Woodbridge are Good Sports

Woodbridge Cricket Club was awarded 2022 National Good Sports Club of the Year and 2022 Good Sports Tasmanian Club of the Year on February 16.

The awards ceremony was held at Parliament House in Canberra.

Good Sports is Australia's largest community health sports program, working with more than 10,000 community sports clubs across Australia, including more than 550 clubs in Tasmania.

The Good Sports Award recognises local sports clubs that are committed to building healthy and family-friendly club environments and for their work with the Alcohol and Drug Foundation's Good Sports program in tackling topics like alcohol, illicit drugs, smoking, mental health and safe transport.

"Good Sports supports local sporting clubs to identify and reduce potential risks around alcohol and other drugs, as well as other important issues such as mental health and road safety," said Alcohol and Drug Foundation's Tasmanian Manager Mona Malouf.

"The Good Sports Awards are the ultimate trophy for any Good Sports club.

"They shine the spotlight on success, celebrate the volunteers who are the backbone of Good Sports clubs and give winning clubs the recognition they deserve," said Ms Malouf.

Woodbridge Cricket Club was crowned the 2022 Good Sports National Club of the Year and the 2022 Good Sports Tasmanian Club of the Year for adopting practices and strategies to improve the health and wellbeing of their members, inspiring positive change and building a healthier and family-friendly club environment.

Council votes to change the date

Kingborough Council will change the date of its January 26 Citizenship Ceremonies from 2024 onwards.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said this was a positive and inclusive move for Council and the community.

"Relocating the date for January Citizenship Ceremonies will help alleviate concerns associated with holding Citizenship Ceremonies on January 26 every year," Cr Wriedt said.

"This date has become controversial, with many Australians concerned about celebrating Australia Day on January 26, which is also identified as a day of mourning and invasion by many Australians.

"Following the amendment to the Australian Citizenship Ceremonies Code, several councils have moved to change the date of their January citizenship ceremony, including City of Hobart, Glenorchy and Huon Valley.

"I think it is incumbent on our Council to consider what is in the best interest of all our community.

"We all recognise that there is community distress surrounding Australia Day and its differing meaning for many.

"By choosing to hold the Citizenship Ceremonies on another day other than January 26, we are alleviating any distress that some community members may feel either by attending or by participating in them.

"The changes will take place commencing in 2024, with the ceremony to be held either on the 23, 24, 25, 27, 28 or 29 January."

Memorabilia for the hall built by the hands of our community

This Easter Monday, April 10, will be the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Adventure Bay Hall.

Built entirely by volunteers with donated timber from a local sawmill, the hall was planned and built within an impressive six months.

Official approval came sometime later!
From the very beginning the hall became the centre of social activity in the district with many dances, birthday and anniversary celebrations held along with numerous comedy sketches performed by some talented locals.

Intriguing titles such as 'A Row in the Kitchen' and 'Box and Cox' are all we know of these gems, but they were great fundraisers and soon the hall was lined, and a kitchen attached.

The hall is much loved by the Bruny community and has been the venue for a wealth of personal and community events over the years.

The celebrations this Easter will include a display of hall history, photos and programs, a performance dubbed '100 years of Stage Fright', a movie and pizza night, plus games and fun activities for children.

An official afternoon tea and an old time county dance will wrap up the centenary celebrations on Easter Monday.

As part of the celebrations the organising team are seeking any old photos, personal memories or memorabilia of the hall for display over Easter.

If you have or know of anyone who might have something please contact Marg Graham on 0476373422 or email marggraham@bournet.com.au.

Your items will be carefully scanned, with the originals being returned to you.

Kettering Hall houses net zero seminar

A free seminar in Kettering Hall on March 12th by Net Zero Channel, a local community group, hopes to assist Channel residents reduce the district's carbon footprint.

It will have local sustainability champions explain how each of us can make some easy but significant choices that will substantially lower residential emissions and in many cases contribute to household savings.

Doing your bit to save the planet can be electrifying. Each one of us in our everyday lives can help Australia in its efforts to reduce carbon emissions.

Even modest changes in every household, when accumulated over the whole population, can reduce harmful greenhouse gas emissions substantially.

Many of these changes can also be kind to our budgets. Sustainability Consultant, Todd Houstain will share his experience in assisting Tasmanians to live in more thermally comfortable houses, while reducing household expenditure and significantly decreasing environmentally harmful emissions.

Tasmania's senior Australian of the Year in 2017 Margaret Steadman will share her passion for sustainability while offering valuable tips on how to make our homes sustainable and more efficient.

She will host a panel of local Channel residents who will share how they have made significant reductions in their carbon footprints on their journey to net zero greenhouse gas emissions.

A variety of topics will include the adoption of electrical appliances, changing the fuels that people are using and increasing energy efficiency.

Participants will learn how insulation and draft proofing can reduce heating and cooling costs by up to 50% and discussions will canvas how investments to improve carbon footprint can pay themselves off over just a few years.

People attending the event, in Kettering Hall, Sunday March 12th at 4pm will have opportunity to ask questions, interact with locally based panellists, who have already taken the steps towards household sustainability.

Attendees will be able to make vital connections that will allow people to make further progress down the path towards sustainable households.

Bookings are free through TryBooking at <https://www.trybooking.com/CFRK>

For further information about the seminar, contact Phil Tomney - Phone: 0433 114 223 or email the Net Zero Channel group at Netzerochannel@gmail.com.

Woodbridge Cricket Club resilience

Committee Member and Life Member Steve Jackson said before joining Good Sports Woodbridge Cricket Club had a reputation of poor alcohol and smoking management, leading at times to poor behaviour, poor sportsmanship and lack of community engagement.

Now having reached the highest level of the Good Sports program, the club has introduced a range of initiatives to help build a healthier club, such as designated smoke-free areas, healthier food, encouraging safe transport to and from events and making a variety of non and low alcoholic and healthier drinks available at the bar.

"The club has changed from one which was viewed by locals and other teams as almost a lost cause, to becoming one which takes pride in its family-friendly atmosphere and respect for fellow players, other teams and the spirit of cricket," Mr Jackson said.

The club now also prides itself on its strong focus on encouraging junior participation and mentoring younger players.

"It's a big thing for a small, regional club to win such an award," said Mr Jackson.

"It recognises the significant improvements that the club has made in becoming a family-friendly club."

"Woodbridge Cricket Club is a great example of a sporting club that gives back to its local community and to win the Good Sports Australia National Club of the Year Award is testament to the Club and its volunteers," said Minister for Sport and Recreation, the Hon Nic Street MP.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Swift decline in parrot habitat
Logging is the major cause of habitat loss for many threatened and endangered species in Australia.

In Tasmania, swift parrot habitat and foraging trees continue to be logged by Forestry Tasmania despite recommendations to end native forest logging.

The government must act swiftly to save swift parrots.

To continue to do nothing shows that our government is not taking the risk of extinction seriously.

Groovy grannies ride the rails

Earlier this month, 22 intrepid members of the Kingston Ladies Probus Club with an average age of 75, travelled by hired coach to Maydena.

While many individuals this age are gently having morning teas from bone china cups, this adventurous group were out in the Florentine Rainforest peddling the specially built pedal-powered rail carts, assisted by the helpful Geoff and his sidekick, John, at Maydena Railtrack Riders.

After peddling deep into the ancient rainforest, there was a forest walk where native wildlife were spotted (well, cutouts of native wildlife).

Various commercial sponsors have created a historic display giving insight into the logging history of the region, at the Florentine Station.

With the rail carts turned around, everyone pedalled back to the depot.

Organiser Kate Stephenson agreed with participants that this was one of their more enjoyable and challenging outings, and most are encouraging their families, especially with older children, to share the experience.

Channel gardens to hit the trail

Five different gardens are the focus of this year's garden trail in April hosted by the South Channel Garden Club.

This is the fourth trail in the series and previous events have raised thousands for garden-related projects in the Channel, including helping ex-service men and women combat post-traumatic stress syndrome through gardening.

This year's trail, Colours and Flavours of the Channel, will feature gardens in Kettering, Woodbridge and Middleton on April 16.

Joy and Ted's garden in Kettering highlights interesting or unusual plants in a newly developed garden which reflects their passion for plants and years of experience running a rare-plant nursery in South Hobart.

Nearby, Sue's garden is an illustration of what can be achieved in a near-urban environment offering privacy and seclusion and a perfect habitat for birds and frogs.

At Dalmere in Middleton, a garden first developed almost 20 years ago surrounding a straw bale house, combines shrubs, vines and trees with a year-round productive veggie patch.

With its year-round colour, Jana's garden south of Woodbridge reflects a sense of European grandeur and incorporates a Monet-inspired dam filled with water lilies while dotted among the fruit trees are some of the sculptures created by the owner.

Five Bob Farm at Birchs Bay - previously known as Fleurty's Cafe - is run by a manager and an enthusiastic team of volunteers in a garden which produces inspiration and therapy as well as fresh herbs and vegetables.

It also gives visitors the opportunity to walk the neighbouring Art Farm trail.

Tickets are now available for the Trail at <http://www.trybooking.com> and close on March 31 or when sold out.

Previous trails have all been sold out.

Entry to all five gardens is $20 with free entry for under-16-year-olds.

Previous beneficiaries of the Trail have included school garden projects in Woodbridge, Snug and Cygnet, the Village Green project at Woodbridge and service veterans who have found in the simple delights of gardening

South Channel Garden Club's 2023 garden trail will be held on April 16. (PS)

a way to alleviate PTSD.

As in past years, hundreds of plants will also be for sale at the Club's popular garden stall.

The South Channel Garden Club is one of the biggest community groups in the Channel and at more than 50 years old is one of Tasmania's oldest gardening groups holding regular monthly meetings at Middleton and organising a programme which includes guest speakers and garden visits.

With five different gardens being the focus of this year's trail, there will be ideas aplenty to help exercise your green thumb. (PS)

Showing Kingston Library some love

Library Lovers' Day was celebrated on February 14, but there's still time to show your local library some love.

Tasmanians are being encouraged to head to their local library and share how the library brings joy to their life.

Anyone and everyone who loves their local library was able to drop in a note as of Library Lovers' Day and throughout the rest of February.

"We are keen to hear how your world is a better place because of your library," said Alison Triffett, Information Services Coordinator at Rosny Library.

"We encourage everyone to come and add to our Library Lovers' Day displays, whether it is a written message, a drawing or perhaps reading what others have already shared in their library love letter."

The Kingston Library's display is covered in notes from locals, sharing favourite memories, books and other messages of love and enthusiasm for this place.

"In Kingston Library I feel that I am part of a community!" one note reads.

Library staff run community spaces that are free for everyone.

"You can borrow items, sit and read, use free Wi-Fi, come to one of our many free programs or get help with family research, or with your computer, device, reading, writing and maths skills at your local library," Alison said.

Visit in person at any of the 45 public libraries across lutruwita/Tasmania, pick up a flyer, and jot down how the world is a better place because of your library.

Love is in the air at the Kingston Library with their recent Library Lovers' display.

Locals have shared what they love about Kingston Library with notes on the display board.

A Page from the Past - Kingborough News

Fifty years ago the Huon Newspaper Company published Kingborough News, a weekly newspaper that circulated from 1967. The below page is taken from Kingborough News, February 9, 1968.

PROBLEM FOR THE UMPIRE

THERE was an unusual occurrence in a bowls match at Margate on Saturday. At one end, the bowls shot by Doug Crisp's Kingborough team and Len Burgess' Rosny Park four could not be separated. The umpire (Mr George Ellis) was called in, and he used calipers for several minutes in an effort to separate the shots, but the distance of both bowls from kitty was exactly the same, and it proved to be a drawn end. Bowlers said that such a position had not happened at Margate for years. The two teams concerned were level at the 24th, but at the next end Crisp drew the shot, and won by one. •Pictured is the umpire using the calipers.

Memorial for Fire Victims

SNUG Progress Association has launched a public appeal for funds to establish a memorial to the many who died in the fires last February.

The form the memorial should take has not yet been decided but it is thought it should be something unique, to commemorate such an unprecedented disaster.

Nearly half of southern Tasmania's fire victims lost their lives in the Snug area between Margate and Kettering and most of Snug township was destroyed, therefore, Snug is considered the most appropriate place for a memorial.

Mr Charles Pitt jnr., who is credited with originating the idea, said this week that, with the advent of a new church, shops, houses and surroundings, the younger generation will soon forget the structure and life of the old Snug.

The fury and terror of February 7th, 1967, which put Tasmanian on the map throughout the world and has become a legendary lesson to all Australians, must not be allowed to drift into obscurity.

As a community remembrance of loss of life and as a reminder to coming generations as a thanksgiving for the relief received and a needed tourist attraction, there ought to be a memorial somewhere in Snug. It should not be a conventional one, so common throughout Australia but one worthy of the happening.

Possibly Tasmania should have an annual event as a reminder to all Australia to the lesson taught.

The following organising committee has been formed to implement the plan. Messrs Charles Pitt jnr. (Chairman), B. Bylett, B. W. Worsley, H. W. Dean and D. Dowse.

Donations may be sent to Mr Pitt jnr. Snug, B. W. Worsley Margate and Mr Hodgman M.L.C., Kingston.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT SNUG

Three denominations took part in a truly ecumenical service in the new Snug Catholic Church on Wednesday morning, to commemorate the anniversary of last February's bush fires.

The Rev. E. C. Lloyd represented the Catholics, Canon A. G. Atkins, the Anglicans, and Rev. O. G. Shuey, the Methodists.

A congregation of 200, included relations of fire victims, senior pupils from Snug Area School with the Headmaster, (Mr Bowles), and senior staff, members of the Kingborough Commission and most of the staff, and Mr Frost M.H.A. and Mrs Frost. Mr A. G. Grimsey represented the Carbide Works.

Canon Atkins opened proceedings. Brigadier Dolly read the Psalm, and Mr Shuey read the prayers.

Father Lloyd spoke of those who had died and said how thankful the survivors were to God and the people of Australia who had helped to put them back on their feet.

TAROONA PEOPLE TO TAKE STRONG STAND

RESIDENTS of Tarooma, who number more than 3,000, are generally discontented with the absence of postal facilities in the town, and intend to make an issue of the matter in the forthcoming election campaign.

Members of Parliament and private citizens have taken up the matter, as well as the Kingborough Commission, and one resident has written a strong letter to the Postmaster General (Mr Hume).

A Tarooma woman, who expresses the general feeling, addressed the Postmaster General in the following terms:

"Along with many others, I shall be glad to know when suitable post office facilities are going to be made available for Tarooma residents. A new shopping centre is in the planning stage, and it is hoped a post office will be incorporated in the scheme.

appropriate to provide an official post office, at this stage.

The most suitable method, he said, would be to have an office conducted in conjunction with a private business.

Unfortunately, the department had been unable to find a suitable person willing to undertake this work.

SITE FOR P.O. BOUGHT

What the people want to know is if the department thinks there is not enough business to warrant a post office, why did it buy a site to establish one. The site is a vacant piece of land at the intersection of Seaview Ave, with the Channel Highway.

Mr Hodgman said that the Tarooma newsagent (Mr E. K. Hook) sold $30 worth of stamps a week as a needed service, and the writer of the letter to the P.M.G. said she would buy $300 dollars worth of Tax stamps for the company she works for rather than get them in the city.

Also, the writer of the letter to the P.M.G., and Mr M. Hodgman, M.L.C., both know of a post mistress in a country town, who intends to move to Tarooma, and is interested in starting up a post office at Tarooma. Mr Hodgman has advised her to communicate with the Deputy P.M.G. (Mr Geilston).

Mr Hodgman told the "News": "It is incredible that a town like Tarooma which is a major suburb of Hobart, should be without a post office."

Mr Hodgman said he had written to Mr Hume about the matter more than a year ago, and had since interviewed another Federal Minister, who had assured him the matter would be taken further by the P.M.G.

Last year he had spoken to Mr Geilston in Hobart about the matter, and had received an assurance that if someone could be found to conduct a post office on a non-official basis, the department would consider the matter favourably. This is where the matter now stands.

A Page from the Past - Kingborough News

Fifty years ago the Huon Newspaper Company published Kingborough News, a weekly newspaper that circulated from 1967. The below page is taken from Kingborough News, February 16, 1968.

DRAMATIC PROSPECTS FOR KINGSTON BEACH

IF a five-million dollar casino and multi-storey hotel at Wrest Point is calculated to place Tasmania on the world tourist map, what would a similar expenditure at Kingston Beach recognised by those who know it as one of the most attractive places in Australia, do for the State?

The difference is that you won't need a casino at Kingston Beach. It is already one of the best beaches imaginable for swimming, yachting, and fishing. It already has an international golf course, sailing club facilities, a sports ground, and a caravan park, and an esplanade promenade which could be made to rival Manly (N.S.W.).

What can be done locally is improvement of the caravan park, with a better access road, reclamation of the river front marshes for sports or additional accommodation areas, and possibly the formation of a trout fishing lake by damming Browns River above Kingston. This would not affect the flow once the lake was filled in the rainy season, because the water would not be drawn off.

What an investing developer could do, once these preliminaries were accomplished, would be to build a multi-storey hotel with night life on international lines, including club room facilities, a heated swimming pool, and public tennis courts.

The experience of other Eastern Australian States suggests also that multi-storey apartment units along the esplanade would be snapped up as quickly as they were built, but there would need to be some available for visitors and at prices that gave value for money.

The advent of the outlet road undoubtedly will lead to dramatic developments, which could be on this scale, though it is doubtful whether many Kingston residents would appreciate such inroads on their present quiet life.

Foreshore Development

With the present interest in tourism it was significant that at a meeting of the Kingston Beach Development Association on Monday night, enthusiastic interest was shown in a complete development and beautification programme on the Kingston Beach foreshore.

A member said that, on a recent holiday round Tasmania, she had asked Mainland visitors what impressed them most about the State, and nearly all said it was the greenery and natural scenery.

Members are of opinion that it is in these aspects that Kingston Beach can do its share to help the State present an even better scenic attraction in natural beauty.

They consider that, in these days of industrial development, everything possible should be done to preserve the State's natural heritage, so that others can share with Kingston people the pleasure they derive from living there.

A report on proposals for Kingston Beach foreshore developments will be sent to the Kingborough Commission to help in their deliberations on the matter.

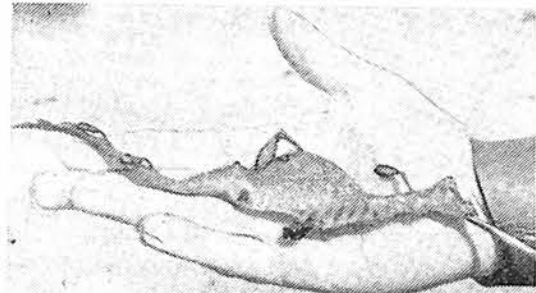

IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY

IT is 60 years since Mr C. B. Whitesides, Balmoral Road, Kingston Beach, won his first race in a school fours (Hutchins), at the Royal Hobart Regatta.

Last Saturday, he had the pleasure of seeing his grandson, David Graney, in the Hutchins School crew that won the school fours. David was also first across the line in a Rain-bow class yacht at Kingston Beach that afternoon, and another grandson, Martin Graney, won the Northbridge Junior event

LEAFY SEA DRAGON

• This weird-looking little creature, caught by Chris Williams of Tar-oonia, while skin diving on Tuesday, is a half grown leafy sea dragon. Some of its fins resemble leaves. The female transfers her eggs to a pouch in the male, which hatches them. The dragon grows to a length of about 15 in.

KINGSTON SEA SCOUTS REGATTA SUCCESS

Kingston Sea Scouts distinguished themselves at the Royal Hobart Regatta on Saturday by winning the sea scouts' race for the fourth year in succession.

They rowed in their boat, Namatjira, over a course of 850 yds., and defeated four other opponents by five lengths.

The crew comprised: Bows, Marcus Wisby and Colin Jones; midships, L. Turnbull and Murray Jones; strokes, Andre Hills and Lance Roper. Cox was Michael Ling.

Huts Sold Like Hot Cakes

AT an auction at Snug Park on Saturday morning, there was a complete clearance of the 70 huts which had been provided by the Hydro Commission to help house the burnt-out people of Snug 12 months ago.

About 200 persons attended, bidding was brisk, and the buildings sold very quickly at an average of about $20 each.

Most of the huts were bought by residents of Huon and Cygnet districts and the main purpose for which they are needed is to accommodate fruit pickers, although some will be used as workshops, woodsheds and general outhouses.

In many cases, they will replace outhouses burnt in the fires and not yet been replaced, although one woman, Mrs R. W. Salter, of Gardners Bay, who bought two, said that one would be painted and used as a playhouse for her daughter.

Some purchasers bought six, seven, and as many as eight each. All measure 10 ft. by 8 ft., except one which is 13 by 10.

By February 26, there won't be a hut left at Snug Park, because the Kingborough Commission has stipulated that all must be removed from the municipality by then.

The commission has ruled that they don't comply with the building regulations, and cannot be used for any purpose in the municipality whether for habitation or as out-buildings.

Some Kingborough people, particularly fruit-growers, were disappointed that they could not buy them.

This week an employee of the commission has attended to release the huts for removal, and he will attend also next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Among those present were some former occupiers, who turned up to see them sold.

Smart Energy recharges Clennett's

Smart Energy, one of Australia's leading solar providers, is excited to announce their partnership with Clennett's Mitre 10 in Kingston, as well as the greater Hobart region.

This collaboration will see solar become more accessible to local Tasmanians.

In partnership with Clennett's Mitre 10, Smart Energy set up activations in their six locations across greater Hobart on February 1.

As part of this initiative, Smart Energy provided shoppers with the opportunity to speak to the team about how they can move to solar, as well as see the product offering in action.

Liam Navon from Smart Energy says, "We are excited to be partnering with Clennett's Mitre 10 across Hobart.

"This partnership takes us one step closer to our goal of making solar more accessible to Australians across the board.

"It will also allow an opportunity to educate more people on the benefits of moving to renewable energy."

On top of their in-store displays, Smart Energy will put resources in place to allow shoppers to learn more about solar and the products available to them.

Through a QR code, shoppers can register their details to sign up for a consultation with Smart Energy and learn more about the innovative technology on offer.

"Through partnering with Clennett's Mitre 10, our team will be able to connect you to one of our experienced energy specialists," said Liam.

"From there we will be able to take you step by step through the solar installation process and answer any questions you may have."

Clennett's Mitre 10 is the leading supplier of building and construction products in Southern Tasmania, with six stores located across Tasmania specialising in both trade and do-it-yourself projects.

Matt Haas, General Manager of Clennett's Mitre 10 said "We are very excited to align with Smart Energy who have a fantastic reputation in the Solar industry not just in Tasmania but also Australia". "This partnership will improve our service offering to our customer base at a time where electricity prices continue to soar."

Through this partnership, Smart Energy hopes to continue to work towards their goal of protecting the environment by implementing greener solutions.

Smart Energy understands the cost-of-living pressures on Tasmanians and are dedicated to making renewable energy technologies more accessible to all Australians.

Entries open for 2023 WorkSafe Tasmania Awards

Entries have opened for the biennial WorkSafe Tasmania Awards with winners to be announced at a gala dinner in Hobart on 3 November 2023.

Minister for Workplace Safety and Consumer Affairs, Elise Archer, said since 1996 the WorkSafe Awards have recognised individuals, teams and organisations that go above and beyond to reduce workplace harm, both in terms of physical and mental health, and improve outcomes for workers who have been injured due to their work.

"Winning a WorkSafe Award can boost worker morale, assist with attracting quality staff and help develop a more positive workplace culture," Minister Archer said.

"All category entries that demonstrate strong leadership are eligible for nomination by the judging panel for the overall Leadership Excellence Award.

"Entries are open until 10 May 2023 to all Tasmanian-based employers and workers."

The categories for 2023 are:

- Excellence in work health and safety systems;

- Excellence in work health and safety culture;

Pups on Parole

For more than 10 years the Tasmania Prison Service (TPS) has been working with the Dogs Home of Tasmania to help train and socialise dogs ready for them to be adopted by individuals in the community.

Rehabilitation within our prisons is a key focus of the Attorney-General, Elise Archer, who said programs like 'Pups on Parole' which provide rehabilitative options to inmates to both help them during their time in prison, but also help them when they return to the community, are a priority.

"I'm extremely supportive of this successful program as it greatly benefits both inmates who interact with the dogs and, in turn, the huge benefit it has had to the hundreds of dogs that have been able to be adopted following their training in the prison," the Attorney-General said.

"On a personal level, I know how beneficial an animal can be to our overall health and wellbeing, and many people in the community I'm sure can relate to the benefits that come from having a pet in their lives, and for inmates it's no different; the benefits are enormous.

"I am pleased that the TPS is able to provide these great opportunities to our inmates, and I'm very supportive of more options like these being developed."

The Pups on Parole program provide rehabilitative options to inmates, both helping them during their time in prison, but also when they return to the community. (PS)

Bolt-on to custom exhausts in Kingborough

Kevin and Leanne, owners and operators of Kingborough Exhaust, have been a team in the exhaust game for almost 17 years and have been in the Kingston area for 12 years.

In that time, the business has grown from straight-forward, bolt-on exhausts through to custom builds. Due to the growth of the business and the support they have received from the local community, Kevin and Leanne moved their business to a new, larger workshop in Huntingfield. The Huntingfield workshop in Ascot Drive is only a short drive away from their previous location on Browns Road. Every job, no matter how large or small, receives the same quality workmanship and attention to detail. Suspension is a big part of the Kingborough Exhaust business and making the move to Huntingfield allowed for further growth of the business in this area. Find Kingborough Exhaust on Facebook to view videos and photos of previous work. Knowing car seat safety

Craig and the team Mother Goose Baby Shop in Kingston offers an accredited car seat fitting service and installs over 50 car seats per week.

Mother Goose now have 3 accredited car seat fitters, with team members Rhiannon and Hayley also completing their Australian Child Restraint Institute training.

"Unfortunately, over 75 per cent of child restraints fitted across Australia are actually fitted incorrectly according to statistics from the Australian Child Restraint Resource Initiative (ACRI)," said Craig.

Some common mistakes of incorrect fittings and use of a child restraint include:

- Restraint being anchored to luggage tie down points instead of the restraint anchor bolt.
- Not using extension straps to reach the anchor bolt.
- Using the wrong type of child restraint for the child.
- Not following Child Restraint Laws.

"One of the most common mistakes and questions we have in store are people telling us their three-year-old child is tall and ready for a booster seat," said Craig.

"Our simple answer is no, it is actually against the law to put a child under the age of four in a booster seat, and it is not the safest means of transport for your child.

"Choosing the safest car restraint for your child can be a difficult task but can be made easier by simply trying the child restraint in your vehicle."

Craig continued, saying customers frequently ask what is the safest child restraint?

"It depends, there are many factors you'll need to consider," Craig said.

"You could start by comparing all of the restraint makes and models on the market through a crash testing regime and judge them comparatively, but these would all be based on the same vehicle seat, geometry and collision simulation.

"This would not accurately apply to your specific situation and vehicle.

"The child restraint you choose must be compatible with your vehicle.

Some incompatibility issues may be minor inconveniences, but others may affect your ease of use, functionality and collision outcomes.

"Only you can decide the compromises you're willing to make, so whenever possible place and try different restraints into your car so you can check all of the functionality aspects thoroughly before purchasing," said Craig.

"The most expensive child restraint may not always be the safest if not used and fitted correctly".

Mother Goose offers a free accredited fitting and re-fitting service upon purchase of one of their seats by appointment.

Mother Goose's range of car seats for sale in store offer the best practices available, fully harnessed seats with easy adjustment, extended rear facing seats, the latest capsules and the tallest boosters that are available on the market are all available locally with experienced advice and free installation.

They also offer fittings for non-Mother Goose purchased seats for $59 per seat, and via appointment.

Kingborough Real Estate Guide

Location and quality abound

Immaculately presented and maintained, this three plus bedroom rendered brick home has great street appeal and views of Mount Wellington.

This home presents a fantastic opportunity for families, retirees or astute investors looking to purchase in this convenient and highly sought-after location.

The quality of the property is evident starting at the formal tiled entry and continuing throughout the property.

To the left is the formal lounge and separate dining room which could also serve as a home office or fourth bedroom.

To the right is the open plan kitchen and family room with plenty of space for day-to-day family living.

The kitchen has quality appliances, great storage, walk-in pantry and plenty of bench space.

There is access from here out to the private covered courtyard.

The bedroom wing has two generous sized double bedrooms, both with built-in robes and a central family bathroom with shower, bath and vanity, separate toilet and a good-sized laundry.

The master suite has a walk-in robe and a very generous sized ensuite complete with spa bath, shower, vanity and toilet.

At the rear of the home is the large double garage with added space for a workbench, remote control doors and internal access.

The level, low-maintenance yard allows for plenty of off-street parking and scope for a vegetable garden.

This quality family home will appeal to purchasers seeking a relaxed, low-maintenance lifestyle offering in a family-friendly neighborhood located only a few minutes away from all the great services that Kingston has to offer and a 15-minute drive from the Hobart CBD.

Local duo succour win in Senior Bowling Arm State Title

Michael Cawthorn and Geoff Price proudly displaying their State Medals won during Bowls Tasmania Seniors Championships held at Beltana Bowls Club. (PS)

Two Kingborough Bowls and Community Club members, Michael Cawthorn and Geoff Price teamed up with Peter Thow from the Penguin Bowls Club and David Sims from the Trevallyn Bowls Club to play in the Tasmanian Bowling Arm Senior Fours Championship competition.

They progressed through to the finals and came up against a component team of 3 bowlers from Glenorchy City Bowls Club and 1 from Sandy Bay Bowls Club in the final of the competition.

The final was played on Tuesday 14th at the Beltana Bowls.

With Michael playing in lead position and Geoff as number 3, they got out to a good start, but this was pegged back with their opposition picking up 8 shots on 3 ends towards the end of the game.

However, they still managed to hang on and win by 2 shots, winning 14-12 to become the state champions in the Tasmanian Seniors Bowling Arm Competition.

They are very proud of their State Title win as is the Kingborough Bowls Club and its members.

In the Thursday Women's Pennant Competition Kingborough's Division 1 team travelled away to the Glenorchy City Bowls Club at Berriedale for their game.

In a game where they only won on 1 of the 3 rinks played on the day, Kingborough managed to come away with an overall 59 shots to 52 shots win.

Sue Clark with Theresa Direen, Kerrie Lane and Leonie

Price ensured the overall win with excellent 22-11 win on their rink on Glenorchy City's difficult synthetic green.

Division 2 played at home in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre at Margate against the visiting team from the Brighton Bowls Club.

The visitors who are on top of the competition ladder proved too strong for the local team, and in a hard-fought game defeated the home team overall 70 shots to 59 shots.

It appeared as if the Brighton team was going to win on all 3 rinks played but Lorraine Walkers rink of Anne Palmer, Regina Hayes and Glenus Johnson picked up 3 shots on the last end to get a 22-20 win.

Division 3 also had an away road trip travelling to the Howrah Bowls Club for their game which was a close encounter with Howrah winning by 4 shots overall, defeating Kingborough 60 shots to 56 shots. Kingborough managed a win on 1 of the 3 rinks played.

Nona Clark with Fiona Hickey, Jean Hemmings and Janene Stubbs won 23-14.

Bowls Tasmania South Pennant Competition was not played on Saturday 11th February due to the Hobart Regatta long weekend.

The Wednesday Mid-Week Competition was also not rostered on due to the Bowls Tasmania's Seniors Championships taking place at the Beltana and Rosny Park Bowls Clubs from Sunday 12th to Wednesday 15th February.

Lotti Crane focused on running her finest in the under 9's 100m sprint at Kingborough Little Athletics at twin ovals on Saturday morning. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

On Sunday the Summerleas Eagles played Slab Road in the inaugural HCCA Women's T20 Grand Final at Cygnet Oval. Slab Road batted first and made 6 for 107 from their allotted overs. The Summerleas Eagles started batting strongly but a mid-innings loss of wickets made for an exciting and close fought ending. The Eagles managed to scrape the runs, finishing with a four to end up with 6 for 110! (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

After a nearly three-year hiatus due to COVID restrictions, the players, coaches and support staff enjoyed the opportunity to participate in a residential camp which focused on core club values and culture, skill identification and improvement, personal and team growth and leadership development.

A cohort of over 60 players, mostly from the Kingborough area, converged on Lightwood Park for a weekend of physical activity as well as participating in an Oxygen Advantage Workshop led by Ben Hamlett, Health Performance Coach and Director of Holos Health. Despite the periods of wet weather, the players engaged in all activities and took away some key learnings from the weekend to enable them to continue their development as keen footballers.
