

Local sports clubs have been discussing the Kingborough Council's new policy to charge clubs an hourly fee for the use of sports grounds. Pictured Kaspar Deane and Brooke Lovell at Kingston Beach Cricket Ground on Friday, July 15.

Sporting common ground

Local cricket, soccer, football and little athletics clubs are planning to meet in Kettering on July 27 to consider Kingborough Council's new policy to charge clubs on an hourly basis for use of sporting grounds in the municipality.

A workshop has been organised among local sporting club members to find common ground and a workable solution to put to Council as an alternative.

The Kingborough Chronicle met with the workshop organiser, Kaspar Deane, and Huon Channel Cricket Association's Brooke Lovell last week.

The pair said a nominal seasonal fee on a sliding scale, based on the size of each club, would be more reasonable than an hourly rate.

There is concern that small clubs will not financially cope with the new fee imposition.

Some sports are also disadvantaged due to the time needed to play a match.

"The vast majority of clubs are united," said Kaspar.

"The issue for us is the fact it's an hourly rate.

"Some clubs will have to consider cutting back their time, which means less-active kids."

Kaspar and Brooke said feedback from clubs was there had been a lack of consultation and "we're all concerned" that numerous clubs will not be able to cope with the imposed hourly fee policy.

"We're coming together to find some middle ground.

"We're happy to work with Council."

"We've got clubs here that are just junior clubs.

"The cost is a big issue for young families.

"If you lose a few players, you lose a team.

"As clubs, we're volunteer run.

"We want to get kids and adults active.

"There's a social side too.

"Physical health and mental health have never been more important."

The pair said there were concerns that Council's proposed hourly fee policy would also be a disincentive for expansion plans for clubs, such as those encouraging women's teams.

Killer COVID unrestricted

Tasmania's COVID death toll since 2020 passed 100 last week, and by Sunday, July 17, the figure had climbed to 109.

Updates from the office of the Premier and Minister for Health Jeremy Rockliff have continued to tell a grim tale.

Current, known COVID cases in Tasmania on Sunday had surpassed 10,000.

Epidemiologist and Greens Member for Franklin, Dr Rosalie Woodruff MP again urged the Premier to reintroduce mask protections last week.

"Tasmania has also recorded 100 people in hospital who have COVID, as new subvariants spread rapidly in the community," noted Dr Woodruff MP in a statement on Tuesday, July 12.

"This is the dire situation the State finds itself in, and Premier Rockliff is responsible for continuing to refuse to implement protections to dampen the severity.

"Hospitalisations are the highest they have ever been in Tasmania, but still the Premier won't reintroduce mask protections.

"Since the borders reopened, the Liberals have always claimed Tasmanians shouldn't worry about rising case numbers, because it is hospitalisations and deaths that are the real metric of concern.

"The Premier promised to act when they did - well, now will the Government finally do something?"

Masks dropped by State Government

The rising statistics have not changed the State Government's hands-off approach to the spread of the virus.

In a statement on Friday, July 15, as Tasmania has recorded 1727 new cases, another life was lost, and the total number of active cases reached 10,229, the Premier continued to wash his Government's hands of regulatory responsibilities, expressing it was a "collective responsibility" to curb the spread of the virus.

"Public Health officials have previously explained that fluctuations in daily case numbers are a part of living with COVID and it remains our collective responsibility to look out for one another by continuing to follow COVID-safe behaviours," stated Premier Rockliff.

Dr Woodruff MP said it is "a despicable irony" the Tasmanian Government has "dropped the mandated mask wearing in facilities for the most vulnerable, as Tasmanians and healthcare workers are groaning under the weight of a massive COVID wave of infections".

"Two-fifths of the Tasmanian population has been infected.

"What advice is Premier Rockliff relying on to say masks should stay off, and people remain unprotected?"

"The Greens have warned the Government a major winter COVID wave was coming, based on research and reports from other countries, and we have asked question after question in Parliament."

Public Health advice unseen by Parliamentarians

"We have written to the Premier and Health Ministers, along with the Director of Public Health, and received no response," stated Dr Woodruff MP on Tuesday, July 12.

"We even debated a motion in Parliament calling for the Liberals to release the public health advice they have relied upon to drop COVID protections, which they used their numbers to vote down."

National bank is leaving town

The National Australia Bank (NAB) branch in Kingston is set to close on September 29.

This follows a local Bendigo Bank branch closure in 2021, with the premises remaining vacant to date.

On May 5, the NAB announced strong half-yearly results, with a statutory net profit of $3.55 billion and cash earnings of $3.48 billion, representing an increase in cash earnings of 4 per cent compared to the same period in 2021.

NAB chief executive Ross McEwan, stated in the Half Yearly ASX announcement, "The execution of our strategy is delivering good results for our customers, colleagues and shareholders".

"We are producing better and faster experiences and getting the basics right more consistently," he said.

"This has been achieved during a period of increased customer activity across all divisions of the bank, including the fastest growth in business lending since the Global Financial Crisis."

Under the heading Why are we here, the NAB Half Yearly Results Summary states, "To serve customers well and help our communities prosper".

Under another heading, titled How we work, the NAB states, "Excellence for customers".

"The decision by NAB stinks," wrote Dean Winter MP in an email to the Kingborough Chronicle last week in the relation to the closure.

"Another bank has left our area and I will say the same thing as I did last time.

"If we value local customer service, we should support banks that are actually here.

"My thoughts are with the fantastic NAB Kingston staff who have been supporting local people and businesses for many years."

"In May, NAB announced it said it generated $3.6
billion of statutory net profit after tax.

"Two months later it's closing our local branch."

The Kingborough Chronicle has requested comment from Federal Member for Franklin, Julie Collins MP, and shall report further.

Parliament in the dark as wave worsens

In a meeting with the Kingborough Chronicle on Wednesday, July 13, member of the crossbench and Member for Franklin, David O'Byrne MP said he also had not been provided a copy of the Public Health advice the Premier claims to be relying on.

Tasmania's critical protection trigger threshold unknown

Meanwhile, the State Government's threshold for re-instating mask projections is unknown.

"Premier Rockliff owes Tasmanians an explanation," said Dr Woodruff MP.

"If it's not hospitalisations or deaths, what is the threshold for implementing critical protections and COVID mitigations?"

"There is no humane reason for it to get worse."

Dr Woodruff, said the State's hospitals are under "huge strain from COVID cases, outbreaks and absenteeism".

"We have nurses, for example, working 12-hour shifts, and winter has only just begun."

Hospitals escalated as demand increases

On Wednesday, July 13, the Royal Hobart Hospital moved to Level 3 of its COVID-19 Management Escalation Plan.

The move followed recent Level 3 escalations at hospitals in the State's north.

Acting State Health Commander, Dale Webster said the move followed a recommendation of the Regional Health Emergency Management Team and is "based on the current level of COVID-positive inpatients, hospital demand and increasing level of staff absences impacting general operations".

"A reduced number of elective surgeries will be performed as appropriate, depending on hospital demand.

"The escalation will also potentially have an impact on outpatient services."

Premier asks for financial aid to continue

While the State Government has abandoned its previous regulatory measures aimed at preventing spread of virus particles, the Premier insisted last week that

Commonwealth COVID assistance be maintained.

"With COVID cases and hospitalisations continuing to increase across the country due to the more transmissible BA.4 and BA.5 subvariants, it is vital that both State and Federal Governments continue to offer financial support for testing and isolation," said Premier Rockliff on Thursday, July 14.

"The recent rise in cases is another demonstration that the pandemic is not over yet, and it remains vitaly important that people in the community have access to tests, stay home and get tested if they have symptoms, and isolate if they test positive.

"The Tasmanian Liberal Government continues to play our part, with Pandemic Isolation Assistance Grants still available to those impacted."

On Saturday, July 16 at the National Cabinet meeting with the Prime Minister and fellow State and Territory leaders, the Federal Government announcement to reinstate the Pandemic Leave Disaster Payment until September 30, 2022.

A Day at the Park, in March

A Day at the Park event at Kingston Park has been announced for Monday, March 13, 2023 (Eight Hour Day) by the president of the organising committee, Else Phillips last week.

Ms Phillips, said the event will be held in place of the A Day on the Beach event, and an activity-packed day of family fun is being planned.

“A Day on the Beach has been an iconic part of southern Tasmania’s social calendar since it was first held in 2007, but having been cancelled for two years running due to the COVID pandemic the committee decided it was time for a reset and a rethink,” Ms Phillips said.

“Fans of A Day on the Beach will be pleased to know that many of their favourite activities will continue, including live music, children’s entertainment and multicultural dance performances.

“We need to have discussions with our stakeholders about the future of some of the beach and water activities, but we are also looking forward to announcing some exciting new activities in the coming months as we plan our inaugural 7HOFM’s A Day at the Park.

“Kingborough Council’s development of the Kingston

Park playground and the Kingborough Community Hub provides a great venue for family fun and relaxation, with easy access to parking.

“And what better day than Eight Hours Day to celebrate recreation, fun and time with family?” Ms Phillips said.

The decision to rebadge the event has been communicated to A Day on the Beach’s stakeholders in the lead up to the official announcement.

Further details will be announced in the coming months on the event’s website at www.adayatthepark.au

Construction of the new Huon Highway underpass and roundabouts are moving very quickly with Kingborough Council sharing progress photos. Council notes the reopening of the Huon Highway is still on track for Monday, August 1. (PS)

Work on the upgrade of Kingston Park Stage 2 has been progressing well. Upgrades will provide more open space for larger activities, exercising, bike riding and gatherings. (PS)

Spring Farm Public open space

Kingborough Council is seeking public input on the development of the Public Open Space land in Spring Farm Estate.

The site is located on Spring Farm Road, adjacent to Whitewater Creek in Kingston.

Council’s website states “in the past three years, around 600 residential lots have been created in the Spring Farm and Whitewater Park Estate developments”.

“The land has a central stand of trees that will be retained as native bushland habitat and left undeveloped except for some additional native plants and grasses.

“The remaining open land will be developed into a play/recreation space for the community.

“Council has provided an allocation of $200,000 funding to develop this Public Open Space.

“This funding includes design work, consultation and installation of play equipment, pathways, park furniture etc.

“Council has also provided $269,000 in funding this year to develop a shared use path along Whitewater Creek in Spring Farm Estate to link up with the existing Whitewater Creek track.

Council is seeking feedback on elements the public would like to see included in the design for the open space, including “choices about play and exercise equipment, seating, shelter, walkways, information signs and anything else the community believes is a priority”.

Council notes the budget is finite, and construction costs will also guide the design outcome.

Council is seeking feedback via an online survey and input received will be provided to a landscape architect.

The draft plan will then be presented to the community.

To have your say, visit www.kingborough.tas.gov.au/kingborough/engagement-2/community-engagement-projects/spring-farm-estate-play-space/

Alternatively, you can provide feedback at kc@kingborough.tas.gov.au or call 6211 8200.

The survey will close at 5pm on August 1.

Calvin celebrates NAIDOC Week

Staff and students at Calvin Christian School braced the cold winter air on Wednesday morning, July 6, to create a stunning representation of the Aboriginal flag using hundreds of coloured hands.

Calvin Principal, Scott Ambrose said the Sea of Hands was the culmination of significant work by Calvin's Reconciliation Action Plan Committee.

"I'm so grateful for the tireless work of the team, which was formed last year and includes Janelle Smith, a palawa woman and a past student of Calvin.

"Their efforts have helped us recognise the significant contribution that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people have made to the Calvin community," he said.

The first Sea of Hands was held in 1997 in front of Parliament House in Canberra, but it is now a symbol of reconciliation and a way for communities all around Australia to engage with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories and issues.

"At Calvin, the Sea of Hands was a symbol of support for our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students, staff and community during NAIDOC Week.

"The hands were cut out by students over the past few weeks, and messages of support for reconciliation were written on many of the hands."

Students have also been participating in NAIDOC Week activities as part of their studies.

Historical NAIDOC Week posters were displayed along the windows of classrooms and students explored the historical context of each poster.

A number of students noted the rich symbolism present on many of the posters, prompting conversations about historical and cultural issues relevant to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders in Australia.

"I'm proud of the way our community has responded to this initiative," Mr Ambrose said.

"It's a deep reflection of the kind of transformational Christian learning community we seek to be, one that shows love for others, and respect for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture,".

Calvin students reflected on the significant contribution that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people have made to the community. The students cut out red, yellow and black hands, as symbols of reconciliation, inscribed with messages of support. Pictured Tessa Boonstra, Grace Tedd and Kate Suttor. (PS)

St James respects Melukerdee People

St James College in Cygnet celebrated NAIDOC Week with a variety of activities in the Kingborough and Huon Valley areas.

Students joined the South East Tasmanian Aboriginal Corporation for a gathering on Monday evening, July 4. Activities continued throughout the week and concluded with a special NAIDOC assembly.

“Many thanks to all involved in our NAIDOC celebration assembly on Friday as well as all the activities during the week,” said St James Principal, Joseph Sandric.

“We are especially grateful to Trish from Nita for sharing the swan dreaming story and leading the awesome Year 2 in the Tasmanian Emu dance.

“We continued our target competitions and several students showed their style in spear throwing to win some fabulous prizes.

“The school was very pleased to be able to share our celebration with so many parents and community members who came to join us and enjoy the program including Year 5 song, Year 3 presentations, Year 6 digital art and Year 8 cultural burning.

“A special thanks to all the staff that helped prepare their classes.

“Of course, all of this would not have been possible without the hard work of Lynnette Davies and Sue Connor,” Mr Sandric said.

“St James Catholic College acknowledges and pays respect to the Melukerdee People, the original caretakers of the land on which we work and learn.

KINGBOROUGH'S YOUNG REPORTERS

BY HANNAH EDDLESTON

The wrong that is drawing Americans from their rights

Article 3 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights states, "Everyone has the right to life, liberty, and security".

This has not been achieved for all people, especially not in the United States of America.

This is due to the country's gun control laws.

Currently, there is a strong debate on whether gun control laws should be tightened to ensure the safety of Americans, particularly students, and teachers.

From the perspective of a privileged white Australian sheltered from a society with common gun ownership, it is easy to wholeheartedly agree with the need for tougher gun control laws in America.

On May 24, America experienced its second-worst mass school shooting in it's history (ABC News, 2022), at Robb Elementary School in Uvalde, Texas.

Jazmin Cazares, sister to a victim of the shooting, said in an address to lawmakers, "There should be absolutely no reason this murderer could have access to a firearm".

Actor Matthew McConaughey shared this view, saying at the White House, "We want safe and secure schools, and we want gun laws that won't make it so easy for the bad guys to get these damn guns".

Opposing views argue that "there is little to no evidence showing that tightening laws on guns will prevent violent crimes and similar shootings".

In looking at different countries and their policies on guns in relation to statistics of mass shootings, there is proof to the contrary.

After the 1996 Port Arthur shooting in Tasmania, gun control laws in Australia were tightened, banning rapid-fire long guns.

In the 18 years prior to the Port Arthur Massacre, Australia recorded 13 mass shootings.

In the 26 years since then, there have been none.

This alone proves that tighter gun laws have a lasting and major impact on violent crimes.

There are, however, simpler yet still impactful paths that could be taken.

McConaughey suggested, "We need to restore our American values, and we need responsible gun ownership."

"We need background checks.

"We need to raise the minimum age to purchase an

AR-15 rifle to 21.

"We need a waiting period for these rifles.

"We need red flag laws and consequences for those who abuse them."

The Editorial board of the New York Times Opinion agrees that action must be taken, saying, "The Second Amendment trumps reasonable efforts to protect public safety."

The gun control laws in America mean that the right to life, liberty, and security is not available to all people.

This has to change.

As the New York Times Opinion Editorial Board wrote, "any progress on guns in progress worth making".

This is a human right that no one should have to fight for.

A bite of the apple

Two local artists, inspired by the landscape, culture and history of the Channel and Huon, are exhibiting artworks in July and August.

The art is to be displayed in separate sections of the Schoolhouse Gallery at the Rosny Farm Arts Centre,

It is the first solo exhibition for landscape artist Dr Sally James.

Titled Water and Sky, Sally's display shows a collection of reduction linocuts depicting the Tasmanian landscape.

One of the artworks, Last Forests, is an underwater depiction of what was previously an extensive kelp forest in the Actaeon Reef system at the southern entrance to the D'Entrecasteaux Channel.

The artwork shows the perspective looking up out of the water towards the Bruny Island lighthouse.

"I was lucky enough to go scuba diving near this kelp forest as a student and was saddened to find that less than five per cent of eastern Tasmania's kelp forests now remain," Dr James remarked.

"I wanted to represent a kelp forest in an artwork to raise awareness of this natural treasure so close to home and to support the work now being done on kelp forest restoration."

Other works feature the unique beauty of landscapes in Kingborough and surrounds, such as coastal rock pools near Boronia Beach in Kingston, and the complex eddies and currents of the North West Bay River near Margate.

"As well as visual beauty, I am often inspired by how this landscape supports and enriches the lives of those who live here, something that is so easily taken for granted."

"The artwork Sea Scout Regatta, Snug shows people developing deeper ties to local beauty spots by interacting with them and creating good memories."

A Bite of the Apple is a new series of work by artist Henrietta Manning

The series explores the history of the Tasmanian apple industry and the lives and aspirations of those working in it today.

Using a technique that transfers ink from printed material into gesso, Henrietta has combined historical text and imagery with objects painted from life.

With 40 different apples painted, Henrietta said her ambition to paint all varieties of apples grown in Tasmania has not quite been realised.

"My research has led me in so many fascinating directions, I previously had no idea of the number of apple varieties, or how we risk the loss of many of those heritage apples today," noted Henrietta.

With a heritage apple shed in the Huon as her studio the artist's interest is personal.

"Highlights include meeting wonderful people who remember the early days and being able to incorporate some of those stories into my work, painting inside the old sheds and going behind the scenes of contemporary orchardists' lives," remarked Henrietta.

"One example is a painting of a dress belonging to the Belle of the Ball from the last Apple Festival in 1964.

"Originating in 1952 these festivals were huge community events promoting Tasmanian apples around the world."

Displayed with the artworks will be original tools and memorabilia, including a 1964 Belle of the Ball dress, kindly loaned by Mrs Bronwen Wedd.

The exhibition will be open Wednesday to Sunday, between the hours of 11am and 5pm, from Friday, July 29, until Sunday, August 21.

Admission is free.

Where else in the world

Hope Hill Organic Farm presents an increasingly rare opportunity to secure your own piece of paradise.

Situated on an extraordinary 200 acres, the farm overlooks the magnificent Huon River.

The central part of the farm is gently undulating, with a north-easterly orientation enjoying long hours of sunshine and outstanding, everchanging river views.

A small, established orchard of 150 trees produces apples, pears and stone fruits.

The cleared pasture has been fenced into 13 paddocks, with a mix of 13 dams and waterholes.

The two largest dams produce gravity-fed water for irrigation and domestic use.

There are well-maintained gravel roads throughout the property and an excellent balance of pasture and bush.

The current owners have spent over twenty years tirelessly maintaining and developing the land to create a property that offers an opportunity to be entirely self-sufficient.

Completely free of any pesticides, and with unlimited water supply from the numerous dams and water holes, the fertile soil is suitable for extensive organic farming and has previously generated commercial crops of garlic.

Hope Hill is a unique, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to live a life surrounded by outstanding natural beauty, only 15-minutes from Geeveston or Dover, 30-minutes from Huonville and within commuting distance of Hobart CBD.

REPLACEMENT OF HOMES

SINCE the February fires, the Kingborough Commission has approved the replacement of 126 fire victims' homes at a total cost of $1,064,185.

These comprise: Margate and Snug, 80 ($667,346); Channel and Longley, 36 ($269,865); Kingston and Blackmans Bay, 7 ($89,000); Taroona 3 ($87,124).

Buildings for which permits were granted for the fortnight ended July 4 are valued at a total of $115,971. They include 16 dwellings, of which 12 are fire replacements.

Family Builds Home for Mum and Dad

A fine do-it-yourself effort is being made by the Verdouw family, of Kingston—nine of them—who are building a house in their spare time for their parents, Mr and Mrs C. Verdouw, who are expected back soon after a visit to Holland.

Mr and Mrs Verdouw sen. came from Holland 14 years ago, and made their home in James Av., Kingston, but it had to be a large house for they had 10 children. One has since died, and most of the family, including two daughters, have since married, and all are living at Kingston.

Four of the brothers are in the building game, and some years ago the company of Lanting and Verdouw, known as L. and V. Builders, was established, Mr Lanting having married Miss Verdouw.

Before Mr and Mrs Verdouw sen. left for Holland, they sold their house in James Ave., and now no longer require such a big place.

Hence the effort by 7 sons and two brothers in law to build a smaller place as a home for the parents when they return in October.

Mr G. J. Verdouw told a "News" representative that the brothers worked on the new house only in their own time on Saturday afternoons, and the building had been brought to the stage seen in the accompanying picture in less than eight days of work.

They could not have built the house except for that four of them are builders. The two youngest are carpenters, and work for the company. One is an insurance agent, and another in the metal trade.

Before starting on Saturdays, he said, the work had to be planned so that each would know beforehand what his duties would be.

While the parents are in Holland, the two youngest are boarding with elder brothers.

They will live in the new house with their parents when they return, until one of them marries next year.

M's. Parliament Visit

Mr Clark said after the visit that some property owners would get no assistance because the Government considered their properties uneconomic. But what were they to do? Was their land to revert to nature.

What had happened to the freedom of the individual to choose his own way of life, run his small farm, and work part time? Previously he had done this for years, and other seasonal industries depended on this type of experienced labour requiring no housing to be provided. "Some farmers have left," he said, "and we have heard of others who will leave unless they get an immediate grant. Many cannot afford to take the loans, and pay the high interest rates."

The members who visited the Channel have spent hours this week trying to iron out the problems presented to them, and they intend to make further visits to check on what has been done to adjust grievances.

Progress Assn. Grateful to Commission

THE Blackman's Bay Progress Association are very grateful for the progress made by the Kingborough Commission on the Beach Reserve.

The signs erected by the Commission to prohibit the tipping of rubbish on the beach front have also been gratefully welcomed.

The members of the Association are still concerned about the state which the maintenance of fire hydrants has reached in the Blackmans Bay area.

This should be of interest to all residents of Blackmans Bay. Anyone knowing of any fire hydrants out of order, please inform the Commission.

Secretary of the Association, Mr W. Abetz, would like to welcome anybody interested in the development of the Blackmans Bay Area to the Annual General Meeting of the Blackmans Bay Progress Association to be held on the 17th July at 8.00 p.m. in the Blackmans Bay Hall.

Needs at Kettering

Bad potholes in the Old Saddle Road at Kettering were a source of complaint to Liberal members of Parliament who toured the Channel area this week.

It was stated that a road grader had broken the end of a pipe drain that went under the road, and left a big hole in the surface.

Another suggestion was the urgent need for a sign on the pole leading to the Saddle Road, because the Channel Highway takes a sharp turn at this point, and many Mainland people in particular took the wrong turning, and had to be redirected by residents.

Kingborough Carpet Care has provided restoration services in Kingborough, Huon Valley, and greater Hobart for more than 20 years.

Its warehouse-based rug cleaning service, at 39 Patriarch Drive in Huntingfield, is second to none.

There's a drop-in service, with no contact if preferred, or a pick-up and delivery service.

If you can't leave home, Kingborough Carpet Care will come to you.

A multi-step, beating, cleaning, and grooming process removes grit, sand, and soil from your rug.

Clean and fresh, in no time.

Fabric dining chairs, couch cushions, and boat or caravan upholstery can all be cleaned, on or off-site, at your convenience.

After months of wet, muddy shoes tramping in and out of homes and offices, now is the time to restore doormats.

Throughout winter, Kingborough Carpet Care is offering a $5 doormat cleaning special.

The special offer applies to all inside door mats, measuring under one square metre, and there's a turnaround timeframe of only one-to-two business days.

The winter bowling battlefield heats up

Afternoon fours competition

Intense bowls battles took place across the green on Tuesday, July 12 in the warm comfort of the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre.

The final round of the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club's afternoon fours competition is only a few weeks away.

Of particular interest in Round 14 of the 17-round roster, was the game-of-changing-fortunes between Duggan and Dannock, with Dannock clinching victory by two.

The Harra's Harem versus Palmer clash was also a highlight, with the harem having the last word, winning on the last end by three.

Team of the Week honours have been bestowed on Baker/Thompson and Hinkley, after both teams ran away by 20-shots.

Congratulations to Baker/Thompson's Michael Steele, Terry Thompson, Gary Baker and skip, Maddie Johnson; and to Hinkley's Ann Hinkley, Jeff Parsons, Neville Riseley and skip, Paul McCann.

In results of play, Dannock defeat Duggan (17-15), Harra's Harem defeated Palmer (17-14), Baker/Thompson defeated Mus (29-9), Hinkley defeated McLlroy/Neske (25-5), Hemmings defeated Chaffey (29-9), Newbold defeated Cawthorn (22-10), Hickey defeated Schooling (19-12), Lee defeated Willett (24-12). Rosevear and Pearce had byes.

Team Hinkley remains on top of the competition ladder.

Harra's Harem dropped from second to third rung after the 20-shot win by (now second placed) Baker/Thompson.

Fourth, fifth and sixth spots remain unchanged, occupied by Newbold, Duggan and Cawthorn.

Evening fours competition

The top three teams have held their places on the ladder, while breaking away from the field, in the Wednesday evening fours competition.

Barrie's Bitches' number 3, Brent Forsyth measured for short. (PS Pat Lee)

In Round 12 on Wednesday, July 13, Better Performance cut through Geeveston Woodchoppers (24-10), to remain outright leaders in the competition on 33-points, with an outstanding plus 121-shots up.

The Beach Volley Ballers remain second on the ladder, on 30-points with 118-shots up, after rolling Four South Africans (18-14).

The Four South Africans have held on to fourth spot. Barrie's Bitches remain in third place, on 30-points with plus 102-shots up, after demolishing Barefoot Ball Busters with a whopping 38-8 win.

In other results, Left Overs massively over ran Dynamics (36-7), causing Dynamics to fall from fifth down to eighth place on the ladder.

Dynamics' Dale Freeman in an uphill battle against the Left Overs on Wednesday, July 13. (PS Pat Lee)

Cherry Pickers jumped up to fifth spot from seventh, after a 19-13 win against the Pee Bees.

The Mont also climbed, from eighth to seventh, after defeating His and Hers (24-13).

Meanwhile, Buttolph had a convincing win in the Second Shot challenge (19-9).
