Lower limits fall on deaf ears

Channel residents' calls for more consistent speed limits in their towns appear to be falling on deaf ears, with no response from the State Government to a petition tabled in Parliament a year ago.

Residents in Kettering and in Snug have been pushing for lower speed limits on the Channel Highway and, with the assistance of Dean Winter, residents and their community organisations set up a petition to the State Government.

Hundreds of locals in the D'Entrecasteaux Channel region signed the petition, which calls for a consistent 50km/h speed limit in towns on the Channel Highway.

Labor Member for Franklin Dean Winter tabled the petition in March last year.

Mr Winter said it was disappointing the Government was ignoring residents' concerns.

"The fact the Liberal Government has not responded to people who have taken the time to collect signatures in their local area is really disappointing," said Mr Winter.

"It's now been 12 months since they received the petition.

"Residents in Kettering and Snug want to boost road safety in their towns and they have been pushing for this for a long time," Mr Winter said.

He said locals had told him of near misses when pulling out of side streets or driveways, especially in Kettering where bends and hills make it harder to see oncoming vehicles.

Currently the speed limit through Kettering and Snug is 60km/h while in Margate and Woodbridge it is 50km/h and the petition calls for a 50km/h limit for town areas on the Channel Highway.

"These towns are growing and there are more people out and about," Mr Winter said.

"Consistent speed limits would improve safety, including for visitors who are not familiar with the road".

There was a similar long delay before the Government responded to another petition the locals ran, asking for a footpath to be installed in Kettering and local are quite frustrated that they are not getting a response.

The State Government was contacted for comment.

Dean Winter stands with Chris Palmer and Alan Gluyas from the Kettering Community Association, who say they are frustrated at the State Governments inaction to a petition calling for lower speed limits on the Channel Highway. (PS)

Open Play Space for Kingston

Kingston Park's Public Open Space was officially opened on Wednesday, March 8 marking the final stage of the playground's development.

Mayor Paula Wriedt said the project complemented the Kingston Park playground by providing open space for larger activities.

"The space will allow people an open area to play ball games together, enjoy the wonderful beginners pump track, participate in the outdoor gym zones or just stroll along pathways connected to the rest of Kingston," Cr Wriedt said.

Mayor Wriedt said the open space area was officially kicked off with the hosting of the inaugural 'Day at the Park' celebrations, held on Monday March 13. The completion of the project marks the final stage of the Kingston Park Playground's development.

- The open space area includes:
- Beginners asphalt pump track
 - 1.6km of shared pathways (including 300m of kids learn-to-ride track)
 - 2 undercover BBQ shelters
 - Stone gathering circle
 - Two-tiered viewing platform
 - 3 gym equipment areas
 - Public toilet block
 - Connecting path to Whitewater Creek track.

Kingston Park builds on Council's vision to create a diverse range of engaging open spaces for the community that encourage social participation and connection in an attractive environment. (PS)

Interactive tales told by locals

Families of all shapes and sizes gathered to celebrate the launching of a new StoryWalk at Dru Point in Margate.

The featured book 'Travelling Tasmanian Tigers' is an all-ages tale told via ten interactive and fun panels placed along the meandering walkway, celebrating special places and native animals around our beautiful island state lutruwita/Tasmania.

Hosted a Kingston Library and created by local author/artist Margie Kirk, the new StoryWalk is in fact the third book to be placed here.

The first two books were imagined by another talented author/artist Sonia Strong, 'Tazzie the Turbo Chook' and 'The Boobook Nook' will be placed in other picturesque locations around Kingborough.

The launch of the new StoryWalk addition was made possible by a varied consort of contributors including Friends of the Library Kingston, Kingborough Council with a Community Grant, Allyson Ekin, Kingborough and Huon Buisiness Enterprise Centre and The Channel Mens Shed.

To keep an ear out for the next StoryWalk adventure be sure to follow Kingston Library on your socials or pop on down to speak to one of their friendly staff.

Discover the history of Kingborough Golf Club House

When the first penal colony in Norfolk Island closed between 1807 and 1813, many of the convicts and free settlers were sent to Van Diemen's Land.

Many of them were given land grants here. Ann Ricketts, Browns River History Group's (BRHG) first speaker for the year, has been very interested in the Norfolk Island colonisers who came to the local area, from Sandy Bay to Browns River.

One real point of interest is the first Kingborough Golf Club House.

The story of this little cottage on the golf course goes way back before the creation of the golf course, when it was the home of John Folley, a marine private in Sydney who was a first fletcher.

He moved to Norfolk Island and worked as a stonemason there, until he left to come to Hobart in 1808.

Ann Ricketts will be delivering a talk about John Folley's interesting story and how he ended up building his cottage on land in Browns River (now Kingston) and the history of the cottage since then.

The talk will be held on March 20 in the Library Learning Centre at 8 Hutchins Street (old Kingston Primary School) in Block A Room A1 from 3 pm to 4 pm.

Ann Ricketts is Browns River History Group's first speaker for the year. (PS)

School closures averted

Last week, members of the Australian Education Union (AEU) from across the state were set to stop work on Friday, March 10 from 1.30pm, with the Tasmanian Government responding by closing all government schools from 1pm.

Instead, schools remained open on the day after the government finalised a revised teacher offer to AEU members.

Minister for Education, Children and Youth Roger Jaensch said negotiators worked tirelessly to ensure a resolution was achieved and schools could operate as per normal timetabling on Friday.

"I would like to thank families and students for their patience during this process, and I am pleased to announce schools will be open as normal on Friday," Minister Jaensch said.

"Importantly, our hardworking education staff will shortly have the opportunity to vote on an offer that will give them a fair and affordable pay rise, as well as additional in-class support roles and improved support for early career teachers."

Australian Education Union Tasmania President David Genford said the Government could have avoided any school closure confusion or inconvenience by providing an offer with in-class support earlier.

"The only time the Rockliff Government has shifted is when stop work action is on the table," Mr Genford said.

"It should not have taken a planned walk-off and strong union action for the Government to deliver students what they desperately need.

"It also shouldn't have taken 18 months for the Rockliff Government to act on the need for more in-class support in schools and colleges as teachers increasingly walk away from the profession citing burnout.

"We will now carefully consider the revised offer and determine whether the promised in-class support measures help meet the needs of educators, who for more than 18 months, have had their untenable working conditions ignored by this government," Mr Genford said.

Councils visit upgraded water treatment plant

TasWater hosted Council representatives on a tour of the upgraded Bryn Estyn Water Treatment Plant (WTP) last week, allowing a look behind the scenes at this essential asset to the community.

Representing Kingborough was the Kingborough Council's General Manager Gary Arnold.

Located at Plenty in the Derwent Valley, the Bryn Estyn WTP is Greater Hobart's primary source of drinking water, providing around 60 per cent of the water supplied to customers in the communities of Hobart, Glenorchy, Clarence, Brighton, Derwent Valley, Kingborough, Sorell and the Southern Midlands.

The upgrade is TasWater's largest ever capital works project and will see improved drinking water reliability and long-term availability for the next 50 years. The upgrade allows for further capacity to be added to meet the increased demand as Hobart's population grows.

The original plant was built in 1962 and construction on the upgrade commenced in mid-2021.

With all major structures and buildings completed, the focus is now on completing the electrical and mechanical installations prior to commissioning the new infrastructure.

By increasing capacity and modernising infrastructure, the upgrade will improve operational efficiency and enable the reliable supply of 160 million litres of water per day to 200,000 customers in Greater Hobart.

The upgrade is TasWater's largest ever capital works project and is set to provide improved drinking reliability for the next 50 years. (PS)

MyState Foundation grants open

Applications for the 2023 MyState Foundation Grants are now open to Tasmanian charitable organisations to help to build a brighter future for young Tasmanians.

MyState Managing Director and CEO Brett Morgan said grants between $1000 and $10,000 are now available.

"Through the Foundation, we have provided millions of dollars in grants to organisations that are making a genuine difference to young Tasmanians and helping them to reach their full potential," Mr Morgan said.

"We've seen exceptional outcomes from our grants, from helping thousands of youths through the Bridgewater PCYC, to boosting early intervention for children with hearing loss through the Shepherd Centre and giving a helping hand to young women chasing their employment dreams by supporting Dress for Success.

"I firmly believe that an investment in young Tasmanians today, is an investment that will keep on giving for generations to come."

MyState Foundation chair Bob Gordon said grant applications opened March 6 and would close on May 12.

"The beauty of the Foundation grants is that they can be used for a wide range of projects or investments, and that just amplifies the game-changing impact that we can have," Mr Gordon said.

"I encourage all eligible Tasmanian organisations to apply and take this opportunity to change the lives of even more young Tasmanians for the better."

To apply, you must be an incorporated Tasmanian not-for-profit with Deductible Gift Recipient status.

Successful applicants will be announced in June.

Road Safety Advisory Council partners with Hawthorn

The Road Safety Advisory Council (RSAC) and the Hawthorn Football Club has announced a new partnership in an effort to save young Tasmanian lives on our roads.

RSAC Chair Scott Tilyard said the partnership will see the RSAC and Hawthorn Football Club work together to promote safe driving behaviours and drive down road trauma within the community.

"As the Naming Rights Sponsor of the RSAC Tassie Hawks Cup, we have an opportunity to get into the ears and minds of young adults as they are about to begin their driving journey," Mr Tilyard said.

"Tragically, road trauma is the second leading cause of death for young Tasmanians aged 17 to 25, with more than 90 young Tasmanians seriously injured or killed on our roads each year.

"Getting in at the grassroots level like this means we can help influence attitudes and behaviours of young adults before they hit the road.

"If we can reach young drivers just as they are starting their driving careers, we hope they become responsible adult drivers throughout their lives.

"Sport, and in particular the RSAC Tassie Hawks Cup is a great way to do that because it gives us a direct line to the Tasmanian community and provides an opportunity to embed a culture of road safety across the state.

"And it's not just the players.

"Their friends, siblings and peers will all be watching and hopefully learning what being safe on the roads means," Mr Tilyard said.

The RSAC Tassie Hawks Cup is a two-day gala event for year nine and ten male and female football competitions in the north, north-west and south of Tasmania.

The event brings each region's top school teams together to play for the state title and honour of being the RSAC Tassie Hawks Cup champions.

Dedicated content focusing on key road safety issues will be shared on Hawthorn's digital and social media platforms, at UTAS stadium and on the ground engaging with school children across Tasmania.

Expansion to prescriptions

From March 6, Tasmanians who urgently require a new supply of their prescription-only medication can access a one-off supply from their local pharmacy in the event they are unable to access a renewed prescription.

The list of medications eligible for continued dispensing has been expanded to now cover hundreds of medications, including asthma puffers, statins, and medications for the management of chronic diseases such as diabetes and heart disease.

"What we see is Tasmania once again at the front of the pack when it comes to finding innovative solutions to reduce pressure not only on the primary care sector but also our emergency departments to ensure Tasmanians can access the right care at the right time," said the Premier and Minister for Health Jeremy Rockliff.

"These changes will not only directly benefit patients but provide greater capacity in the system for other GP/medical appointments," Minister Rockliff said.

BreastScreen Tasmania celebrates 30 years

BreastScreen Tasmania is celebrating 30 years of service, clocking up more than 755,000 screens, equating to almost one and a half times the entire population of Tasmania.

Since its commencement in February 1993, this service has provided free breast cancer screening for women, diagnosing more than 3600 breast cancers.

BreastScreen Tasmania Director Dylan Sutton commended the service and its staff for its achievements.

“Over the last 30 years, BreastScreen Tasmania and its brilliant staff have been delivering life-saving services to women across the state - and we plan to continue doing so for generations to come,” Mr Sutton said.

“A recent report showed that Tasmania is leading the country for breast screening, for the target age group of 50-74 years, sitting at 10 per cent above the national participation rate.

“This great result is possible thanks to our very dedicated team who work in our clinics in Hobart and Launceston and travel to 30 regional and rural communities with our mobile screening buses all year round.”

Breast cancer is the most common cancer diagnosed in Australia, with 75 per cent of all breast cancers occurring in women over the age of 50.

That is why women aged 50 to 74 are recommended to screen every two years and should check when they are due, Mr Sutton said.

“We strongly encourage women in the 40-74 age group who have never been screened to book an appointment with BreastScreen Tasmania at the earliest opportunity.”

BreastScreen Tasmania can be contacted on 13 20 50 to make an appointment.

WILDERNESS WEDDINGS TASMANIA NAT WEAVER

What began as a novel way to visit her mum on Flinders Island, has now become a work of passion for Nat as she has transitioned from full time State Government employee to marriage celebrant, and now to wedding planner for her home grown Tasmanian small business, Wilderness Weddings Tasmania.

Nat first began as a Life Celebrant just over five years ago, her first wedding on the remote and beautiful Flinders Island, where her mum and extended family reside.

A great opportunity for a paid trip to see the relatives ignited a spark in her that she was yet to find in her working life, having spent a number of years wondering if she was ever going to find that 'thing'.

After spending four years as a celebrant during a time that saw many industries suffer with the effects from Covid, Tasmania was lucky enough to see an influx of couples coming to the state to get hitched due to strict border closures in the other states.

Exhausting and demanding work due to the huge increase in the popularity for elopements, which ultimately gave Nat the opportunity to purchase Wilderness Weddings from the founder who, based in the North of the state, felt it time to hand over the reins to take a break and to hopefully allow someone to take the business through to its next phase.

Nat had already been working with Wilderness Weddings at this time as a celebrant, and was more than excited to breathe some new life into this beautiful business and expand on an already fantastic business model that creates magical, one of a kind, intimate elopements and micro weddings in luxurious remote locations all around Tasmania.

Wilderness Weddings is a new way kind of celebration for modern lovers.

It is a new way to celebrate your love, by following your own path, Wilderness Weddings helps to create your dream wedding the way it was meant to be.

For intrepid adventure – lovers or solitude seekers, Nat and her team of photographers, videographers, hair and makeup artists and caterers ensure that the day is pure and authentic.

Nat is proud of what her company stands for, ensuring that the team of outstanding vendors that come together on the day of the wedding, fully align with her company ethos and values.

Wilderness Weddings, the sustainable, all-inclusive answer for those wanting to celebrate their love, while appreciating the endless beauty of nature in this beautiful state that we get to call home.

Born in the Hunter Valley, her great love of travel, adventure and challenge saw Carolyn Holmes and her family move to the Huon Valley three years ago to start a new business venture which involved the mammoth task of converting the iconic hop kiln and barn at Clifton Ranelagh into a restaurant – The Kiln, an outbuilding to a micro distillery – deQuetteville Distillery, redecorating the homestead's Bed and Breakfast business – Clifton Homestead, and revitalising the surrounding grounds.

This project has neared its completion, and it is a credit to all involved in its fruition.

She has been mindful of the historic and the local importance of the property and has been committed to ensuring that this wonderful property becomes a welcoming space for local, state, interstate and international visitors to be able to enjoy the beautiful surroundings and enjoy our food, spirit and comfy beds.

Now that the refurbishment has been completed Carolyn is handing the baton of The Kiln to Chef Joanna and her dedicated team, deQuetteville Distillery and Clifton Homestead to the family.

"We are all excited to welcome the world to Clifton so that we can showcase the best that Tasmania and The Huon has to offer," said Carolyn.

Architect designed, tree and sea change combined

There's no need to prioritise your heart's desires or compromise on quality of life with this beautiful property that will absolutely satisfy all your wants.

This home is a prime example of that overused real estate catch phrase, 'ticks all the boxes'.

1. I want to live in harmony with the natural environment, surrounded by native trees and abundant birds and wildlife. Tick.

2. I want to live near a protected waterway with a marina where I can keep my boat and go fishing or sailing in some of the best cruising waters in the world. Tick.

3. I want to live in an architect-designed, north-facing, quality-built home that is attractive, functional and warm. Tick.

Privately positioned off a quiet cul-de-sac on over 3300m² of low maintenance, sensitively planted and cultivated bush, is this impressive home, crafted in 2015.

Built to exacting energy efficiency standards with double insulation in the walls and ceiling, underfloor insulation, double glazing throughout and an extensive solar array, this home sits respectfully within its surrounds and has been created as a sustainable safe haven that only requires minimal logs burned per night to stay warm in winter.

Thoughtfully designed to maximise east to west airflow with doors that open onto decks on both sides, there will always be a sunny, shady or protected outdoor place to appreciate the pretty, well-treed garden.

Attention to detail is evident throughout with an appealing use of timber, from the Silver Wattle natural-edge windowsills to the rich Tasmanian Oak flooring and shelving, to the Spotted Gum decking that has been left to wear naturally in order to subtly blend.

Undercover, level entry is available via the carport, from here turn left or right to the bedrooms which are sensibly located at opposite ends of the home, each with a bathroom close by.

Head straight through to the large, open-plan living, dining and kitchen area and enjoy some of the thoughtful additions to this already fantastic space.

A huge walk-in pantry, cooktop which features induction as well as gas cooking, breakfast bar for casual dining and the fully opening kitchen window, which makes for easy food transfers during BBQs, all add an extra layer on top of this already stylish package.

There's even a shipping container included which is connected to power and water in case you'd like to create a studio with a view.

Embrace the unique lifestyle on offer in this sought-after location less than 35 minutes to the Hobart CBD with popular restaurants, cafés and the Bruny Island Ferry terminal nearby.

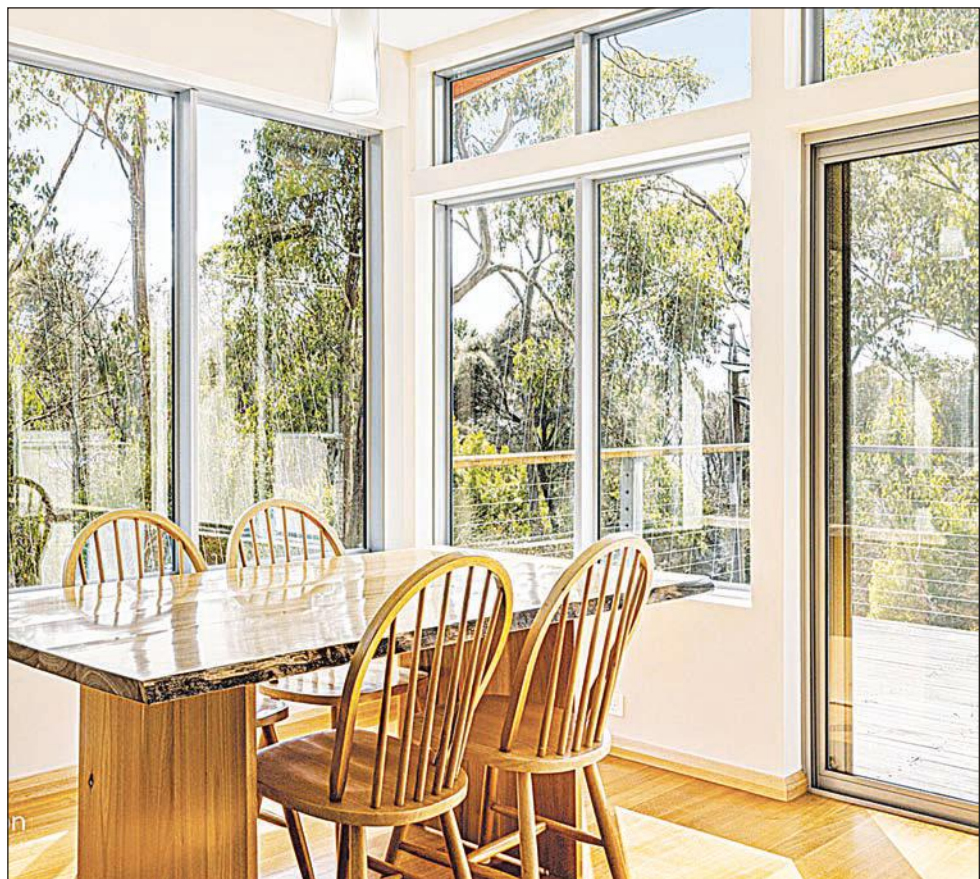

Kettering is a fast car or walk-on ferry trip to Bruny which is renowned for its foodie culture, pristine beaches and national parks.

The Oyster Cove Marina has berthing for approximately 300 boats, a boatyard with hard stand facilities and multiple onsite trades.

Take a walk out to Kettering Point along the coastal walking track that starts at the end of the driveway.

Pack a picnic and head further round the point to bewitching Trial Bay with its calm, shallow waters, great for beginners to learn kayaking or paddle boarding.

With a supermarket, schools and services all only ten minutes away, don't constantly rethink priorities or compromise anymore, call now to make it yours today!

Wedding Celebrant

- Helen Stewart -

Testimonial: "We had the privilege and pleasure of being married by Helen Stewart. As a celebrant, Helen was so incredibly warm, kind, welcoming and knowledgeable. Naturally, both my husband and I were quite nervous but with Helen's guidance, support and warmth we really enjoyed the experience prior to the wedding and during it. The ceremony itself was so tastefully hosted by Helen who made us to feel so comfortable, we were even made to laugh during it! We feel so lucky to have had such a positive experience and highly recommend choosing Helen as a celebrant for your big day. We hold such special memories of ours and we can't thank her enough for making it absolutely perfect, and making us feel right at home."

Phone 0418 355 561

Warm, genuine ceremonies filled with love

Helen Stewart is a local wedding celebrant who travels state-wide to host and celebrate a couple's most special day.

"I absolutely love people and thrive on making them happy, particularly on what is often the biggest, most exciting and often most nerve-racking day of their lives," said Helen.

"Nothing is more special than seeing two people in love tie the knot; whether they choose to be surrounded by their family and friends, or to have a small, intimate elopement."

A wedding is often what people dream of their whole lives, and Helen does everything to make it perfect for them; making the couple feel comfortable during the lead up, and on the special day.

Helen believes her warm character and genuine love of people puts her in good stead to ensure the couple marrying feels right at home from their first meeting, all the way through to the signing of their marriage papers.

"Organised, detail-focused and confident with people from all walks of life, I know I can make the special day exactly how it's been envisioned," said Helen.

"Weddings are all about special moments, and as a host, creating a calm, happy atmosphere for the couple and guests is of utmost importance."

"I look forward to planning with you, supporting you, and ultimately, celebrating the life and love you share with your partner."

Kingborough embracing equity

Around 50 guests attended the 2023 International Women's Day Gala Dinner on Wednesday, March 8 held at the Beach House in Blackmans Bay.

Hosted by the Kingborough and Huon Business Enterprise Centre, this year's dinner marked the 6th consecutive year of the International Women's Day Dinner.

This year's campaign theme is "Embrace Equity", and the special guest speaker was Mel Bush from ABC Radio Hobart.

Mel currently resides on Tasmania's east coast and shares her time between ABC Radio and her Hobart hospitality business, the historic Cascade Hotel.

In her speech, Mel gave an insight into her beginnings in radio and journalism and the initial difficulties and barriers she faced.

The International Women's Day's campaign "Embrace Equity" encourages conversations on why equal opportunities aren't enough and why equal isn't always fair.

"As humans, everyone starts from a different place, so for true inclusion and belonging to occur, equitable action needs to occur," said Kerry Muller from the Kingborough and Huon Business Enterprise Centre.

"We also had a number of local businesses donate lucky door prizes which were extremely appreciated."

MC for the night was Mikala Grosse of Business South, and the evening included dignitaries Labor Members for Franklin David O'Byrne, and Dean Winter, Independent Member for Nelson Meg Webb, Cr Paula Wriedt, Mayor of Kingborough Council and Cr Clare Glade Wright, Deputy Mayor of Kingborough Council.

The Bruny Island rink of Greg Munday with Geoff Eddington, Max Burslem and Leigh Higgins got up 18-15.
