

Celebrating seventy years in Kingborough

On Saturday, February 18, members of the Verdouw family met at Dru Point Reserve to celebrate 70 years since their arrival.

Cornelis and Hendrika Verdouw and their ten children, ranging in age from five to 21 years of age, emigrated from Holland to Kingston in December 1952. They were the first of the 'Verdouw' clan to come to Tasmania, so all the Verdouw family you meet now in Tasmania are descended from them. Those 10 children married and had 43 grandchildren, who married and had a further 126 great grandchildren, some of whom have also married and had a further 47 great-great grandchildren so far. In total there are just over 300 descendants of Cornelis and Hendrika, many of whom have since relocated from the Kingborough municipality to other locations around Australia. Dirk Verdouw (86), one of the original 10 children who immigrated to Kingston at 16 years of age and has lived in Kingston ever since, expressed his family's gratitude for the quality of life he and the family have been able to experience since their arrival. He said that upon arrival, Kingborough people were welcoming and have always been friendly to the family. Like other Dutch immigrants of the period, the family prospered and were able to give back to the Kingborough community in many ways. Many Kingborough residents would remember the impact the family had through the building company, Laver Constructions Pty Ltd.

There are also many other community organisations in the Kingborough municipality who over the years have benefited from the involvement of family members. Dirk's son, Bruce Verdouw (60), representing the grandchildren generation, said that he is very grateful to his grandparents for having immigrated to Tasmania, and for the opportunities for the great life that he has had as part of the Kingborough municipality. Bruce said that he has enjoyed seeing his descendants enjoy Kingborough and everything it has to offer. An evening dinner for family members at Brookfield Margate rounded off a great day of celebration.

Dirk Verdouw (86), one of the original 10 children who immigrated to Kingston at 16 years of age and has lived in Kingston ever since, expressed his family's gratitude for the quality of life he and the family have been able to experience since their arrival. Dirk is seated on the far left. (PS)

Out of order behaviour at Blackmans Bay

Due to regular vandalism, Kingborough Council will be locking the Blackmans Bay Beach toilets at night. Kingborough Mayor, Paula Wriedt said it was unfortunate that as a result of ongoing vandalism the Blackmans Bay beach toilets would be locked at night time. "It is so disappointing that our new toilets at the beach are constantly being deliberately damaged, requiring money and time to fix, and making them unusable to the community," Cr Wriedt said. "The most recent attack, last weekend, will cost Council approximately $3000 to repair the damage, and that is on top of what we have already spent in recent months. "Baby change tables were broken, equipment burnt and damaged and the toilet was left in a disgusting and unusable state. "Toilets are an important public facility yet a small minority of people within our community are deliberately causing as much damage as possible - for whatever reasons that only they understand.

Community Based Support offering respite

Community Based Support (CBS) provides a range of support services for individuals living with disabilities and mental illnesses.

Our team of experienced professionals is dedicated to helping you achieve your life goals while maintaining your independence.

One of our most popular services is the Short Term Accommodation (STA) respite program, which takes place at a modern and comfortable property located in Kingston, Tasmania.

This fully accessible property features all modern amenities, including multiple living areas and covered garden spaces for outdoor relaxation.

It's also situated near local amenities, including the beach with an accessible foreshore walk.

Our overnight respite service offers guests a home away from home experience tailored to their individual preferences.

Our on-site team ensures that all guests' needs are met, including nutrition, meal planning and cooking, personal care like showering and dressing, and medication management.

We also assist guests in planning social outings and activities.

Garry McLaughlin, a CBS client, highly recommends the Kingston respite program.

His sister, Vicki, says that he still talks about the 'holiday house' every time she calls him.

Garry enjoyed his stay so much that he plans to use the service regularly in the coming year.

We also offer day respite social activity programs, which enable individuals to stay connected and active in their community.

These programs feature a range of interactive activities, including special events, wellness activities, guest speakers, arts and crafts, recreational activities and outings.

Bradley Marshall, a participant in our social activity groups, spends up to three days a week at our hubs.

He has built confidence and enjoys the sense of community and inclusion.

"I've found social interaction has gotten easier," said Bradley.

"Right from the word go down at the hub, I've always felt included, I've always been part of whatever's going on."

When asked if joining the hubs was a good decision, Bradley replied "I couldn't imagine life without it."

At CBS, we offer a dedicated Client Services team to support individuals during significant decision-making periods in their lives.

Our aim is to make the journey to obtaining the right support for individuals with disabilities and older Tasmanians as simple and stress-free as possible.

If you need assistance in navigating the complexities of obtaining support or determining the appropriate level and type of service that best suits your needs, you can contact the CBS Client Services team by phone on 1300 227 827.

You can find additional information regarding the services we provide on our website at www.cbsaust.org.au

Senseless attacks to community amenities

"As well as locking the toilets at night-time, when the attacks have happened, we will remove the paper towel dispenser and replace it with a hand dryer, to discourage some of the types of vandalism currently occurring," said Cr Wriedt.

"If the vandalism persists other measures such as CCTV will be considered but this then adds considerable costs at the ratepayer's expense.

"It is unfortunate we need to take these steps, but the ongoing nature of the vandalism provides no other real solutions.

"Our public facilities should be available to the community when required, but sadly a few individuals have senselessly decided to engage in this appalling anti-social behaviour and forced us to take this action.

"In the near future other toilets which attract this type of behaviour will also be considered for locking at night-time to prevent vandalism and further costs to residents". The proposal is to lock the toilets at dusk and reopen them at 6.30am.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt and Deputy Mayor Clare Glade-Wright are appalled by the damage to the Blackmans Bay public toilets, forcing them to now be closed during the night. (PS)

Baby change tables were broken, equipment burnt and damaged and the toilet was left in a disgusting and unusable state. (PS)

School supplies drive helps kids learn

David O'Byrne MP and some local kids with some of the school supplies packs. (PS)

The beginning of the school year can be a tough time for parents who are struggling to keep up with the cost of living, with some families having to make sacrifices to pay for the school supplies and stationery that their kids need to learn.

To make sure no student misses out, a dedicated team of volunteers and sponsors have teamed up with local Neighbourhood Houses to provide over 160 school supply packs for families in Kingborough and on Hobart's Eastern Shore. Franklin MP David O'Byrne, who organises the school supplies drive each year, said the demand for school supplies has never been greater. "The sad reality is that some kids don't get the most basic stationery and supplies they need for school if their parents are unable to afford it," said Mr O'Byrne. "It's absolutely vital that all Tasmanian students have the school supplies they need to learn. "Sadly, with rising cost of living pressures, more and more families in Kingborough and right across Hobart are struggling to afford the necessities.

"But thanks to a terrific team of volunteers and donors, and the vital work of our Neighbourhood Houses, we were able to ensure that over 160 students have what they need to start the school year on the right track." The school supply packs included brand new stationery, lunchboxes, drink bottles and backpacks donated by members of the community. The packs were distributed with help of the Kingston Neighbourhood House on Hawthorne Drive and other Neighbourhood Houses on Hobart's Eastern Shore.

The Joint Standing Committee on Implementation of the National Redress Scheme, which I chair, is seeking submissions.

While the Committee's inquiry is looking into a range of areas, we have a particular focus on:

- The experience of First Nations applicants and applicants with disability in their dealings with the Scheme.
- Accessibility, performance and effectiveness of support services and legal advice for survivors and their advocates.

It is important we hear from survivors of institutional child sexual abuse and understand their barriers to accessing the National Redress Scheme.

We understand that, for some people, the process of making a submission to a Senate committee can be difficult and overwhelming. However, the following advice may help:

- Your submission does not have to be lengthy or academic. It could be a description of your experience in your own words. It may just be one paragraph.
- You can have a trusted person such as a friend, family member or carer write the submission for you.
- Submissions that contain sensitive information can be kept confidential.
- If you don't wish to write a submission, you can record and submit a sound file or a video.

While the official closing date for submissions was 27 February 2023, the Committee is very open to accepting late submissions.

For further information visit www.aph.gov.au/redress or call the Committee office on (02) 6277 4549.

TARGA Tasmania postponed to October

Following the 2022 TARGA Tasmania event, Motorsport Australia appointed a Targa Review Panel to investigate the conduct of tarmac rallies in Australia.

Due to the board of Motorsport Australia not yet being in a position to release the Targa Review Panel's report, combined with the time it will take to implement any recommendations, TARGA has made the difficult decision to postpone TARGA Tasmania until October 23 to 28.

Motorsport Australia has advised that once the report is released, all recommendations will need to be implemented to the satisfaction of the board, meaning the sport of tarmac rallying will remain suspended in the interim.

"It is disappointing to have to postpone our iconic event," Perry said.

"But the reality is that we have no alternative given that Motorsport Australia has not yet released the report.

"TARGA is important to the motorsport community across Australia and has a special place in the state of Tasmania.

"It has a wonderful history and now our challenge comes to ensure its future.

"It will also take time to understand the full ramifications of the Targa Review Panel's report.

"Once we have received and reviewed the report thoroughly, we will make further announcements.

"We will also take the time to assess the full impact on the event and our business before making the required short, medium, and long term decisions in the best interests of all our loyal competitors, officials, sponsors and suppliers."

TARGA say they are committed to working with all parties on the various challenges that lie ahead with a view to a return of TARGA at TARGA Great Barrier Reef from September 1 to 3 with the flagship TARGA Tasmania to follow from October 23 to 28, seven weeks later.

Residential blocks sitting vacant in Kingborough

This month's Australian Bureau of Statistics revealed that building approvals were at the lowest number in Tasmania since July 2017.

15,561 residential blocks are sitting vacant across Tasmania with 1083 of these blocks in the Kingborough municipality.

Lyons MP Rebecca White said "With 15,561 vacant blocks across, there is so much opportunity to make a positive difference to Tasmania's housing crisis, yet the Liberals are failing to act".

"The process to develop new houses could be far easier to navigate," Ms White said.

"Vacant land could be purchased by the government to build social housing, or they could start building houses on the Fast Track Land Supply blocks that parliament approved from 2018."

Minister for Planning Michael Ferguson said the Government is providing significant support to ensure an ongoing pipeline of land supply.

"We are providing grants of up to $10,000 per lot for private landowners to develop land zoned for residential use to help cover the cost of power, water and sewage infrastructure," Minister Ferguson said.

"Under Labor, the average monthly building approvals was 197, compared to 253 per month for the last 8 years under the Liberal Government.

"There was no demand for extra housing under Labor because people were leaving the State in droves looking for jobs."

Master Builders Tasmania CEO Matthew Pollock said not enough land is being released for the builders he represents to construct the houses Tasmania so desperately needs.

A spokesperson from Homes Tasmania stated "The Tasmanian Government is committed to increasing the supply of affordable residential land and affordable and social housing options in Tasmania".

"The Huntingfield Land Release Project is a key element of Tasmania's Affordable Housing Action Plan 2019-2023 and will ultimately deliver about 470 lots for new housing," the spokesperson said.

"A planning permit has been issued by Kingborough Council for Stage 1 of the development, which will deliver over 200 lots.

"An early release of about 30 lots has been approved by Kingborough Council."

Minister for State Development, Construction and Housing Guy Barnett stated the Housing Land Supply Act provides a fast-track mechanism for activating surplus government land for new residential development.

"A Housing Land Supply Order provides a secure pathway to re-zone land where it is demonstrated that the land is suitable for residential use, without the risk for lengthy planning delays," Minister Barnett said.

"Once the rezone has occurred, any future subdivision is then subject to normal Council planning processes."

Acreage by the sea

This quintessential seaside cottage is positioned on a lovely 9.5 acres of cleared land with some bush, directly opposite the waterfront.

Cherished by the same family for almost 40 years, the home is neat and tidy with beautiful views from every window.

Set well back from the road, peace and privacy is assured and there are minimal trees to block the expansive views, with just enough foliage planted and retained to provide protection from the weather when needed.

With a cute and cosy feel throughout, the home offers a large living room with access to the front deck, a perfect spot to contemplate activities for the day ahead or feed the local birds.

The main bedroom has a handy walk-in robe, there's an extra room used for crafts or study and the sunroom provides a bright and sunny space for family gatherings.

Surrounded by pretty, well-established gardens, harvest your very own fruits, berries and flowers or create a flavoursome evening meal with leaves from the healthy Bay Tree.

There is an abundance of outbuildings on the land, one of which is a shed conversion with a wood heater, providing extra multi-use space.

Boating enthusiasts will love the nearby ramp which allows easy access up the Huon River or the D'Entrecasteaux Channel, boasting some of the best cruising waters in the world.

Head over to Bruny Island in a tinny or kayak or sail the Channel region at your leisure enjoying one of the multiple anchorages adjacent to national parks and pristine beaches.

Take your pots down to Partridge Island and catch fresh rock lobster, fish for flaties, watch the occasional whale or even hike from a protected bay to master the surf on the other side of south Bruny.

A popular holiday home location or a permanent paradise, the diving, beaches and seafood in the area create a fantastically appealing lifestyle and environment.

Just a picturesque 25-minute drive from the vibrant township of Cygnet and only 50 minutes from the Hobart CBD, this enviable property presents a wonderful opportunity for an ideal retreat on the beautiful Southern Tasmania coastline.

"With Widex Moment Sheer, we've combined excellence in natural sound processing, engineering, and product design to establish a new standard in hearing technology," said Claudia Schiffhauer, VP Widex Brand.

The new solution also debuts Widex SoundRelax™, an expanded library of fractal sounds, which bring the calming effect of soft tones and modulated nature sounds to wearers with and without tinnitus.

To achieve most Natural Sound, Widex PureSound with ZeroDelay delivers the fastest sound processing available, eliminating artificial sound while making it easier for wearers to discern speech and place sounds around them.

The Widex Moment Sheer hearing aid solution features an enhanced version of MySound in the Widex Moment App, which was the first hearing aid application on the market where AI operates in real-time on the user's preferences, to create personalised listening experiences.

"At Widex, delivering on the perfection of natural sound means putting wearers in control of their hearing experience," said Claudia Schiffhauer, VP Global Head of Widex Brand.

"With the updated Widex Moment smartphone app, it's never been easier for wearers to get exactly the sound they prefer in the moments most important to them.

"Whether looking to adjust the volume, bass, middle, treble or compression of their hearing aids, personalise their listening intent, or unwind with relaxing tones, the Widex Moment app does it all through a sleek, simple-to-use interface.

"We are grateful to be recognized amongst an elite group of apps that make life easier for their users."

FREE* 15 minute hearing check for adults during March

"My message to those who are struggling with hearing loss is don't hesitate, just get a test. Being able to engage in conversation with people, family and friends, is so much more important."

Les, Hearing Australia client

Hearing Australia

Hearing loss diagnosis and treatment could be life changing

The number of Australians with hearing loss is expected to double over the next 35 years, and by 2050 one in four Australians are expected to be impacted.

Aging is a major factor in hearing loss. Currently in Australia, over half the population aged between 60 and 70 have impacted hearing, increasing to more than 70 per cent of those over the age of 70; and 80 per cent of those over the age of 80. Research conducted by the National Acoustic Laboratories on behalf of Hearing Australia found that undiagnosed and untreated hearing loss can significantly impact a person's quality of life. They often feel isolated, their relationships suffer and many experience a loss of identity, withdrawing from the things and people they love. Thankfully, once diagnosed and treated, people see improvement in their relationships and well-being, and can participate more fully in activities, reconnecting with those around them. This was the case for 67-year-old mother of two and grandmother of six, Daphne Terry, until she was fitted with a hearing aid by her local Hearing Australia centre. "I missed so many sounds, particularly listening to the sea, the sounds of nature and chatting with my kids and grandkids. "My grandkids now realise when I haven't got my hearing aids in, as I don't hear them properly. "I feel like I'm not missing out on so much anymore," shared Daphne. During 2021-22 Hearing Australia supported more than 270,000 children and adults with hearing loss. "Hearing loss affects nearly 3.6 million Australians and there are often simple treatments, equipment or services that can improve a person's hearing so that they can continue to live the life they want to," said Managing Director of Hearing Australia Kim Terrell. To make it easy for more Australians to receive expert hearing care, Hearing Australia is hitting the road providing access to free* hearing checks for adults aged 18 and over, with the aim of delivering 1000 events across the country in March for their 'Hearing the Nation Tour'. A 15-minute check is the first step in understanding any potential hearing loss, and whether further assessment and diagnosis is required. People interested in accessing a free* hearing check are encouraged to search 'Hearing the Nation' to register for their nearest event. It's 15 minutes out of your day that could be positively life changing. * Only 15-minute hearing checks are free. Conditions apply under the Australian Government Hearing Services Program ('HSP').

Three Bakers Delight stores in the Hobart area have been placed under voluntary liquidation, including Kingston's store. # Book your COVID-19 booster vaccine

The Department of Health is encouraging eligible Tasmanians to book their next COVID-19 booster vaccine with a local immunisation provider to give them additional protection against severe COVID-19 ahead of winter.

From Monday, February 20 a 2023 COVID-19 booster is available for eligible people aged 5 years and older if they haven't had a COVID-19 vaccination or COVID-19 infection in the last six months.

Department of Health Deputy Secretary Dale Webster urged Tasmanians at greatest risk to book now to increase their protection against severe COVID-19 prior to winter.

"The booster is strongly recommended for older Tasmanians, and other adults at greatest risk of severe COVID-19 as soon as they are eligible," Mr Webster said.

"If you are an adult aged 65 years and over, aged 18 to 64 with a medical condition that increases the risk of severe COVID-19, or have a disability with significant or complex health needs - now is the time to book.

"If you are aged 18 to 64 years without risk factors for severe COVID-19, you should consider a 2023 booster dose in discussion with your immunisation provider.

"Parents and guardians of children and adolescents aged 5 to 17 years who have medical conditions that increase their risk of severe COVID-19, or disability with significant or complex health needs, should also consider a 2023 booster dose for their child, in discussion with their immunisation provider.

"Receiving the booster will increase your immunity to COVID-19 and mean you are less likely to get sick, become very unwell or die from COVID-19.

"There are more than 100 General Practices and 100 pharmacies providing COVID-19 vaccines across the state, and Tasmanians can find one near them using the Clinic Finder on the Department of Health website.

"So, if it's been six months since your last vaccine or infection, book your COVID-19 booster vaccine today by contacting your GP or local pharmacy."

All available age-appropriate COVID-19 booster vaccines are expected to boost immunity and increase protection against severe COVID-19.

However, bivalent mRNA COVID-19 vaccines - including the Moderna Bivalent and Pfizer Bivalent vaccines - are preferred over other vaccines.

A 2023 booster dose is not recommended for children and adolescents aged under the age of 18 who do not have any risk factors for severe COVID-19.

Those who have not yet had their primary course of vaccination followed by a booster dose for those eligible, continue to be recommended to do so, even if they have COVID-19 in the past.

To find a vaccination provider near you visit: www.covid-vaccine.healthdirect.gov.au or call the Public Health Hotline on 1800 671 738.

Feel the need for some company?

It is well-known that loneliness and social isolation are harmful to both mental and physical health.

If you could do with a bit more social time or would just like to get out of the house, you are invited to join 'Brunch with Us', for an informal chat and a cuppa every Monday from 10am until 12noon.

The atmosphere is social and welcoming, and the morning is unstructured.

Guests sit around tables, chatting and enjoying the company.

Some bring knitting or crochet to work on or spend time colouring in or reading the paper while they converse.

Throughout the morning, hot drinks and homemade snacks are served, and the session finishes with a cup of tasty homemade soup and a toasted sandwich.

The conversation is wide-ranging, with lots of laughter. The group includes both men and women, and children are welcome too.

No commitment is required and there is no cost involved, as the food is provided free of charge, and guests are encouraged to bring a friend.

If you're in the mood for a chat, or even if you just want to read the newspaper while listening to friendly conversation, why not head down to the Reception Centre, 100 Beach Road, Kingston, and check it out?

You can contact Timothy 0418 523 655 or Jeanette 0400 804 735 for more information, or just come as you are, everyone is welcome.

Kings Quarter apartments approved

Traders In Purple has welcomed the approval of its amended Development Application to build 50 apartments at Kings Quarter, Kingston.

Amendments to the design made in response to Kingborough Council's reasons for refusing the initial application in April 2022 include a reduction of the overall building height, alterations to the building facade, and provisions for more landscaping.

Traders In Purple Development Director Jennifer Cooper said the $30 million project would provide a boost to housing stocks in Greater Hobart and local dwelling diversity in Kingston.

"This Kings Quarter apartment stage will provide 50 new dwellings, as well as supporting around 180 jobs both on and off site during the construction phase, with positive flow-on effect to local businesses including suppliers, manufacturers and consultants," Ms Cooper said.

"This will ease pressure on Hobart's tight housing market, while also adding much needed dwelling diversity ideally located within walking distance to existing Kingston amenities."

Apartment sales are expected to commence during the first half of 2023 and Ms Cooper said demand was expected to be high, particularly following all 80 homes in Stage 1 of the project selling out 12 months in advance.

"The two and three-bedroom park front apartments will appeal to a wide range of demographics, and based on Stage 1 sales, purchasers are expected to be a mix of downsizers, local owner occupiers, and investors," Ms Cooper said.

"Traders in Purple is very proud to be partnering with the Kingborough Council and local businesses to revitalise the site of the old Kingston High School, and to be providing high quality housing into the market."

In addition to the residential stages, a development application has been lodged with Council for a commercial office building at Kings Quarter, providing new employment opportunities in the Kingborough region.

Call out for Youth Action

Kingborough Council is calling for Expressions of Interest for young people to join Youth Action Kingborough (YAK).

Kingborough Mayor, Paula Wriedt said YAK provides an opportunity for young people to be involved in Council activities and helps develop leadership skills.

"YAK is actively involved with our community projects and works closely with our Community Development team to help initiate, organise and plan events," Cr Wriedt said.

Ideas raised through YAK have motivated many great events such as the youth markets and drop-in sessions which create friendly spaces for young people here in Kingborough.

"YAK meets once a month in Kingston at our fantastic Kingborough Community Hub."

To join YAK you must be:

- Between 12 and 25 years of age
- Committed to attending monthly meetings (Tuesday or Thursday tbc)
- Living or studying in Kingborough.

If you, or a young person you know, is interested in joining YAK, contact Clare Scallon at kc@kingborough.tas.gov.au or phone 6211 8200

EDITION OF THE HUON NEWS

FRANKLIN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1968.

SNUG C.W.A. ANNUAL MEETING

THE Annual Meeting of the Snug Country Womens Association was held at Mrs D. M. Balcombe's home in Gillies Street last week.

Officers elected: President, Mrs R. Roberts; Secretary, Mrs M. Balcombe; Treasurer, Mrs Flakemore; Vice Presidents, Mrs J. Wiggins and Miss D. Bisdie; Auditor, Mr K. Crane.

THE St Johns Church Guild meeting was held at Mrs J. Wiggins home, Torpy Avenue Snug. There was only a small attendance.

Canon and Mrs Atkins of Kingston were present. The Canon described the proposed plan of the new church to be built at Snug. It would consist of a chapel and hall, divided by double doors. The hall will be used for meetings. At present, the Guild meetings are being held at members' homes.

The Canon said they were seeking Sunday School teachers to take on the Sunday School. The morning church at Snug is now being held at 8 a.m. at the new Catholic Church.

The provision of an extra reservoir to give a better water supply to Blackmans Bay residents, on high levels, is planned by the Metropolitan Water Board and it depends on loan funds when the work can be done.

CHOSEN FOR SYDNEY SHOW CAMP

MR PAUL GEARD of Kingston, a prominent member of Rural Youth in Tasmania, won a competition to attend the Sydney Show camp of ten days duration, beginning the first week in April.

One member was chosen from each of the four Rural Youth areas in Tasmania, and a panel of judges in Hobart selected Paul from five candidates in the Southern area.

Rural youth members from all parts of Australia will take part in stock judging and talks, and will be judged on their merits. About 40 per cent of the points will count for service to the rural youth movement generally. Paul is vice president of the South Channel and of the Southern Area. ## SERVICE OF THE WEEK

Tassie Tree Climbers is owned and operated by Shaun Norris and his wife Katie. Shaun is a Huon Valley local and has spent most of his life climbing trees.

What started as a hobby eventually turned into a bigger venture, with Shaun organising recreational tree climbs with fellow enthusiasts and volunteering his rigging services for parties and events.

After deciding to move on from his former wildlife keeping career, Shaun began working full time as a tree climber for a large Tasmanian company.

After several years of full time tree climbing and after starting a family of his own, Shaun took the plunge and started his own business.

Depending on the size of the job, Shaun works alongside a crew of fellow tree climbing enthusiasts. They assist with groundwork, chipping, rigging, as well as climbing.

All representatives of Tassie Tree Climbers are experienced, qualified, insured, and passionate about tree work!

Tassie tree climbers can attend your business or property to provide a free quote on jobs ranging from basic pruning through to large scale removals and generally complete jobs with a small ground crew to ensure safety, efficiency and professionalism

Waste can be removed from site if desired and are happy to assist with blocking felled trees for firewood. Chipping can also be arranged on site if required.
