

Kingston story shines bright

Kingston High School student Jade Dickinson is the first Tasmanian writer, and also one of the youngest writers, to be published in a Minds Shine Bright anthology.

The anthologies feature winning and commended entries from the Minds Shine Bright writing competitions.

Jade's short story "Gindle's Spirit" will be published in Storm: Minds Shine Bright Season 1.

Proud parents Daphne and Andrew said Jade has been writing prolifically since she was 11 years old.

"She does all of her writing herself but has matured to the stage that she is prepared to have her work scrutinised and edited," they said.

"She is still writing for her own pleasure in between her studies at high school.

"We are very grateful to her Year 6 teacher Mrs Micaela Munday who encouraged Jade to enter her writing into competitions.

"Her first success was in the Tamar Valley Short Story Competition, where she won first prize for her story "Pippy", a true story documenting her rescue, raising and release of a baby wood duck.

"She entered the Minds Shine Bright competition when she was 12, and we were delighted when she received a commendation given the incredible pool of authors, both old and young, who entered from all around the world.

"We are extremely proud of her and hope she will keep writing whether it becomes her main career or not."

New Clark MP elected

The recount for the electorate of Clark which includes Taroona, Neika, Leslie Vale and Longley, was completed on October 24.

Former City of Hobart Alderman Simon Behrakis has been confirmed to the seat.

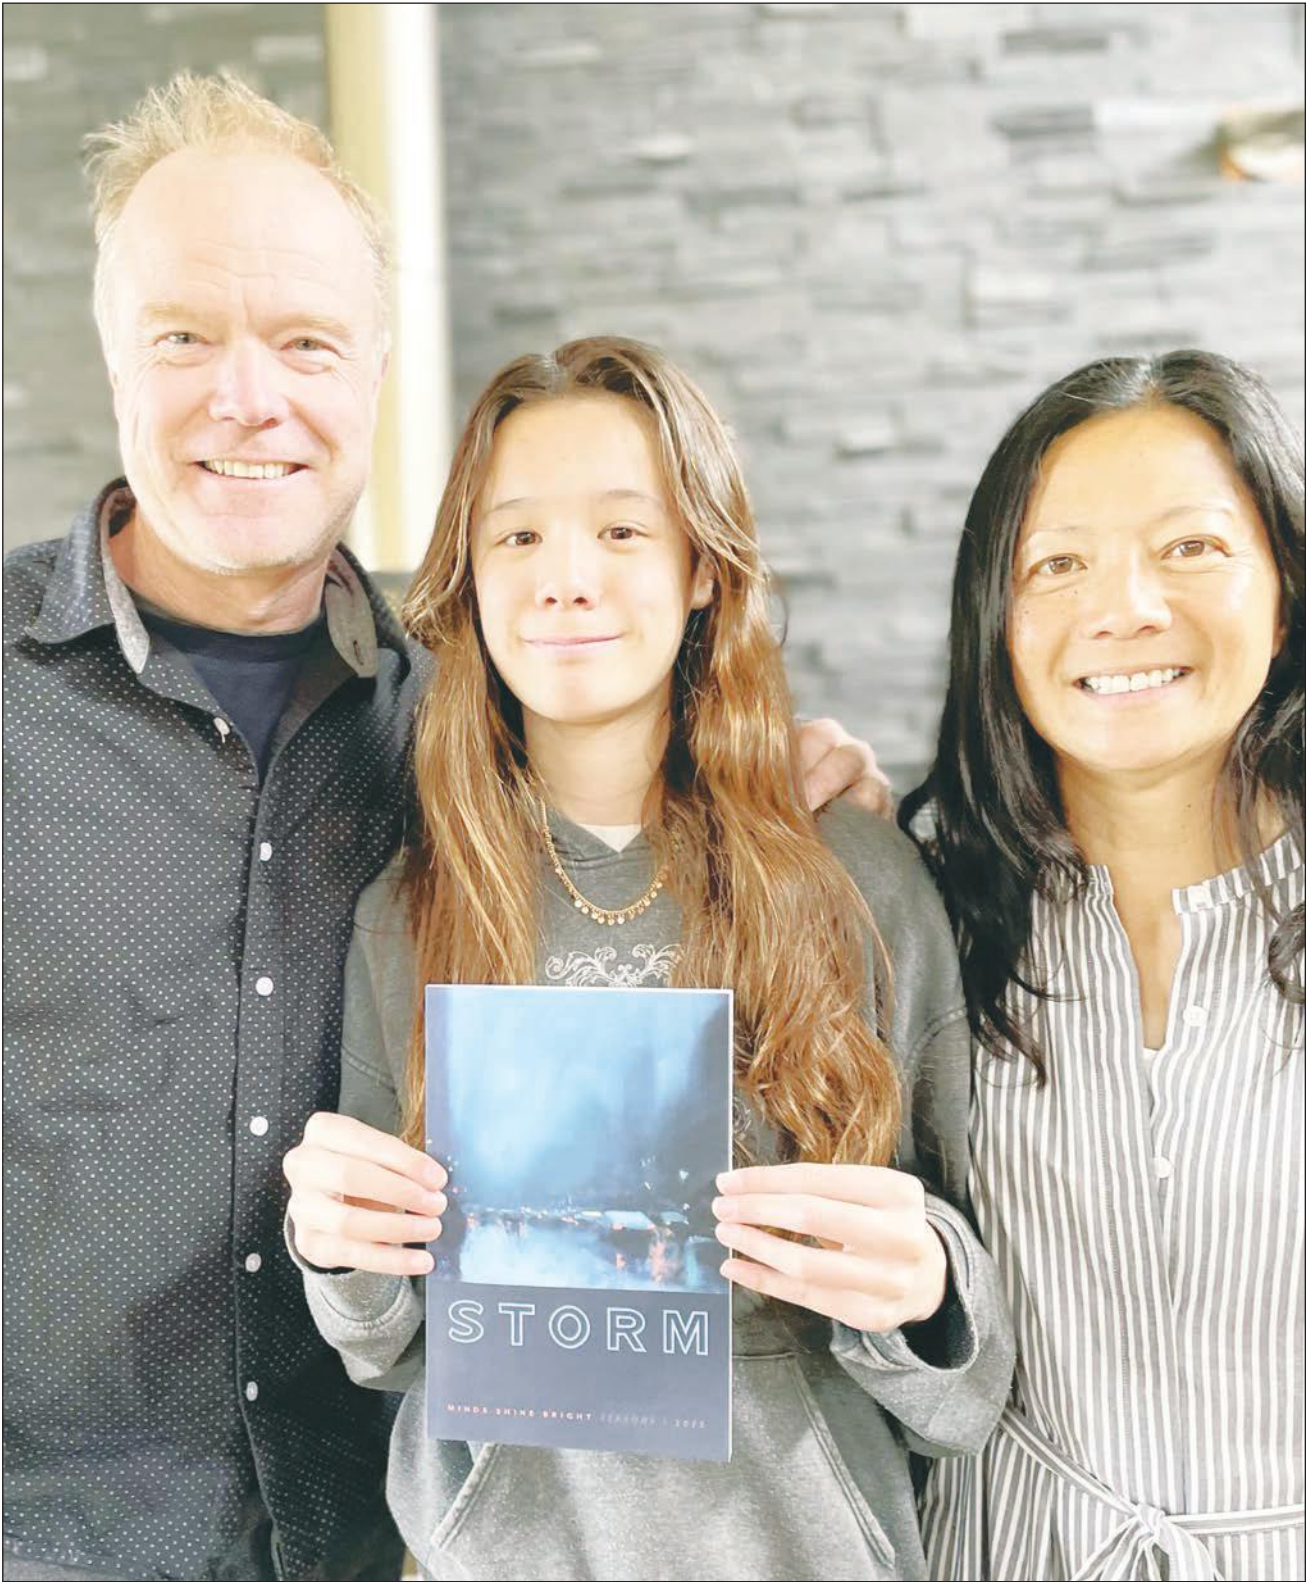

Simon's family are well-known in Kingborough, being the previous owners and developers of Channel Court Shopping Centre.

"I am excited to hit the ground running to deliver what matters for the people of Clark," Minister Behrakis said.

"This includes building our state's infrastructure to increase housing supply and reducing traffic congestion so that all Tasmanians, even our most vulnerable, can live, work and get around our state."

Premier Jeremy Rockliff said "Congratulations to Simon Behrakis, who will join the Tasmanian Government after successfully contesting the recount to represent the electorate of Clark".

Minister Behrakis joins Parliament after the resignation of Elise Archer following a bullying investigation.

Kingston High School student Jade Dickinson's short story "Gindle's Spirit" will be published in a Minds Shine Bright anthology. Jade is the first Tasmanian writer, and one of the youngest writers, to be published in one of these anthologies. Jade's story was selected for publication from a pool of writers from around the world. (PS)

Register for speed cameras

Kingston Police Inspector Colin Riley said he is frequently asked how to get a speed camera on a certain road to deal with speeding.

"The stationary speed cameras are not operated by Tasmania Police," Inspector Riley said.

"They are a service managed by the Department of State Growth.

"Tasmania Police receives the data for the detected offences and then sends out the infringement notices to the registered owner.

"State Growth have a register for speed camera locations and a form that community members can complete to request a location.

"If members of the public have any specific locations for speed camera requests, I suggest they complete the form in the first instance."

Members of the community can recommend locations for speed cameras by filling out a form in the 'Camera locations' tab of speedcameras.tas.gov.au

Inspector Riley said he has provided this to a number of residents and has noted speed cameras have then been located at sites requested.

A speed camera was placed at the Sandfly Road intersection along the Huon Highway at the suggestion of community members.

"From a police perspective, with operational taskings permit, we do try and establish a police officer mobile presence interdict offending drivers, however, it is difficult to be everywhere all the time," Inspector Riley said.

"The cameras are a fantastic way to aid to shape positive driver behaviour."

Bypass for local highways

A new bypass is being constructed to ease the connection between the Channel and Huon highways.

The new road will start near the junction of Orchard Avenue and the Huon Highway and connect with Flood Road near the corner of Sale Street.

Roundabouts will be constructed at the Orchard Avenue and Huon Highway junction, and at the intersection with Sale Street and Knights Road.

The Huon Link Road will open to traffic in early 2025, once construction of the entire project, including upgrading Flood Road, is finished.

"The new link road will provide a more efficient route for traffic connecting between the Huon and Channel highways," Federal Assistant Minister for Infrastructure and Transport and Senator for Tasmania Carol Brown said.

"This vital project will improve traffic flow and enhance pedestrian safety in the Huonville town centre and provide traffic a reliable alternative route when part of the Channel Highway is flooded."

Federal Member for Franklin Julie Collins said "I was proud to previously commit to this project back in 2013 and it's great to see works finally getting underway."

Helping Hands helping grant

Kingborough Helping Hands were excited to hear news that they have been successful in receiving a 2023 CommBank Staff Foundation Community Grant. The $10,000 grant will help support the vital work Kingborough Helping Hands do in the community. "Thank you to the staff at CommBank who participate in Workplace Giving; this grant wouldn't be possible without you," said Edna from Kingborough Helping Hands. "We were thrilled to pieces to get this money."

"Kingborough Helping Hands have started ordering goods for over 260 hampers this Christmas for those in need and this has helped considerably, as prices on goods and services keep getting more expensive and people are doing it tough." Kingborough Helping Hands welcomes any donations, especially in the lead up to Christmas. "It doesn't matter how small the donation is, we are grateful for all the support from the local community," Edna said.

FLOWERPOT Cultural burn local vineyard

Winemaker Dick Meure in Flowerpot partnered with James Shaw and the South East Tasmanian Aboriginal Corporation (SETAC) team for a cultural burn at his vineyard and house. Initially Mr Meure contacted the voluntary fire brigade for some backburning, but then thought of SETAC and approached them. Mr Meure said they were very happy to do it. "I thought a cultural burn was the way to go, and I'm very happy with what they've done," Mr Meure said. "They burn very sensitively. "It doesn't damage the wildlife, and the smoke they use is white smoke, rather than the blue smoke." Mr Meure reflected on the 2019-2020 bushfires which had a massive impact on the Channel region. "Once the smoke gets on the grape there's nothing you can do," Mr Meure said. "Every year Forestry Tasmania does burns and vineyards get ruined by smoke taint. "Local wine growers want Forestry to know about this hazard to their business." SETAC is providing cultural burns for many other properties around Kingborough and Hobart.

Celebrating 40 years

On November 10, 1983, 7RGY officially went to air for the first time.

For 10 years Geeveston Primary School was the radio's location until they relocated to the old fire station on School Road.

Kingborough came on board in 2008 and then the station became known as Huon and Kingston FM.

Its catchcry is 'The Southernmost Station in the Nation.'

Huon and Kingston FM, like all community radio, is run purely by volunteers who love the interaction with locals, broadcasting stories, history, notices and sometimes emergency services.

You have an opportunity to find out more about radio and meet some presenters, past and present, and the people behind the scenes who keep them on air.

Attend one of their 40th anniversary functions.

There will be something for you.

Bring the kids to the Geeveston Primary School's activity from 10am to 3pm Saturday, November 11.

SNUG

Community meet to discuss road safety

Approximately 60 people attended a community meeting in Snug about road safety concerns recently.

The meeting was convened by Member for Franklin Dean Winter to discuss safety flashpoints along the Channel Highway and share ideas for improvements.

Common themes residents raised included speed limits, pedestrian safety and accessing public transport.

The Government's study into safety issues between Algonia Road and Margate was released more than three years ago.

The report recommended lowering the speed limit from 90km/h to 80km/h on a stretch that includes the Howden Road intersection.

Mr Winter said that in Kettering and Snug, the locals have been pushing for lower speed limits but these concerns have been rejected.

"While some improvements require major changes, that does not apply to ensuring speed limits are appropriate," Mr Winter said.

Channel residents are also calling for safe pedestrian crossings along the highway, especially for accessing bus stops, local shops, and other services.

A particular worry for many is Margate, where a new shopping centre will bring in more traffic.

Kingborough Councillor Kaspar Deane told the meeting that safety measures required the Government to work together with the council and a master plan was to be developed for Margate.

Residents are currently campaigning for a shared path to be continued south of Snug, with many parents saying they feel cycling or walking to school is too dangerous for their children even though they live not far away.

Sports carnivals across Kingborough have been postponed due to the significant rainfall on Sunday, October 22. Several primary schools have postponed their sports carnivals including Snug Primary, Kingston Primary and Margate Primary. Most will take place this week. Parents are encouraged to check with schools to make sure their information is up to date. (PS)

Channel Men's Shed participated in the Kingborough Council Health Roadshow held at the shed. Members were tested for high blood pressure and answered questionnaires relating to their health. (PS)

Tree by-law public consultation

Public consultation is now open for the Trees on Private Property By-Law that will regulate the removal of important trees on private property in Kingborough where a planning permit is not required.

Acting Mayor Clare Glade-Wright said that for 20 years, Kingborough Council has had a by-law to regulate tree removal on private property.

"This by-law has now expired and a new one has been drafted," Cr Glade-Wright said.

The by-law was first introduced to reflect the significance of the natural values in Kingborough and the community's desire to protect these values.

"Trees on private land play a significant part in our communities," Cr Glade-Wright said.

"They provide food and shelter for wildlife, they capture and hold rainfall before it hits the ground, limit soil erosion, and reduce the impact of heat, wind, and noise."

Kingborough is the only municipality in Tasmania where endangered forty-spotted pardalotes are found on private land.

Kingborough Council has created a Q and A document that explains how the proposed by-law will work and will assist the community in understanding and engaging with the consultation.

Community engagement is a critical component used to review policies, strategies, and projects at Council.

Public input into this consultation will be used to inform the Trees on Private Property By-Law.

Public consultation open on the Trees on Private Property By-Law

Fire levy changes

Changes to the Fire Levy proposed in the new Fire and Emergency Services Bill could see significant increases for Kingborough residents and businesses.

Information released by the Local Government Association Tasmania (LGAT) showed that many residential properties in rural districts are seeing a doubling of the levy.

Commercial properties in Kingborough currently paying a fire service rate of $17,000 would be increased to $22,000.

LGAT said that while work has been done over some years, many of the details in the bill have come as a complete surprise to local government, with no prior consultation on the implications for councils or their communities.

LGAT President and Break O'Day Council Mayor Mick Tucker said that councils are disappointed with the lack of consultation, particularly given councils play a significant role in responding to emergencies.

"These significant changes to the cost for many households have not previously been discussed with the community and now we have been given only five weeks to digest the options and provide feedback," Mayor Tucker said.

"To make matters worse, there are a lot of details not contained in the new bill.

"This feels like a half-baked bill, that has been rushed out after the Government has gone slow over the past six years."

The Minister for Police, Fire and Emergency Management Felix Ellis said there is no new levy being proposed.

The Government is proposing to abolish one levy entirely and reform the remaining two.

There are currently more than 29 different rates and multiple levies for households and businesses across Tasmania.

"The proposal will better equalise rates across the state to make it fair," Minister Ellis said.

"Some businesses have avoided paying the insurance levy by not taking out insurance or buying from an overseas company.

"It is unfair and anti-competitive to only charge a fire levy to businesses that take out insurance when it is a service we all need and rely upon."

Minister Ellis said that multiple reviews, including a parliamentary committee, have recommended the proposed changes.

A popular wine festival, this will be Spring in the Vines' third year where growers and makers will showcase their finest vintages along with music, art, food, and other experiences.

Go to www.winesouth.com.au for further details regarding what individual vineyards will have available.

Yellow Point wine

Yellow Point Vineyard is undergoing rejuvenation under the ownership of Louise and Kerry O'Brien, who previously operated a vineyard in the Tamar Valley.

The picturesque location of Yellow Point Vineyard on the D'Entrecasteaux Channel at Birchs Bay made their decision to build a house on the site an easy one to make.

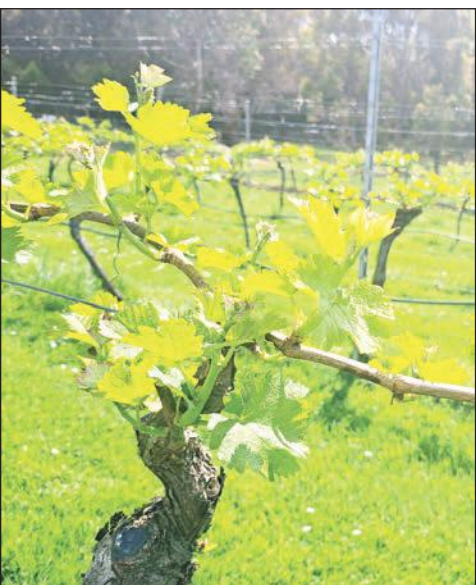

The boutique vineyard, under Kerry's careful nurturing, produces fine pinot noir grapes exclusively.

The vineyard has produced high-quality pinot noir wines in the past and Kerry and Louise are heading in the same direction.

The vineyard will be open to the public for the first time, from Friday, November 3, through to Sunday, November 5 from 11am to 4pm offering tasting and sales of three vintages.

Yellow Point is located at 3755 Channel Highway, Birchs Bay.

Yellow Point Vineyard in Birchs Bay is open to the public for the first time this Friday to Sunday for the Spring in the Vines Wine Festival. Come and try their three vintages. (PS)

Nandroya Vineyard

Nandroya family vineyard and cellar door, 262 Sandfly Road, Margate, is opening for Spring in the Vines, from Friday, November 3 through to Sunday, November 5.

The cellar door will be open from 11am until 5pm each day.

The Rees family members are ready to share their 2022 Pinot Noir and 2021 Sauvignon Blanc.

Enjoy a taste or two on the verandah with views to kunanyi/Mt Wellington and east to D'Entrecasteaux Channel.

To be in the draw for the lucky cellar door prize of six bottles visit both Nandroya family vineyards and Cathedral Rock (also on Sandfly Road) during Spring in the Vines.

They look forward to seeing you.

Special release at Heriots Point

"We will be featuring our 2020 Sleeping Beauty Sparkling for the Spring in the Vines Wine Festival," said Evan Rolley, vigneron of Heriots Point Vineyard.

This special release celebrates the success of the 2020 Vintage at Heriots Point after losing the entire 2019 vintage to the devastating smoke damage from the Riveaux Road wildfires.

"Our cellar-aged pinots from 2004, 2010 and 2012 will also be available for guests to sample in our Huon Riverside Boat Shed tasting room from Friday, November 3 to Sunday, November 5, between the hours of noon to 5pm," Evan said.

Sun, sand and sea

Many dream of living on the beach and walking to their favourite restaurant.

They dream of an early morning run on the beach at sunrise or a swim in the warm water at the end of a hot summer's day.

They dream of beach cricket and Easter egg hunts with their children or watching the tide take their magic sand-castles away.

They wish for a kayak adventure or a day on a paddle-board, for an afternoon in the sun with a good book and liberal coating of SPF50.

Now is your moment.
Now is your opportunity, your chance to make these dreams come true.

Just a few dozen steps from the front door of this beautiful apartment lies the glorious expanse of Kingston Beach.

This excellent home overlooks the bay where you can watch the local dinghies racing, then take a short walk to catch a fish from the sea or an elderly bream from the river.

You can ride your bike on the level roads around you, and when the exercise is done, the waterfront has options for a cold beer or an espresso martini.

It is rare for apartments of this size and desirability to be available for sale so close to the beach.

The unit is set on a quiet avenue and has a fragrant garden with a shaded retreat for when solitude is what your spirit needs.

It's time to get ready for fishing

With the weather warming up and cray season nearly here, it's time to start getting your boat ready, check your safety equipment and service your fishing gear.

A quick safety checklist could include:

- Flares (check dates)
  - Emergency Position Indicating Radio Beacons (check date and AMSA registration)

- Inflatable lifejackets can either be done by yourself or by a licensed service agent.
- It is a requirement that inflatable lifejackets are inspected by a licensed service agent at the intervals specified by the manufacturer.
- Marine and Safety Tasmania (MAST) recommends they be inspected at least every two years.
- Do a radio check to make sure you can transmit and receive
  - Have a look at the condition of the anchor and chain/rope

There are 111 species on Inverawe's bird list including the black cockatoo who likes to hang out in the red gums. (PS)

You need patience to pick the birds out of the foliage of the native plants throughout the garden, but there's no hurry. (PS)

With spring comes Inverawe

November at Inverawe means bottlebrushes, coming into bloom.

Grevilleas as well, and Westringias. The standard pruning advice for native plants is to tip prune when they finish flowering. Westringias never stop though. You line them up, tell them flowering has finished (who's in charge, after all?), and tip prune them before they get too leggy. The kangaroo paws in pots have flowered all winter and the ones in the ground give pops of colour through the garden. The gardeners at Inverawe are constantly asking, "How do they do that?" Parrots and wattlebirds are busy sorting out the red flowering gums. New Holland honeyeaters own the central part of the garden, with its many spring flowering plants.

Still, the crescent honeyeaters and yellow throats seem to survive, even prosper. The native hens, or turbo-chooks, are making a tremendous racket. They keep spotting two white-breasted sea eagles in that gum tree on the water's edge. They don't like sea eagles because the eagles, don't just stick to a fish diet. Thornbills dart through the lower shrubs. Inverawe has 111 species on its bird list, including all 12 endemics, but you need patience. Pademelons crashing through the undergrowth cause a tell-tale thump, thump, thump if you listen. They help out by pruning the plants. Visit soon, then go home and plant some natives in your patch. Sit back and enjoy.

On Sunday, October 8 the Friends of Bruny Island Quarantine Station hosted their annual Science Fun Day. (PS)

More families attended this year than ever before, in part thanks to Inspiring Australia, who provided support to make the event more inclusive. (PS)

The activities were led by hosts from Parks Tasmania, Forest Practises Australia, UTAS Agriculture, Kingborough Cat Management, Hobart Robots, Hobart Hackers, and Friends of Bruny Island Quarantine Station volunteers. (PS)

Families and groups arrived throughout the day, and many enjoyed the beautiful surroundings by having picnics on the large, grassed areas on-site and exploring the natural environment. (PS)

The Friends of Bruny Island Quarantine Station thank the community for providing in-kind support and volunteer time to make the event possible. (PS)

The weather was clear and sunny. Many families attended and participated in the various science, technology, engineering, art and maths (STEAM) activities. (PS)

Pennant bowls season underway

The pennant bowls season is underway, with the Kingborough Bowls ladies Division 2 travelling to play Cremorne on Tuesday, October 24.

Pam Rosevear's team consisting of Lyn Cowen, Ida Jones and lead Anne Palmer had a close game with the lead frequently changing, but the Tigers' determination resulted in a three-point win, 25-22.

Lorraine Walker's rink with Regina Hayes, Diane Spooner and lead Karlene Beadle witnessed a strong start from the opposing side.

At lunch they were nine shots down, but with two ends resulting in four shot wins for the Tigers, a change in the lead was looking promising.

The Tigers weren't able to keep up the momentum, with Cremorne winning by two shots, 24-22.

Lee Shead with Francis Phillips, Judy Trill and Theresa Direen found the windy conditions difficult.

Despite having the bowls in the head, the Cremorne 2023 premier team reigned supreme on the day, winning 26-9.

Kingborough's Division 1 team had an outstanding win against last year's premiers Howrah at the Kingborough Indoor Centre with a 81-54 win.

Maddie Johnson's rink with Kerrie Lane, Greta Murray and lead Sue Mann came from behind after a slow start to turn the game around with some great bowls from her third Kerrie Lane, along with support from the team. They triumphed 38-10.

Leonie Price's rink with Vicki Bannister, Colleen Dance and Pauline Connell leading went to a 12-9 lead at the lunch break then held the lead for the remainder of the game with all players contributing to a convincing 22-19 win.

Sue Clark's rink went out firing from the start with Nadine Seabourne as third, Lou Wallace as two and Yvonne Duffy as lead with a 17-3 lead after eight ends, but the lunch break changed the momentum.

The Howrah team played some outstanding bowls to come out winners, 25-21.

Kingborough Division 3 ladies hosted Geeveston at Kingborough Indoor Centre on Thursday, October 20.

Skip Deborah Smith with Tania Anderson, Margaret Thorpe and lead Fiona Hickey had a close game but won by three shots, 21-18.

Maureen Sculthorpe with Janene Stubbs, Kaye Ashlin and lead Dianne Lovell had a convincing 30-shot win over Geeveston, 41-11.

Jean Hemmings' team consisting of Sue-Ellen Martyn, Glenna Thompson and lead Kerrie Cahill had a close game, with Geeveston winning by just one shot, 17-16.

The Kingborough Little Athletics Centre had their first full programme at Gormley Park on Saturday, October 28. Edward was the run-away winner in the U10s 800 metre race. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Nina in the U11s high jump. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)
