let the light in at dawn, or closing whilst you're at work to keep the heat locked in during winter.

"By scheduling your awnings to lower as you leave for work in the morning, you can actively help maintain a cool indoor temperature in your home," explains Neale. "Partnering such products as the Luxaflex® Duette® Architella® Shades with Powerview® Motorisation can see homeowners manage their costs, controlling their blinds to function depending on the time of day and the strength of the sun to encourage energy efficiency, keeping costs down and temperature regulated."

Keep warm with finishing touches

Finishing design touches can be added to your home to round off the aesthetic.

"Winter obviously means different things depending on where in Australia you live, but in general terms, cosying up a room for winter is the interior design equivalent of "Adding layers of warmth and colour through soft furnishings including rugs, cushions, throws and blankets will instantly add that sense of snug to a room," concludes Neale.

Packs of Dogs Pony Rides Killing Sheep

IT is bad enough for farmers to have had fires, and worry to keep stock going in the worst drought in memory without the added tragedy of having sheep killed by packs of stray dogs.

"We caught five dogs worying one sheep on the ground," Mr Hale said, "and shot two of them, but the rest escaped.

Mr Hale said that Mr R Hazell told him he had the same trouble of dogs worrying his sheep between Blackmans Bay and Margale.

Mr J. Tringrove also had told him that dogs were hunting sheep on his property. Several men went after the dogs, and did not read they had been patrolling the areas ever since.

He wished to alert farmers of the danger of the marauding dogs.

A keen school of thought favours the use of a section of the old Hobart pontoon bridge as a breakwater to enable the Bruny Ferry to operate between Dennes Pt. and Tinderbox.

Before the Kingborough commission this week was a copy of a letter that Mr clark M.H.A. had written to the Minister for Lands of the Minister for Lands sides of the Channel. Commission this week was a copy of a letter that Mr Clark M.H.A. had written to the Minister for Lands and Works suggesting us-es that could be made of the old Hobart pontoon bridge, or parts of it.

One suggestion was that part of the bridge could be used as a break water at the northern entrance to D'Entrecasteaux Channel to enable the Bruny Ferry to operate between Dennes Point and Tinderbox.

The acting chairman (Commissioner Hawker) said that some time ago a conference had been held with the Warden of Bruny (Mr Dillon), and both the Kingborough Commission and the Bruny Council were in favour of the ferry operating at northern end of the Channel. The Health Inspector (Mr R. P. Hildyard) reported at the meeting of the Kingborough Commission this week that the enterpoly he had visited

A home away from home for the fussiest of feline guests

Many years ago Lesley Gaze had a dream; a dream that at some time in the future she would be able to work with animals from home.

Over 15 years the dream became a reality. Lesley found herself in a position where she could build a Luxury Cat Hotel. Lesley prides herself on being 'the type of place that I would be happy to leave my own cats in if I were to ever go away on holidays, get sick or for some other reason could not care for them myself for a while'.

Lesley has spent over 20 years breeding the very beautiful Birman cat as a hobby. She can now expand to spending the whole day with both her breeding cats and her visiting guests at the Cosy Cats Luxury Cat Hotel.

'Where else could I go to work each morning and be greeted by so many happy faces so pleased to see me and offering head butts and cuddles?'

Every cat that stays at Cosy Cats is treated by Lesley as one of her own. 'I am very fussy about how my cats are cared for. I do my best to provide everything my guests and their owners expect with premium food, litter, scratching posts, a window and ledge for every cat to look out from and of course climate controlled rooms. Caring for cats is my passion not a job'.

Prices start from just $25 per night!

Members of the Kingborough Bowls and when they fronted up to Team Buttolph. Community Club were shocked and saddened by The Africans managed a four-shot win the tragic death of Michael O'Neill in Ukraine on Michael's mother Elizabeth Rickards and brother Robert (Treb) are members of the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club.

On Sunday, May 29 the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club held its annual general meeting which was well attended by members.

The meeting ran smoothly with no voting needed to decide committee members as there were no multiple nominations. Lorraine Walker enters her second year as Club President with Leonie Price as Women's Vice President and Craig Griggs as Men's Vice President.

At the meeting, long time member Tom Ferguson was awarded a Life Membership.

Afternoon Fours Competition

The afternoon Fours Competition on Tuesday, May 31 was held in the air-conditioned comfort of the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre, with Round 8 proving to be an enjoyable social afternoon for the 64 bowlers involved.

Teams are made up of summer players from Premier to Division 7, as well as a smattering of novice and bare foot bowlers.

The varying standards of play only adds to the interest on the day and to the experience of newer bowlers.

Team Hinkley, comprising Ann Hinkley, Jeff Parsons, Keith Hinkley and Paul McCann, proved too strong against the promising Team Willett, winning by 18-shots (27-9).

Hinkley recieved "team of the week" accolades.

In other results of play, Chaffey defeated Schooling (23-10), Baker/Thompson defeated Lee (19-14) Rosevear defeated Hickey (24-14), Newbold defeated Duggan (20-11), Harra's Harem defeated Hemmings (20-9), Pearce defeated Mus (22-13), Cawthorn defeate Palmer (22-13) and McIlroy/Neske and Dannock had byes.

The ladder, adjusted to account for byes, is changing each week

In Round 8, Hinkley are on top, with a six-shot advantage over Harra's Harem, and both teams on 21 points. The four teams next in line are on 18-points, separated by shots-up.

These teams, in order, are Newbold, Baker/Thompson, Duggan and Palmer.

Evening Fours Competition

In Round 6 of the Evening Fours Competition on Wednesday, June 1, the undefeated Beach Volley Ballers dominated the nights play, grounding The Mont by a massive 26-shots, defeating them 40-14.
