Discussions on council budget

Kingborough Council has adopted its 2023/24 budget which will see a 4.5 per cent general rate increase and a 7 per cent commercial and industrial rate increase.

"Kingborough Council ran a six-week consultation with the community on the draft 2023/24 budget which yielded feedback from 107 people through submissions and survey responses," said Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt.

"In our public consultation process 50 per cent of survey respondents said the rate rise was about right and 5 per cent of community said it was too low.

"The consultation also highlighted that road construction and maintenance was one of the most important roles for Council.

"This year, Council has allocated approximately $6.8 million for capital projects in road construction, resheeting, footpath upgrades and kerbing across Kingborough.

"We've also adapted our budget response to address issues raised through our public consultation process.

"Public consultation highlighted that Council's $100,000 Margate Masterplan, planned for 2024/25, needed to be brought forward."

Survey respondents were asked if there was anything they would like to add about the budget.

60 responses were received, 18 of which pertained to Margate.

16 of these comments raised concerns about pedestrian and road user safety in the area.

"I want to thank the community for their honest and clear responses through our consultation, which influenced Council's decisions on the budget," Cr Wriedt said.

Feedback on Kingborough Council budget

The Kingborough community was invited to submit feedback on the 2023/24 budget. President and secretary of Blackmans Bay Community Association (BBCA) Louisa d'Arville asked whether Kingborough Council would bring compostable dog poo bags to Kingborough in the next budget round.

"We are pretty sure we can already predict the responses we will receive," Louisa wrote in the submission.

"Ones such as 'compostable bags won't fit in the newly fabricated bins' or 'the FOGO collection service can't access the bin locations' or 'this is not in the FOGO bin collection contract until 2030'.

"There are so many questions around this - are compostable bags okay in the FOGO system (other councils say yes), is the risk of contamination with non-compostable bags too high?"

"The BBCA implores Councillors to actively get answers from the General Manager about what the Council's end/future game is here."

The Kingborough Chronicle reached out to Kingborough Council for response.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said that compostable dog poo bags and bins around Kingborough would be considered in a future report.

"Whilst reducing plastic waste is wonderful and part of Council's waste strategy, there are many financial and resourcing costs that would need to be considered before any new service could be created," Cr Wriedt said.

"To add a FOGO collection round onto the public place bins would mean that new trucks and service routes would have to be integrated into operational costs.

"Currently, our FOGO bin collection service is a fortnightly amenity that would be insufficient to deal with the dog poo waste in public bins.

"Council would have to create a new service collection, especially for the dog poo bins, which would come at a cost of around $220,000 a year to service.

"This is an extra cost to our ratepayers and Council is very conscious of trying to keep costs down, especially with cost-of-living pressures only increasing for everyone.

"If Council wanted to use compostable bags in replacement of the plastic ones currently used in our public place bins they would come at an extra cost of $28,000 yearly and only go into landfill.

"Compostable bags cannot break down in landfill, they need the right composting conditions to work, so until we have a full service, we would only be adding cost without the environmental benefit.

"Currently, Council is trialling stand-alone dog poo bins in Kingston Park, in the new open area, which will provide us with options in the future should a decision be made to invest a new service.

"In order to make the right decision for everyone a Council report will be provided to a future Council Meeting, where Councillors can consider the economics and serviceability for installing compostable dog poo bags and bins around the community."

SOUTH BRUNY

Upgrades to Cape Bruny

Works on the Cape Bruny Lighthouse Car Park and Access Project at South Bruny National Park will begin this month.

"Our government is investing $1.7 million as part of the Parks Powering Regional Economies plan, to provide improved access to the historic site's museum and amenities via a new car park and all-abilities walkway," Minister for Parks Roger Jaensch said.

"The new car park features improvements in traffic flow and pedestrian safety, as well as providing increased parking, including disability parking spaces, and provision for coach and motorcycle parking."

Tasmanian civil construction company Andrew Walter Constructions (AWC) has been engaged to deliver the civil works.

These works will support 15 Tasmanians employed by AWC and another 25 sub-contractors from up to seven Tasmanian businesses.

"The works follow the completion of new public toilets at the site in 2019 and other works at the Bruny Island Neck, which delivered a new public toilet, car park and beach access walkway," Minister Jaensch said.

Cape Bruny Lighthouse will remain open during the works however visitors should expect the chance of minor delays.

The Blackmans Bay Community Association learned to make biochar in a recent workshop. (PS)

BLACKMANS BAY

Learning to make biochar

The Blackmans Bay Community Association (BBCA) invited Cristina from 'The New Black Biochar' to help them run a small workshop in Blackmans Bay.

The group made hundreds of litres of biochar from the she oak prunings collected at the community garden.

Biochar is made by layering wood in a kiln and restricting oxygen to the fire so that it burns hot with almost no smoke. Before it turns to ash it is completely doused in water, leaving behind useful charcoal or biochar.

"The charcoal is then 'charged' with nutrients, perhaps from weed tea, worm castings, seaweed or fish fertiliser," said Louisa d'Arville, the president and secretary of the BBCA.

"It can be used to add to your compost, or straight into your garden beds.

"In sandy soil like we have in Blackmans Bay it helps by holding a huge cache of nutrients for your plants that the silica in sandy soil just can't hold onto."

Other applications include using it before it has been charged to feed to livestock and to line rubbish bins.

"Coming up to winter solstice, people might like to think about how they go about their bonfires, maybe they can get more out of it than a pile of ash at the end," Louisa said.

Making biochar is a way to lock up carbon rather than releasing it into the atmosphere as you would in a normal, backyard bonfire.

Biochar is made by layering wood in a kiln and restricting oxygen to the fire so that it burns hot with almost no smoke. Before it turns to ash it is completely doused in water, leaving behind useful charcoal or biochar. (PS)

Landcare Action Grants now open

Landcare Tasmania is delivering the next state-wide round of Landcare Action Grants opening in June.

These rounds of on-ground funding were set up by the state government in 2018 with the support of the Tasmanian Farmers and Graziers Association and Landcare Tasmania and will now offer vital support for landscape restoration projects across the state.

Applications will open from June 16 to July 31 and are open to a range of applicants including community groups, primary producers and landholders and land managers.

A further application round may be opened in late 2023 subject to funding availability.

In the first round, landscape restoration projects are a priority.

This includes projects which protect and enhance on-farm native vegetation, including planting new areas of native vegetation, protecting habitat, and maintaining and improving ground cover.

Other community projects, such as weed removal, fencing, fire management regimes and habitat augmentation are also eligible for funding.

The themes for projects in this grant round are: supporting enhanced land management practices, assisting the community to holistically manage natural and productive land and waterways, and providing opportunities for landholders to implement carbon farming initiatives.

Funding is available for projects that can be completed by June 2025.

The preferred funding amount is $5000 to $20,000 per project, but projects of outstanding merit requiring up to $40,000 of funding will be considered.

Those wishing to learn more about the application process, funding, and obligations, should visit https://www.landcaretas.org.au/landcare_action_grants

Jamboree On The Trail (JOTT) is an annual day for the World Scout Movement to hike together. Scouts across the globe participate in this event. This year, a group of North West Bay Scout Group Joey's and Scouts, along with their leaders and some parents, hiked to Cape Queen Elizabeth on Bruny Island. The Joey's (five to seven years of age) hiked 8.3km to the Arch and back, whilst the Scouts (11 to 14 year olds) ventured further afield and walked through to the end of the Cape track, walking around 14 kilometres. Many of the youth members earned walkabout badges for their effort. Playing in the sand dunes, admiring the views across the sea and climbing around the rocky archway were highlights of the trip.

New ownership for Better Performance Car Care

Long-established local automotive business Better Performance Car Care is thriving under the new ownership of Anthony Dikkenberg and Nicky Bransden.

Anthony and Nicky took the reins 12 months ago from Dale and Marree Wallace, and have continued the high quality workmanship for vehicle servicing and repairs.

Born and bred in Kingborough, Anthony has lived in the local area his whole life and his dad was a well-known local builder.

Anthony worked his way up through the automotive industry at a major European car dealership, starting as an apprentice and was promoted multiple times through to their service manager with over 30 direct staff.

Anthony took over Better Performance Car Care with his 23 years industry experience, along with his wife Nicky and their four children, all living in Kingborough.

Their two workshops, Margate and Kingston, share the load of automotive work from minor services through to major mechanical repairs.

The business uses quality products for servicing, including Penrite lubricants, to help your vehicle run as efficiently as possible.

Free drop off and pick up in the local area is available, and Better Performance are the country agent for RACT roadside.

Lifting literacy rates in Tasmania

The Tasmanian Government is investing in improving literacy outcomes in Tasmania following the government's Literacy Advisory Panel's final report.

Premier Jeremy Rockliff said the report outlines 23 priority recommendations for lifting literacy in Tasmania and provides a community-wide framework, which community organisations and others can use to align their literacy efforts and work.

"Our government wants every Tasmanian child to have the best possible opportunities in life, and our clear goal is for Tasmania to have 100 per cent functional literacy," the Premier said.

"That's why we have accepted all of the priority recommendations, with $6.5 million over four years allocated in the 2023-24 budget to start this important work.

"An independent Literacy Outcomes Monitoring Group, including a person with expertise in outcomes measurement, at least one Tasmanian with lived experience and a representative from the Australian Education Research Organisation, will be established to monitor progress and outcomes.

"Members of this group will be selected through an EOI process, which I expect to be finalised by September 2023.

"The Department of Premier and Cabinet will develop the first three-year implementation plan by later this year, in close consultation with the education and community sectors.

"The government will also ensure that 25 per cent of primary schools across Tasmania are implementing structured literacy for K-2 in 2024, with all primary schools to be implementing structured literacy by 2026."

The report made further recommendations to be considered in future years including: ongoing professional development in literacy for every teacher every year, giving Libraries Tasmania a bigger role in literacy development, and encouraging the Australian Government to develop and implement a national strategy to renew the adult language, literacy, numeracy and digital literacy education workforce.

From last week North West Bay Sea Scout Toby Barrett received the Queen's Scout Award at Government House, the highest award a youth member aged 15 to 18 can receive. Pictured here with Venturer leaders Isaac Smith and Pip Jarvis. (PS)

Stroke education campaign launch

International Men's Health Week ran from June 12 to June 18 and the Stroke Foundation has launched a campaign to educate Aussie blokes about stroke.

In 2020, 2153 people per 100,000 living in the Franklin electorate had experienced a stroke, 1204 male and 948 female. This is notably higher than the national average of 1922, and Tasmania's average of 2088 per 100,000.

The Bloke Beside You campaign highlights the F.A.S.T message, referring to the three primary indicators of stroke: Facial droop, Arms not working, and Slurred speech.

The T is a reminder that there's no time to waste calling an ambulance.

Successful treatment for stroke is time critical as without it, people can be left with permanent disabilities or may even die.

Stroke Foundation surveys 5000 Australians every year to gauge awareness of stroke.

When looking closely at each demographic after the most recent survey, Stroke Foundation CEO Dr Lisa Murphy said her team was surprised how far men lag behind women in recognising stroke.

"We now know that almost half of the men in this country would not know they were dealing with a stroke if they saw someone displaying the main signs," Dr Murphy said.

"That means roughly five million blokes may be a hindrance rather than a help in what is always a medical emergency."

"Men are quite often in need of a nudge when it comes to thinking about their health," said Director of the Centre for Male Health at Western Sydney University, Emma George.

"This International Men's Health Week we're encouraging men to make regular health checks a habit, and that includes the habit of educating themselves about stroke and other chronic diseases."

She said the Stroke Foundation campaign is a simple way to encourage men to lift their game.

Musician Andy Farrell will perform in a variety concert at Kettering Hall to raise funds for ShelterBox on July 2. ShelterBox is an independent charity started in Australia that provides a family tent, bush cooker and utensils, bedding, clothing, a solar panel and light etc. for people displaced by traumatic events. Building sustainable local school garden

Channel Christian School was one of 12 Tasmanian schools to receive a sustainability grant through the Keeping Australia Beautiful school grants program.

"We are so excited to have received a grant for our school gardening group," said Mrs Libby Hudson, the school chaplain.

"We are a growing primary school in the Channel area and with that growth our garden and composting program has exciting opportunities to expand."

The grant money is being invested into building a vertical edible garden filled with strawberries, herbs and salads. Individual composting tumblers for each building will be purchased so that students can access the gardens with ease. "These are both great opportunities for our students to engage in outdoor learning and understand sustainable practices that can positively impact our planet," said Libby.

A memorable moment for women's football

The Inaugural SFL Women in Football breakfast on Friday, June 9 was a resounding success, with an impressive turnout of 300 attendees at Wrest Point.

The event provided the perfect opportunity for players inducted to the All-Stars Series games to be formally recognised and awarded their playing guernseys before games on Saturday, June 10 and a double-header on Monday, June 12.

Kingborough's Marley Beaven, Priscilla Odwogo, Stacey Fox and Hailee Baldwin were selected for the initial squad. Maci Lancaster, Lucy Dalco, Matilda Dalco, Hayley Kluga and Ava Allanby represented Kingborough in the SFLW Under 20s squad on Monday, June 12.

Showcasing the growing popularity and recognition of women's football in the community, SFL President David O'Byrne said that this event is an opportunity to acknowledge the past while also celebrating the bright future of women's football.

"It is an opportunity for us to tell those players putting on a jumper and playing over the weekend that you're not just playing a game, you're representing the league and the south and also the hard work of a number of women who have come before you to build the game in Tasmania," Mr O'Byrne said.

"When you see the growth of the game and the hundreds of thousands of young girls who are now playing our game - to think that only twenty years ago, we were barely just starting a league and getting some teams together - it's important that we acknowledge those women who did the work and built the teams."

Mr O'Byrne also emphasised the importance of ignoring the politicisation of football that has been occurring recently and ensuring that people know "we define the game".

"It's not men in suits, it's the mum and dad who have their kids and come along to Auskick and junior footy and stay at the club long after the kids have finished playing footy," expressed Mr O'Byrne.

"It's the generations of families that live and breathe their football club and love and support the game and their club and the connections they make there.

"That's what football has done for me - provided the best lessons and opportunities in life.

"We won't be defined by other people, we will define football ourselves."

Backed up by strong performances and wins in the All-Stars Series matches over Saturday and Monday, this long weekend proved a memorable moment for women's football in the south.

Kingborough Tigers player Hayley Kluga received her guernsey for the All-Star Series SFLW Under 20s side.

Kingborough Tigers player Stacey Fox received her guernsey for the All-Stars Series SFLW team.

The Kingborough Bowls and Community Club was the host venue for the annual Kings' Birthday JMC Bowling Challenge. Teams across the state participated in the two day challenge. Pictured here are the winning team of Albie Norris, Josh Lording and Robert McMullen with club patron John Rosevear and Jason Fowler. (PS)

On Friday, June 9 65 guests enjoyed lunch and a fashion parade at the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club. The parade was presented by Australian fashion label Fella Hamilton from Sandy Bay. Pictured here are the models with Lori from Fella Hamilton. (PS)

Pickleball open in Kingborough

The Specsavers Pickleball Tasmanian Open was held at the Kingborough Sports Centre in Kingston over the King's Birthday long weekend with players from around Australia competing across 36 age and skill-based divisions.

Pickleball is a sport that combines elements of tennis, badminton, table tennis and squash that is becoming increasingly popular around Australia, and Tasmania is no exception.

Tournament chairperson Elton Broderick said "The game is social, fun and competitive all at the same time".

The state has experienced significant growth in the last three years with close to 400 registered playing members in 2023 and another couple of hundred regular casual players.

Whilst Kingston has the only official club, there are close to 20 community playing groups based all around Tasmania.

"Pickleball is a sport for all ages which was evident in the entries for this year's open," said Elton.

"From nine-year-olds to 79-year-olds, 172 competitors gave it their all as they battled for supremacy and the bragging rights that accompany a trip to the podium to be awarded a gold, silver or bronze medallion."

Of the 172 competitors, 29 came from interstate, but the medals were widely spread between locals, northerners and those from the mainland.

All players should be congratulated for having battled long and hard over the weekend in great spirit and fair play.

Some players took out multiple gold in their divisions and many others took home medals from across the gold, silver and bronze spectrum.

"A huge congratulations to those competitors, and a huge thank you to everyone who was involved in either organising, setting up, volunteering or competing in the event," said Elton.

"It was a huge effort but well worthwhile."

Elton said he was very grateful to the sponsors for their generous contributions and support of the event.

Sandy Hodge. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Channel Junior Football Club hosts Big Freeze

On Sunday, June 18 Channel Junior Football Club (CJFC) hosted a Big Freeze event raising money for Fight Motor Neurone Disease (MND).

The day included all six teams playing at home, with the first game starting at 9.15am and the last at 3pm.

All of the players wore blue MND socks and there were many Big Freeze beanies around too.

Other fundraising included a raffle, barbecue and everyone's favourite, the dunk tank.

Coaches and players braved the cold after each game; even a couple of the away team coaches took the plunge.

This is the second year CJFC have hosted the event and it is really enjoyed by all, drawing a big crowd and fun for everyone, on field and off.
