Stop work action demands start talk action

Teachers, school staff, health workers, firefighters, cleaners, child safety officers and many more workers across Tasmania's public sector walked off the job on Wednesday, 9 November in their continuing campaign to secure improvements to important conditions along with a pay rise that helps workers cope with sky rocketing living costs.

Owing to the number of school staff participating in the action, all Tasmanian Government schools were temporarily closed from 12.15pm on the Wednesday, including those in the Kingborough area.

The Australian Education Union said that finals exams for years 11 and 12 students were not affected.

Major rallies were held in Hobart, Launceston, Devonport, and Burnie with smaller meetings on the East Coast, West Coast, Tasman Peninsula, King and Flinders Islands.

These were the biggest stop work actions across the public sector since 2018.

"Educators have no choice but to take action against the Rockliff Government's unacceptable neglect of public education," Australian Education Union (AEU) Tasmania President David Genford said.

"Educators are burning out and students are missing out every day because schools and colleges aren't being met with the required resources needed to meet student needs."

In a statement addressing the AEU's concerns, Premier Jeremy Rockliff who has been locked in negotiations with union representatives since his first state budget said, "Good faith negotiations mean listening and responding, and our government has done that at all levels, with three separate wage offers made to public sector unions since September. "The facts are, our offer provides a three-year agreement with increases to wages of 3.5 per cent in the first year, and 3 per cent each year for the next two years.

"It also addresses feedback from unions around attraction and retention, and improved employment conditions have also been offered to employees, in addition to salary increases and additional cost of living payments over three years."

Unions disagree, saying that they've asked nicely for months and in some cases, for years.

"Public sector workers care deeply about the work they do and the community they serve," Unions Tasmania Secretary Jessica Munday said.

"Strike action is a last resort.

"The breadth and depth of workers preparing to take action... should send a strong signal to the Premier that he needs to intervene and end this dispute."

The mumara patrula tour takes guests on a walk along the coastline of Trial Bay where they hear the historical stories of legendary Aboriginal Elders. (PS)

mumara patrula stories from the palawa people

A new Tasmanian Aboriginal tour mumara patrula "Wood for the Fire", was launched this month at Trial Bay by Kingborough Council in conjunction with Performing Lines Tasmania and creator Nunami Sculthorpe-Green.

Kingborough Deputy Mayor, Clare Glade-Wright said the tour was very moving and was brilliantly presented by creator Nunami Sculthorpe-Green.
"This is the first and only Aboriginal-authored tour available south of nipaluna/Hobart," Cr Glade-Wright said.
"The tour takes you on a gentle bush walk along the coastline of Trial Bay, while you hear the historical stories of legendary Aboriginal Elders.
"Although the stories shared are often about terrible times in our history, there is also much heart and beauty conveyed about the Aboriginal custodians of this land, their community and practices.
"I totally recommend this tour, although you will have to be quick as tickets are selling out fast.
"The tour is supported by a RANT grant which is focused on building capacity for Tasmanian communities, artists and organisations here in Tasmania."
Tour creator Nunami Sculthorpe-Green said mumara patrula was a new and exciting journey for her.
"I've enjoyed working with Performing Lines TAS and the Council to share these important stories of our people," Ms Sculthorpe-Green said.
"I applaud Kingborough Council for their initiative and action when it comes to truth telling and highlighting Tasmanian Aboriginal stories in the municipality.

"As the stories intertwine with the beautiful landscape, I feel they will present a truly unique and touching experience for locals and visitors alike."
Kingborough Mayor Cr Paula Wriedt also commended Nunami on winning Tourism Minister's Young Achiever Award on November 5, saying, "Nunami has developed a fantastic cultural tourism business which is providing great opportunities for community members and tourists to understand the long history of Tasmanian Aboriginal people.
"Council has been fortunate to be able to join together with Nunami to bring a new walking tour to Kingborough.
"We look forward to working with Nunami into the future."
Senior Producer at Performing Lines TAS, Annette Downs said Performing Lines TAS had produced Nunami's first tour in niplauna.
"We are delighted to have produced and co-commissioned this latest tour with the Kingborough Council," Ms Downs said.
"Nunami's historically accurate and beautifully crafted tours connect us with place, the palawa people and the truth of the past."
The tour is an easy 90-minute walk on a dirt track along Trial Bay overlooking lunawuni/Bruny Island.

New local Council

Dear Editor,
Kingborough has a new Council with four members elected for the first time. Congratulations to all and hope they will act to benefit ratepayers.
With soaring cost of living pressures their primary duty will be to lower rates, then attend to roads and rubbish, nothing more.
Kingborough is growing rapidly with new houses and other dwellings filling Council coffers. This extraordinary flood of money should aid in reducing everybody's rates.
We need rates to be lower than last year's.

Spring is in full swing, which means groups of brightly coloured Swift Parrots are once again gracing our forests for their breeding season.

For a chance to see and learn more about this endangered migratory parrot, Natural Resource Management (NRM) South, in partnership with Inala Nature Tours, are hosting a free public field trip on Bruny Island on November 26.

The aim of the event is to raise awareness about the plight of Swift Parrots and the importance of protecting critical habitat.

It is part of a series of community events that have been offered to school groups and the public over the last three years.

Swift Parrots breed only in Tasmania, migrating from the Australian mainland for spring and summer.

Their core breeding areas are in Tasmania's south-east, where they feed exclusively on the nectar of blue gums and black gums.

They also depend on nesting hollows found in large, old trees near to their feeding areas.

Through funding from the Australian Government's National Landcare Program, NRM South have been working with project partners to protect Swift Parrots.

NRM South is examining ways to increase nesting success, identify and protect key breeding habitat and raise community awareness.

Project activities to date include trialling solutions to reduce the impacts of their main predator, the introduced sugar glider, securing conservation covenants with private landholders to protect high value habitat, and annual gum blossom surveys to help predict where Swift Parrots may choose to nest.

The 1,500-acre Inala Private Conservation Reserve on South Bruny Island is well known for reliable sightings of Swift Parrots as it contains large areas of their preferred foraging and breeding habitat.

The property is also home to many other special species, including Forty-spotted Pardalotes, Eastern Quolls, Firetail Finches and Pink Robins.

The field day runs from 9am to 1pm and no previous bird watching experience is necessary.

Registration details can be found on the NRM South home page www.nrmsouth.org.au

Changes to fire danger safety ratings

The Tasmania Fire Service has implemented a new and nationally consistent Australian Fire Danger Rating System (AFDRS) designed to provide clear and accurate information about bushfire risk.

The AFDRS has four rating levels: Moderate, High, Extreme and Catastrophic, with simple actions for the community to take at each level:

Moderate (Green) – Plan and prepare;
High (Yellow) – Be ready to act;
Extreme (Orange) – Take action now to protect life and property; and Catastrophic (Red) – For your survival, leave bushfire risk areas.

This is the most significant change to the fire danger rating system in more than 50 years.

The AFDRS provides ratings that describe the potential level of danger should a bushfire start, based on forecast weather conditions, vegetation type and fuel.

This is a national system and consistent across Australia.

No matter where you are, the higher the fire danger, the more dangerous the conditions.

Adoption of the AFDRS was a recommendation from the Royal Commission into National Natural Disaster Arrangements Report.

To enable this initiative, the Tasmanian Government has invested nearly $1.4 million, which has been matched by the Australian Government.

The system will enable the community to make informed decisions to keep themselves prepared and safe before a bushfire starts.

"Using modern and consistent fire danger ratings, the AFDRS provides action-oriented messaging, designed to empower the community to make informed decisions to be prepared and safe," Tasmanian Fire Service Chief Officer Dermot Barry said.

"We are all aware of the devastating impact fires can have on communities.

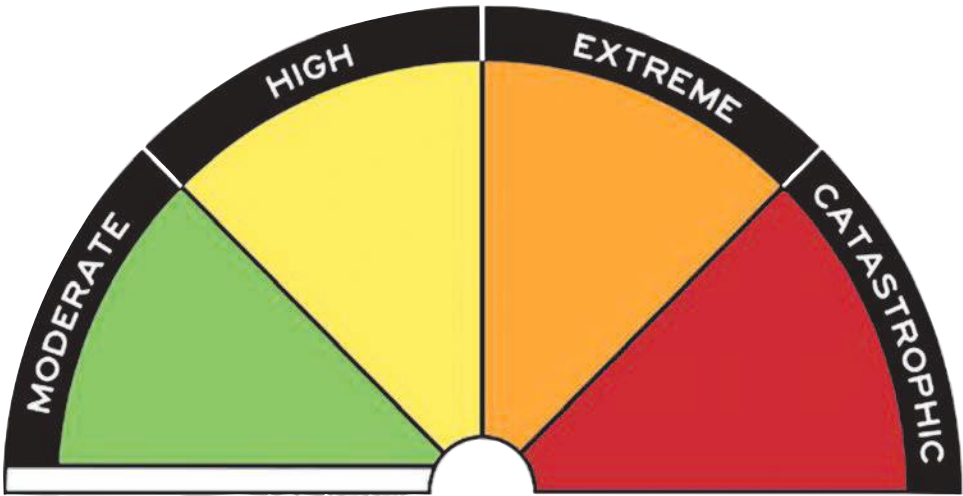

"The new AFDRS will be used to communicate the potential risks if a bushfire was to start.

"This allows easier decision-making for the community to keep safe on high fire danger days."

Fire Danger Ratings describe the potential level of danger a community could face should a bushfire start.

If there is a bushfire, the Australian Warning System (AWS) provides community advice and information.

Further details on the AFDRS can be found on the Tasmania Fire Service website at fire.tas.gov.au

Fish health and environmental protection put first

Cooke Aquaculture and the Tasmanian State Government responded to an article in the November 8 edition of the Kingborough Chronicle, concerning the sale of Tassal to multinational giant, Cooke Aquaculture.

In a statement from the Canadian seafood supplier Cooke, sustainability and rigorous standards were at the forefront of their reply to criticism from Environment Tasmania.

“Our company and our employees take animal welfare seriously and our people farm with care,” said a spokesperson.

“The aquaculture industry works closely with world-renowned scientists from academia, government, and the private sector to develop rigorous standards and implement best practices for fish health and environmental protection.

“Environment Tasmania is ignoring the fact that farm-raised salmon is one of the healthiest and most efficient ways to feed the population with a minimal environmental impact and the lowest carbon footprint of any animal protein.

“One would think that Environment Tasmania would support the most environmentally sustainable form of protein production for food.

“Or perhaps they are opposed to all animal farming?

“As a family company, we have full confidence in the 1700 employees at Tassal and the hundreds of small and medium size local businesses in the Tasmanian and Australian aquaculture supply chain.

“We are excited to be joining local communities in Tasmania and Australia as a partner in future food production and continuing the implementation of modern aquaculture technologies, science and best practices.”

Asked during a press conference on November 6 whether the State Government had heard the concerns of groups opposed to the Cooke takeover, and what was in place to give Tasmanians confidence that a major international company would show appropriate care to the environment, Minister for State Development Guy Barnett responded.

“What is important for this government is our support for a sustainable, highly regulated salmon industry in Tasmania and the jobs that it delivers, particularly in the rural and regional parts of Tasmania.

“As an island state, this is really important, and we back it in and have been backing it in and will continue to do so.”

Weeding working bee at Nierinna Creek Reserve

The Tramway Hill Landcare Group had a busy working bee at Nierinna Creek Reserve recently.

The weather during the working bee was fine, but the recent wet weather had taken its toll on the reserve.

The culvert under the Nierinna Creek Ford was almost blocked and needed clearing.

The sides of the ford had been damaged by the recent rains.

The volunteers weeded plenty of hemlock, scotch thistle and more at the reserve.

Roz Thurn observed that there has been a noticeable increase in the coverage of common buzzy, burdock and weedy forget-me-nots in the reserve.

The Tramway Hill Landcare Group plans on requesting assistance from the council to remove the debris from the Nierinna Creek Ford culvert, to weed, trim plants and re-mulch the planting on the corner of Sandfly and Nierinna Roads and to organize removal of the Spanish heath that is growing next to the dam behind 92 Nierinna Road.

Improved structures and recognition for Tasmania’s first responders

Franklin MP David O’Byrne said the State Government’s refusal to adopt a National Incident Management Operations emergency services standard classification structure means the government was failing to properly recognise the skills and abilities of Tasmanian public sector workers.

“Without a nationally-recognised classification structure in place, our public sector workers who are seconded to deal with emergencies and crises don’t have a proper structure in place in terms of their role and remuneration,” said Mr O’Byrne.

“The Premier and his Ministers are quick to surround themselves with frontline workers for media opportunities, but they are nowhere to be seen when it comes to actually recognising and valuing the public sector workers who step up during times of crisis.”

A State Government spokesperson responded that “There are already arrangements in place to deal with our response to emergencies across the State Service.

“This includes the Tasmanian Government’s Interoperability Arrangements for Sharing Skilled Resources, which describes the human resource arrangements that Tasmanian Government agencies can provide personnel to assist emergency services during an emergency.

“The government values highly the valuable work of our frontline state service employees and the strong sense of service to the Tasmanian community they service, and we will continue to negotiate with the unions in good faith.”

Our fourth time using Kerri-Louise as our agent and we could not be happier with her dedication, commitment and work ethic.

She has always provided us with tremendous advice and we would not use another agent.

Not only trustworthy, but an operator with great integrity, she has never disappointed us.

Safe and confident drivers

With more than 10,000 individual driving lessons under her seatbelt, Smooth Operator Driving School's instructor Kat Thomsen is one of the most respected driving instructors in southern Tasmania.

"I grew up in Kingborough and the Channel, so I know the roads around these parts inside-out," said Kat.

"I use all the different local traffic features in the area, taking you through different driving scenarios, so you'll be ready to tackle anything from a narrow street to the highway."

Everyone's road to passing their test is different and Kat is experienced when it comes to creating the right learning environment for each student, teaching them skills they need in a way that they will remember.

"You'll see positive changes with each and every lesson, until that magic day when you hit the road on your own," Kat declared.

Kat has helped hundreds of locals pass their test.

She gives her students the ability to make educated decisions that result in them becoming safe and confident drivers.

"Anyone can teach you the mechanics, but to drive calmly and safely you need to learn in the right environment and with the right mindset," explained Kat.

"Learning doesn't stop the moment you get your licence!

"We set you up for a lifetime of competent, safe driving."

Kat is accredited to provide the free government funded keys 2 drive and Plates Plus lessons that each Tasmanian learner permit holder is entitled to. (PS)

Blackmans Bay Motors is a local, family-owned automotive service centre. Robert Jenkyns and Kimberley Cowen and their team ensure their customers receive professional and courteous service.

Modern and professional servicing at Blackmans Bay Motors

Blackmans Bay Motors started in 2000 at the rear of the shell service station in Blackmans Bay with the original owners, Rod Glanville and Scott Turnbull.

Rod and Scott were determined from the start to develop a business that met the needs of the modern automotive industry and its customers, always looking for ways to make the business better equipped or better ways to keep their customers happy.

The focus has always been on making sure the customers receive professional and courteous service.

Rod and Scott passed the batten to Robert Jenkyns and Kimberley Cowen in September 2021, entrusting their 20-year development to their manager of three years and employee of eight years.

Rob and Kim have been apart of the Blackmans Bay Motors family for the better half of a decade, developing connections and relationships within the community, maintaining and developing the high level of professional care and service set.

As Rob and Kim settle into their new roles as owners they plan to continue the outstanding standards delivered and expand the business.

In February 2022, customers saw a new hoist enter the workshop, allowing the business to grow with the Blackmans Bay/Kingston area, along with an addition of a third courtesy vehicle.

As the business continued to expand a large investment was made into equipping the workshop with the facilities to do nearly all work required on modern vehicles in house.

These include machining flywheels for the surrounding workshops, the latest on car brake lathe, three of the latest scan tools, wheel alignment and tyre changing facilities and sophisticated software packages.

At Blackmans Bay Motors, their technicians complete continuous training modules throughout the year.

Professional development is experienced in the workshop daily.

Their apprentice Riley has developed and progressed his learning through hands-on experience working with the senior Blackmans Bay Motors technicians.

Senior technicians participate in training courses keeping them up to date with latest technologies and diagnosis skills.

At Blackmans Bay Motors, their focus is providing outstanding customer service and support.

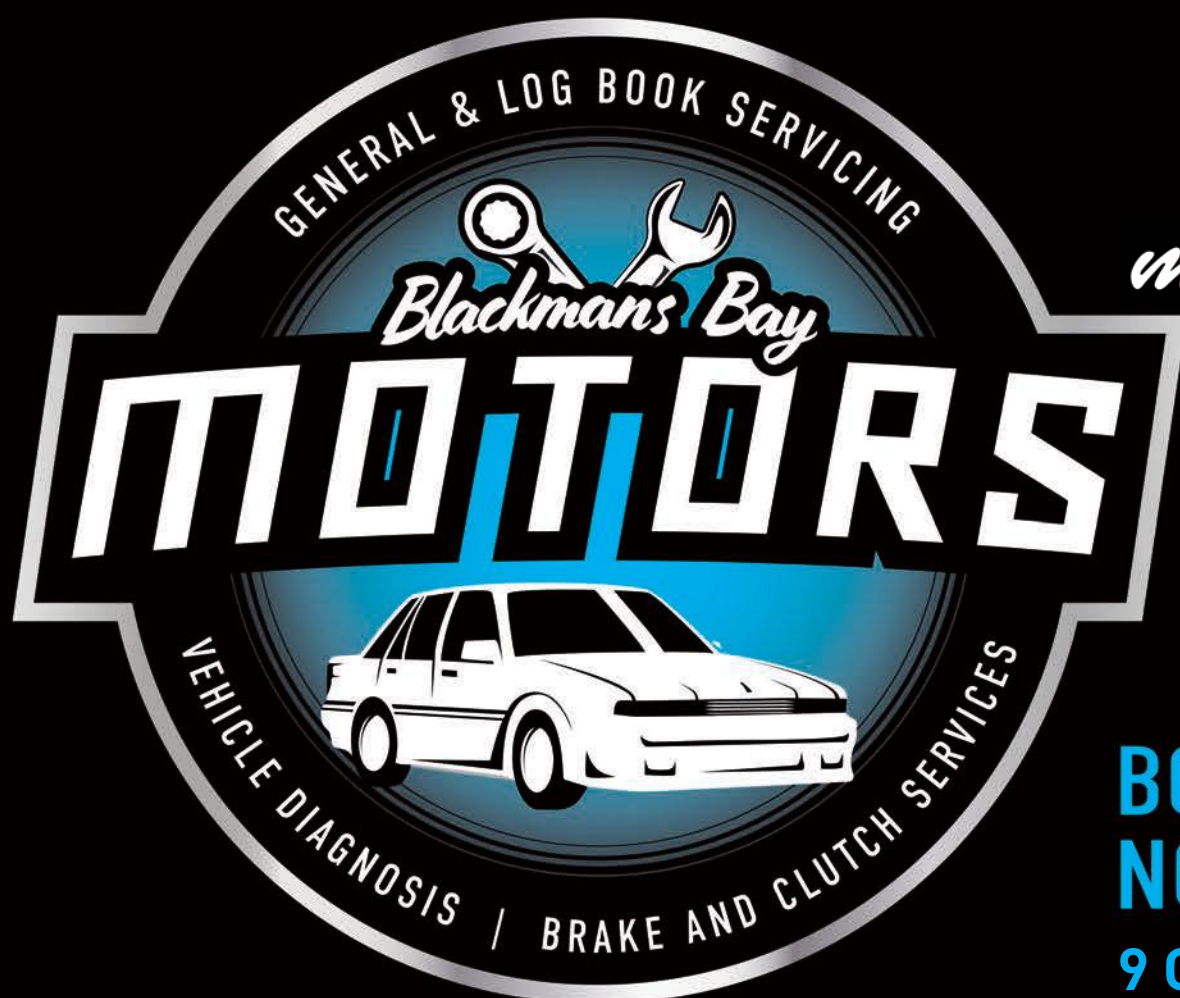

They pride themselves on setting and maintaining a clean, professional, honest and open workshop.

The reception space holds a workshop window, where customers and can peak at vehicles being attended to at any given moment.

Blackmans Bay Motors offer a local free drop off and pick up service, and accommodate all customer requests to the very best of their abilities

If you are looking to have car repaired or serviced this year, Blackmans Bay Motors are currently experiencing very large workloads and are booked out until the start of December and are filling up very fast.

Tight game sees Kingborough downed by one

In the Bowls Tasmania South Open Gender Competition on Saturday 5th November the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club's Premier Division team enjoyed a relaxing Club Bus trip to and from the Brighton Bowls Club where they also enjoyed a convincing 88 shots to 62 shots win over the host team.

Kingborough also won on 3 of the 4 rinks played on the day.

Nic Courto's rink of Clinton Seabourne, Darren Reeve and Nathan Dinning blitzed their opposition winning 27-13.

Will Coad with Tony Rowe, Brad Carver and Brent Forsyth had a similar day winning 26-14 and Ryan Guy with Jack Butler, Mark Burgess and Shane Garth got up 16-13.

Division 1 also had a good day when they played at home in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre against the visiting team from the Howrah Bowls Club.

They, like the Premier Division Team, also had a runaway victory defeating the visitors overall 90 shots to 56 shots.

Kingborough won on 3 of the 4 rinks played.

Leading the way for Kingborough was Maddie Johnston's rink of Conrad Westhead, Ian Harris and Jeff Parson, winning 29-11.

Also with a good win was Mark Crawford with Jordon Seabourne, Michael Steele and Graeme Walker winning 23-9 and Gavin Cleary with Michael Andersch, Callum Dinning and Iain Dinning coming home 21-12.

In a very competitive game Division 3 played on grass at home at Margate where they were defeated overall by just 1 shot by the visiting North Hobart Bowls Club team, North Hobart winning 72 shots to 71 shots.

Kingborough had wins on 2 of the 4 rinks played in the game.

Anthony Sculthorpe with Mark Drake, Brock Bricknell and Allen Sculthorpe won 21-15 and Bruce Moran with Ann Hinkley, Lynn Barlow and Vicki Bannister won 23-19.

Division 4 also had a battle on their hands when they travelled away to the Claremont Bowls Club for their game.

They also went down overall by 1 shot when they were defeated by Claremont 70 shots to 69 shots.

Kingborough managed to win on 1 rink and draw on another.

Fred Shead with Stephen Sanders, John Mac and Sue Mann won 17-13 and Lee Shead with Robbie Wallace, Sally Bowes and Kerrie Lane drew 16-16.

Division 5 hosted the visiting team from Howrah Bowls Club and even though they only won on 1 of the 3 rinks played they defeated Howrah overall 58 shots to 50 shots.

Greta Murray's rink of Peter Oates, Bill Reeve and Kevin Neilson guaranteed the overall win when they overran their opposition winning 28-6.

The Division 6 Blue Kingborough team also played at home where they played Claremont 2 in another close game.

Claremont got over the line by 2 shots, defeating Kingborough 58 shots to 56 shots.

Kingborough only managed a win on 1 of the 3 rinks played.

Ray Palmer with Tania Anderson, Bill Mus and David Freeman won 22-18.

Division 6 Red travelled away to the Sandy Bay Bowls Club where again a close encounter was played out with Kingborough defeating the Bay overall 60 shots to 58 shots.

Even though Kingborough only won on 1 of the 3 rinks played the good display of bowls by Lorraine Walker's rink of Robert McKenzie, Gerald Moraitis and Regina Hayes winning 27-7 concreted the overall team win.

In the Wednesday Mid-week Competition Kingborough's Division 1 team hosted a team from Rosny Park Bowls Club at Margate where they defeated the visitors overall 68 shots to 45 shots, and in doing so won on all 3 rinks played.

Jeff Parsons with Ian Harris, Michael Steele and Clinton Seabourne led the way winning 27-12 on their rink.

Darren Reeve with Robbie Wallace, Tony Rowe and Heath Seabourne won 20-14 and Shane Garth with Roger Duggan, Geoff Price and Michael Andersch got up 21-19.

Division 2 had a battle on their hands when they travelled away to the Howrah Bowls Club for their game.

On the quirky grass green, they were defeated overall by their hosts 56 shots to 49 shots. Kingborough managed a win on 1 of the 3 rinks played on the day with Fred Shead's rink of John Iles, Pat Lee and Robert Stanton getting a 1 shot win, 18-17.

In the Division 4 games Kingborough played at home at Margate against the visiting team from Claremont Bowls Club.

Kingborough defeated Claremont on 2 of the 3 rinks played, winning overall 57 shots to 49 shots.

Conrad Westhead with Phil Hayes, Kay Ashlin and Pena Lese won 21-14 and Allen Sculthorpe with Peter Ashlin, Dale Saunders and John Mac won 18-15.

Kingborough 2 did not have the same luck when they travelled away to the Brighton Bowls Club where they were only able to win on 1 of the 3 rinks played and Brighton defeated them overall 60 shots to 53 shots.

Kingborough's winning rink was Graeme Young with Robert McKenzie, Geoff Tomlin and Lindsay Pearce who won 22-17.

In the Thursday Women's Competition Division 1 played at home in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre against the visiting Rosny Park Team.

Rosny came out of the blocks on 2 of the 3 rinks played in the early stages of the game but Kingborough were able to turn the tide and came away with an overall 62 shots to 46 shots win, winning on 2 of the 3 rinks played.

Leonie Price with Pauline Connell, Kerry Lane and Nadine Seabourne had a good 29-13 win and Sue Clark with Liz Richards, Sally Bowes and Colleen Dance won 21-14.

Division 2 travelled away to the Sandy Bay Bowls Club where they were defeated on all 3 rinks played. Sandy defeated them overall 77 shots to 45 shots.

Division 3 also travelled away to the Sandy Bay Bowls Club.

In a tightly fought game they had a 54 shots to 54 shots draw.

Kingborough had a win on 1 rink and drew on another.

Kingborough's winning rink was Maureen Sculthorpe with Fiona Hickey, Anne Palmer and Deb Smith who won 24-18.

Dianne Spooner with Elaine Cockshutt, Margaret Thorp and Kay Ashlin drew 16-16.

Bruny Island rink members Graeme Little and John Kobilec during Kingborough's Division 2 game on Wednesday at Howrah Bowls Club. (PS)

Geoff Eddington bowling in Bruny Island rink in Wednesday's Division 2 game against Howrah. (PS)

HURT HAMSTRING DOESN'T HOLD BACK HODGE

In the Huon Channel Cricket Association (HCCA) T20 Division 1 Blackmans Bay Sharks had Luke Hodge playing, with Callum Rawson presenting him his cap. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

In Round 1 the Sharks played the Snug Scuds at Sherburd Park. The Sharks won 7-148 to the Scuds 7-117. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Luke Hodge was the highest Sharks' scorer with 49 n.o. from 31 deliveries including two fours and two sixes. It was an excellent effort considering he injured his hamstring and had to have a runner for part of his innings. The injury did not prevent him from belting a six. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)
