

Mural, mural on the wall

Blackmans Bay Primary School will be receiving a makeover with a $3000 community grant to create an extensive mural.

The mural will cover a large, blank wall space spanning two classrooms that overlooks the school's courts and is visible to anyone who walks through the school grounds to or from the Opal Drive car park.

Jamin Kluss has been commissioned to paint the mural.

Jamin said he is excited to create a sense of play, transforming the dull, grey wall into a vibrant and colourful space.

The mural will see large scale depictions of some local birds, such as the swift parrot, the forty-spotted pardalote and the yellow-tailed black cockatoos.

The project will also combine whole school learning activities focused on sharing art skills delivered by Jamin and ecology and habitat conversations delivered by Kingborough Council's Natural Areas Interpretation Officer, Bridget Jupe.

The school community is still seeking donations to get this major project off the ground, and they have a GoFundMe page currently taking donations.

Bruny Island marathon

The Bruny Island Ultra was held on Saturday, December 2 with a range of teams and solo competitors.

The course is a total of 64 kilometres, starting at the Dennes Point picnic area and moving down south to end at the Cloudy Bay Lighthouse.

Competitors can either tackle the 64 kilometres alone, or else complete the course in a relay team, with the course split into legs of approximately two kilometres.

Bruny Island Ultra raises money and awareness to those impacted by autism, with around 600 participants every year.

This year approximately 80 runners competed in the individual race, with Luke Budd coming first with a time of 4:48:33.

Activist and 2021 Australian of the Year Grace Tame came fourth with a time of 5:04:07.

Local team the Sweaty Bettys competed in their second ultra, with a new personal best.

The team of nine completed the marathon in just under seven hours.

"We have a wonderful community on Bruny and even though we have a few locals who dread this day, the energy and great spirit this event evokes is healthy and healing for all," Sweaty Betty member Barbara Eynon said.

Green light for Snug dog beach

Kingborough Council endorsed the updated Dog Management Policy at their December 4 meeting.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the policy regulated the control of dogs in public spaces, determined where the locations for off-lead exercise areas were and outlined declared areas.

“Council ran a very successful public consultation on the proposed changes to the Dog Management Policy,” Cr Wriedt said.

“The consultation attracted over 1100 responses from community members, 61 per cent of which were dog owners who shared their thoughts and views on the various proposed changes.

“The consultation asked if the community wanted to see new off-lead dog exercise areas added to the southern ends of Snug and Blackmans Bay beaches.

“There was a positive response from the community to the Snug Beach south proposal, with 66 per cent of participants supporting the inclusion of an additional off-lead area.

“Accordingly, Council has agreed to formally declare this an as an off-lead dog exercise area.

“However, Council has agreed to keep the southern end of Blackmans Bay Beach restricted from dogs at all times, with 56 per cent of respondents opposed to the idea and written submissions raising valid concerns in relation to the proposal.”

Kingston Primary School opened their new playground on Thursday, December 7 with prep students May and Anaika cutting the ribbon.

New Kingston Primary playground

Kingston Primary School officially opened their new playground on Thursday, December 7.

Participants from the Aladdin play wrote a song that they performed for the opening titled “A whole new playground.”

The playground includes a sandpit, slide, cubby house, climbing wall and water feature.

Students made the bunting to decorate the stage area for the opening.

The site for the playground, a hill behind the school, was a concern initially but the teachers and students agree that the new playground is a huge success.

Prep students May and Anaika cut the ribbon, officially opening the playground.

There was a free school community barbecue after the ribbon was cut.

Celebrating accessibility

New accessible beach matting was launched at Kingston Beach as part of the celebrations for International Day of People with Disability on Sunday, December 3.

The matting will be rolled out each weekend and on public holidays from December to March by the Kingston Beach Surf Life Saving Club volunteers and will be available from approximately 12pm until 4.30pm on these days.

The matting will go on a national register linking everyone investigating accessible sites to Kingston Beach.

The beach matting is a capital works project from Kingborough Council costing $10,000.

The Kingston Beach Surf Life Saving Club also received grants for two beach wheelchairs that are now available for public use.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said it was great to celebrate this special day by improving access to the beautiful Kingston Beach.

“Council understands that people living with disability or with limited mobility should have equitable and easy access to services and facilities,” Cr Wriedt said.

“The matting will enable wheelchair users’ better mobility on the beach with the option to reach the sea depending on the tide.

“Council would like to thank the volunteers of Kingston Beach Life Saving Club for assisting with this community service.”

Cr Wriedt is also Chair of Kingborough Council’s Disability Inclusion and Access Advisory Committee.

“I would like to thank all the members of the committee for their drive and support during this process, as well as our council staff who worked on finding the best way to make this happen,” Cr Wriedt said.

“Kingston Beach is our most popular beach in Kingborough, and this beach matting will ensure equitable access to all residents.”

Kingborough is the second council in the state, behind Sorrel, to install beach matting.

The community turned out to celebrate International Day of People with Disability on Sunday, December 3 and launch the new accessible beach matting at Kingston Beach. (PS)

The Cantiamo Ladies Choir held another well-attended concert at the Kingston Uniting Church on Sunday, December 3.

All the songs had a Christmas theme and featured music and arrangements by such people as John Rutter, Henry Purcell, Johann Sebastian Bach, Isaac Watts and Blackmans Bay's very own David Carr, who featured as the accompanist on piano.

Award-winning actress Judith Cornish of Blackmans Bay was a guest performer with an amusing monologue on the 12 days of Christmas.

The choir includes some local Kingborough residents and was conducted by Priscilla Richardson.

Kingborough Council installed the last bus shelter along Channel Highway on Tuesday, December 5. A large crane was required for the installation, which meant the southbound lane of the Channel Highway closest to Channel Court had to be closed. The southbound lane was closed from approximately 9am to 2pm while the bus shelter was installed. (PS)

The new playground features landscaped gardens with native plants and a two-story cubby house.

The rock-climbing wall isn’t finished yet.

The site lent itself naturally to a slide and even a water feature.

Kingston Primary School's main cast of Aladdin Jr performed two shows on Monday, December 11. They have been working on the production all year and were excited and nervous to play to a full house in the evening show.

Performing Arts teacher Mr Stephen Jones produced the play and provided an encouraging and lively atmosphere. He also provided the elephant.

The cast is made up of students from prep to year six.

Asha who played Aladdin and Maria who played Jasmin said that their favourite part of the play was the duet "A Whole New World".

It's not hard to pick out the main villain. Another cast member, Sabrina (pictured bottom right), said that the coolest prop was the cave of wonders.

The Kettering community has a long-standing tradition of decorating the track to Kettering Point for Christmas. Volunteers gave their time and their decorations to help bring the track to life. (PS)

Donations were offered almost immediately by members of the community and the volunteers returned to Kettering Point on December 1, determined to continue in the local tradition. (PS)

Sadly, on Sunday, December 3 volunteers discovered that much of their hard work had been undone, and some stolen over the weekend. (PS)

There is a bench at the Point where Kettering local Harold Thompson said you can sometimes sit and watch whales at play in the Derwent. (PS)

Kettering community holds on to Christmas spirit

On the evening of Friday, December 1 members of the Kettering community continued their tradition of decorating the beginning of the Ferry Road track to Kettering Point with Christmas decorations.

By the morning of Sunday, December 3, the decorations had been vandalised and some stolen.

A member of the Kettering community said they were shocked and devastated that the beautiful objects and the work done by volunteers had been vandalised.

Within 24 hours the community had rallied with donations and plans to redecorate the track.

“Often adversity like this brings a community together and this is why we live where we live,” said one community member.

The vandalism has been reported to the police.

Local nurse to join the Mercy Ship

Kingston Beach local Phoebe McIntyre will join a Mercy Ship mission to Sierra Leone for two weeks at the end of February.

She will be taking leave from her current role as a registered nurse in operating theatres at the Royal Hobart Hospital for the trip.

Mercy Ships deliver a total healthcare program to some of the world's poorest people.

Specially fitted-out hospital ships are manned by a full team of medical staff, backed up by a crew of technicians and organisational volunteers that keep them running smoothly.

This will be Phoebe's second trip with Mercy Ships.

In 2019 she spent two weeks in Senegal.

Volunteers with Mercy Ships pay all their own expenses, so Phoebe is fundraising the cost of her flight and incidental expenses.

Step forward into the garden

Kingston Neighbourhood House received $4600 for a community project teaching participants how to grow and eat from their garden.

They are one of 37 organisations to receive funding under the latest round of the Healthy Tasmania Step Forward Grants program.

Step Forward grants provide up to $5000 for a wide range of activities and equipment that support health and well-being, such as equipment and training.

Other recipients included Cygnet Community Children's Centre and the Huonville Lions Football Club.

Minister for Health Guy Barnett said the grants will help improve the health and wellbeing of all Tasmanians.

"Preventive health initiatives such as this are vitally important as they not only help Tasmanians live healthy and active lives but also reduce the pressure on our health system in the long term," Minister Barnett said.

In February, local nurse Phoebe McIntyre will join her second Mercy Ships tour. She will spend two weeks in Sierra Leone providing surgical care to some of the world's poorest people. (PS)

Campaign against gender-based violence

Citizen Tasmania and the Zonta Club of Hobart Derwent recently hosted a special breakfast event where Emeritus Professor the Honourable Kate Warner gave a powerful talk about violence against women and girls and looking beyond law reform.

The event launched the annual 16 days of activism against gender-based violence campaign that began in 1991.

President of the Hobart Derwent Zonta Club Dr Silvana Bettiol said almost 60 women have died from domestic violence so far this year.

Zonta is a global organisation working to build a better future for women and girls.

Citizen Tasmania provides people with the means to tackle challenges within their communities through education, empowerment and connection.

Kingborough residents shared a table at the recent Zonta breakfast on Friday, November 24, held in partnership with Citizen Tasmania. (PS)

O'Byrne considers future

Member for Franklin David O'Byrne was informed by members of the media on December 1 that he had not been included in the list of confirmed Tasmanian Labor Party candidates for the seat of Franklin by the National Executive of the Labor Party.

"This is devastating news for me," Mr O'Byrne said. "I have been a loyal Labor supporter for my entire life and member for close to 30 years.

"I was brought up in a family who knew the Labor movement fought for better services in health, education and housing, and that every worker deserves a fair day's pay for a fair day's work."

Mr O'Byrne acknowledged that his candidature did not come with a clean slate but said he had hoped that his years of commitment to the party and hard work in the community would balance the scales.

"I have never presented myself as the perfect person," Mr O'Byrne said.

"I have made mistakes and I have owned them, but I have never given up and walked away from the work to which I am deeply committed.

"I believe I have the trust of the people of Franklin and believe I can assist Labor in Tasmania as not only a good local member but also an experienced parliamentarian and former Minister.

"I will now take some time to consider my future."

'Teas the season to be jolly'.

The calendar year is coming to a close. For some, a break from work is on the horizon, a time to catch up with friends and family. For others, the season may be a more sombre time. A cuppa with someone this Christmas may mean more than you know.

"My best friend in Melbourne and I always chat on the phone both drinking a pot of tea at the same time," said Samantha, the owner of the Art of Tea.

"It's a ritual we have had for over 20 years because we live in different states.

"I share this idea with people thinking they may do the same with loved ones they are geographically apart from."

A small gift of tea is a thoughtful present, especially if you can share the enjoyment of drinking a pot together.

Why not dunk a shortbread or munch on a slice of traditional fruit cake?

These treats go hand in hand with a good cup of tea.

"Lots of our customers are looking for small, thoughtful and locally made gifts this year, and tea is a perfect gift to give and share," said Samantha.

Find them at 6/3 Mertonvale Circuit, 9am to 4pm Monday to Friday, and Saturday, December 16 and 23, 10am to 2pm.

Northern Kingston Beach is one of eight sites in Kingborough that will be monitored from December to March. This area has a poor long-term water quality rating, however, at the time of printing the water quality was rated safe. (PS)

Dive into the Derwent this summer

The Beach Watch program launched at the beginning of December includes eight sites in Kingborough between Tarooma and Blackmans Bay.

The Beach Watch, coordinated by the Derwent Estuary Program (DEP), enables our community and visitors to the region to find a healthy beach with confidence every summer through its active monitoring, sampling and reporting of recreational water quality.

As part of the Beach Watch this year, daily water quality predictions will be provided for monitored sites around the estuary.

Predictions are based on rainfall and information from partners like TasWater and local councils on overflows or system damage.

These predictions will not replace regular testing, which will be carried out every Tuesday.

"Every week over summer, water samples are collected from more than 38 sites in the Derwent to test for enterococci, a faecal indicator bacterium," said Derwent Estuary Program chief executive Ursula Taylor.

“The results demonstrate which beaches are suitable for swimming and where contamination sources may impact water quality.

"We publish the results at the end of every week on our DEP Beach Watch webpage and Facebook site so community members can make informed decisions about where they enjoy recreational water activities."

Three sites between Kingston Beach and Blackmans Bay have an N/A rating on the website.

This means that the sites do not have the minimum five years of data available, however that information will be available next year.

The program is a voluntary partnership with 15 local organisations, including councils, who provide financial and in-kind support.

Ms Taylor said the partnership has been incredibly successful and the Kingborough Council has done a lot of work investigating the stormwater system and making repairs.

In the past year over 60 stormwater network issues have been resolved in Clarence and Kingborough municipalities. Ms Taylor encourages people to follow the DEP for more advice and information about the healthiest beaches to enjoy across the Derwent and to have a safe and happy summer season.

The Beach Watch will run until the end of March.

Central Blackmans Bay Beach has a fair rating. The northern and southern ends of the beach will receive a long-term rating from next year when there is five years' worth of data. (PS)

SNUG FIRE MEMORIAL NOT GOOD ENOUGH

... PREMIER

THE Premier of Tasmania (Hon. E. E. Reece) dropped a bombshell on an otherwise run-of-the-mill Kingborough Council meeting on Monday night.

Mr Reece, supported by Liberal ex-Premier, Mr A. Bethune, in a letter to the Warden, denounced the Council's planned $500 dolerite stone memorial to the victims of the 1967 bush fires and demanded that the Council spend $3,000.

The Premier's letter acknowledged that the Council had spent a considerable amount of money on the complex at Snug but insisted that this was 'not the point at issue'.

Mr Reece stated that the Council had received $20,000 and had spent it and he considered a memorial stone costing $500 to be 'not appropriate'.

The stunned Council merely authorised the Warden (Cr. W. Hodgman) to reply to the Premier but this low-key treatment of the demand probably masks a potentially serious confrontation between the State Government and the Kingborough Council.

Most of the sitting councillors were present when the Kingborough Commission was replaced by a Council in 1971 and at that time feelings ran high in the Council when it was discovered that the Commission had committed ratepayers to subsidising the erection of a memorial sports ground and caravan park with total costs reaching about $100,000.

The Commission had also held a memorial competition, won by Max Angus with a design featuring fountains and coloured lights. The 1971 Council balked at further major expenditure and also considered the memorial vulnerable to vandals.

The 1971 fight against further expenditure was led by Councillors Eyles, Boot and Hodgman-now Treasurer, Deputy Treasurer and Warden respectively. The question arises whether these councillors, now closely responsible for Municipal finances, will concur with the Premier's demand that they spend another $3,000 merely to produce a 'more substantial memorial'.

Convent School Closing Doors

ST. Mary's Convent School at Franklin, which was opened in 1899, will close this year.

Southn. H'way Maintenance Delay

THE Acting-Minister for Public Works has not encouraged Esperance Council in their request for more rapid improvement of the Huon Highway south of Geeveston.

In respect of this section of the Highway which carries very heavy timber traffic as well as tourist and local traffic, Mr Lowe wrote in a recent letter to the Council.

"While I acknowledge that there are certainly deficiencies in the standard of this highway I am sure that you will appreciate the problems throughout the State which face me in determining suitable priorities for road works.

"The finance made available under the Commonwealth Aid Roads Act is not sufficient to enable an as energetic road construction programme as I would like. Because of this all works must be assessed on a priority basis, this priority being based on such factors as relative benefit on a per capita basis for money expended, the road safety of any particular section and overall benefit to the State highway system, particularly on a through traffic principle.

"I fully appreciate the value of this section of the Huon Highway to residents of the Esperance Municipality and its importance to industry in the region. It is true, unfortunately, that there is evidence of the effect of only limited past expenditure on this highway, although I am sure you will appreciate that the largest segment of available funds has, and rightfully so, been directed towards other roads serving the Classified Roads system where these have been greatest population. The result is that only limited reconstruction, in conjunction with routine maintenance, has been possible over the past several years. There is, of course, a maintenance gang permanently located on this section and they are able to maintain to a generally satisfactory standard this section of the highway.

"The cumulative effect of the minor areas of reconstruction should over a period give an improved highway standard to this area as those sections being reconstructed are basically those which are the cause of most serious concern.

"While I am unable to reply more favourably at this time you can be assured that the problems being encountered are fully appreciated and every endeavour will be made to provide the maximum funds possible for a continuing road improvement programme," Mr Lowe concluded.

When the Rev. Fr. Murphy died in August, 1898, he left a sum of money to be used for building a Convent School at Franklin.

When Fr. Hennessey arrived in the Parish he made an immediate start on the school and with the help of parishioners raised further money to complete the school which was duly opened in 1899, contrary to the beliefs of many who claim the building was once an apple shed.

Some of the first known pupils still living are Miss Annie McGarry (Hobart), and Mrs Mary Carr (nee Brennan), of C. F. Bay.

The Sisters of St. Joseph have staffed the school since it was first opened and the oldest Nun still living is Sr. M. Paul of Sacred Heart Convent, New Town, who taught at Franklin in 1909 and recalls many pupils and anecdotes. One such 'story' being that when Fr. Jim Ryan was being welcomed at the School, a pig ran into the room, causing a great uproar amongst the children.

Records show that a meeting was called on February 12th, 1933, to inaugurate a Parents and Friends Association. Parents were very enthusiastic with many past pupils, now parents and friends, being elected. The first President was Fr. W. Fitzpatrick, Sec. Mr F. Dooley, and Treasurer Mr D. Ryan.

Past admission records show a low roll call of 26 children in April, 1934, and a record high of 78 in 1961.

The gradual decline in vocations and the economic position of the Huon and the ending of Catholic families has forced the closure of the School, but the children will not be denied a Catholic Education, as there will be a bus to convey them to the School at Geeveston.

The Parish is holding a Thanksgiving Mass, concelebrated by Archbishop Young, the present Parish Priest (Fr. P. McAnany) and many past priests on Wednesday, December 19th at 7 p.m. All past pupils and friends are invited back to help celebrate this Mass. Afterwards there will be a supper in the School Room for all.

★ The last pupils to attend the School are pictured above.

Kingborough gymnast Tristan Styles was crowned the 2023 World Champion at the World Trampoline Championships in November. Tristan's peers Rohan Wilcox, Leuca McLeod and Amber French also competed in the championships with successful performances. (PS)

Kingborough's world champ

Kingborough gymnast Tristan Styles was crowned the 2023 World Champion in November.

The World Trampoline Championships were held in Birmingham last month, with Tristan competing in the double-mini competition.

Other Kingborough gymnasts Rohan Wilcox, Leuca McLeod and Amber French also competed in the championships with successful performances.

Tristan qualified for the final in fourth position out of a field of 36.

He then went on to impress the judges by finishing the first round of finals in second position.

Tristan proceeded to win the gold medal over competitors from Kazakhstan (second place), Great Britain (third place) and Canada (fourth place).

"Styles has shown immense determination and resilience during 2023, overcoming an injury at the GT State Championships in March which forced him to withdraw from the double-mini competition at the Australian Championships," Trampoline Team Leader Ben Kelly said.

"Finishing in fourth position at the Trans-Tasman in July earlier this year, Styles has been building towards the perfect finish to his 2023 competitive season."

Rohan Wilcox came 10th in the 15-16 men's double-mini, narrowly missing the final round out of a field of 40 competitors.

Leuca McLeod finished in 41st position in the Olympic qualifying event for Paris from a field of over 100 competitors.

As one of the youngest competitors in the field at just 18 years of age, McLeod has his sights set on the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics.

Amber French helped the senior women's double-mini team finish in fifth position in the team final round of competition, with the gold medal being won by Great Britain.

On Saturday, December 9 the Kingborough Knights played two T20 games at Twin Ovals. The Knights lost their first game to New Town but won 7-150 over the Northern Raiders 4-141. While James Scott didn't take a wicket in this match, he recently starred at the National U19s Championships, being selected in the All Australian Squad and being named Bowler of the Championship. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Clawing back into the game

After a disappointing loss to Glenorchy Rodman, the Kingborough Division 1 ladies regrouped and defeated Sandy Bay on their home ground on Thursday, December 7 resulting in a 10-shot win, 64 - 51.

Skip Leonie Price, Vicki Bannister, Pauline Connell and Colleen Dance as lead had a close game, winning by one shot, 19-18.

Kerrie Lane as skip with Veronica Cleary, Louise Wallace and Yvonne Duffy had a hard game, resulting in a 10-shot loss, 26-16.

Maddie Johnson as skip, Greta Murray, Sally Bowes and lead Sue Mann had a convincing win over Sandy Bay, winning by 22 shots, 29-7.

Division 2 ladies playing in the indoor centre at Kingborough also had a 10-shot win over the ladder leaders Sandy Bay.

Sandy Bay got away to a good start and at lunch time were five shots up on all rinks.

Skip Lee Shead with Francis Phillips, Judy Traill and Theresa Direen fought back, resulting in a five-shot win, 23-18. Regina Hayes as skip with Lyne Cowen, Ida Jones and Anne Palmer who led well all day had a close game but lost by five shots, 14-19.

On the fourth end skip Lorraine Walker's team were down by 11 shots.

Lorraine Walker with Diane Spooner, Karlene Beadle and Dorothy Cupit as lead clawed their way back into the game.

At lunch they were five shots down and the lead changed several times throughout the game, but they went on to win by six shots, 27-21.

Division 3 playing St John's on their home ground had a disruptive day due to a water pipe bursting, resulting in a flooded green.

Play was abandoned.

Deb Smith's team lost by six shots.

Fiona Hickey's rink won by six shots.

Janene Stubbs displayed her skip skills in her first-time role as skip, but unfortunately her game was disrupted due to the flooded green, which resulted in a draw.

Smaller summer run

On December 3 the Rotary Club of Kingston held their 19th annual five-kilometre fun run and walk, with nearly 200 participants.

Previously it was run in May, but due to the upgrade of the Whitewater Track and the Kingston Park surrounds, it was transferred to a summer event.

Rotary Club of Kingston President Ewan Cameron said he was extremely pleased with the number of families participating, as well as the number of local businesses that contributed prizes to the event and the many local sporting and community groups who volunteered their time to make it successful.

For the second year, the major sponsor was First National Real Estate, Kingston.

Due to the reduced numbers this year, most participants received a spot prize, with two lucky children winning bikes donated by Rotarian Jill Sward and her husband Tony.

First over the line in the men's section was sixteen-year-old Oliver Thiessen, second was Mathew Woolley and third was Marc Isell, who pushed his young child in a stroller for the whole event.

In the women's section, Meriem Daoui, who is a regular in the event was first, second was Stella Knighton with Anne Pullen third.

Next year the club is hoping that the event will return to its normal May timeslot.

Nearly 200 participants lined up to begin the Rotary Club of Kingston fun run and walk. (PS)

Local businesses contributed prizes to the event and many local sporting and community groups provided volunteers to keep the event running smoothly. (PS)

This year's fun run and walk was moved to December because of upgrade work to Whitewater Track and Kingston Park surrounds. (PS)

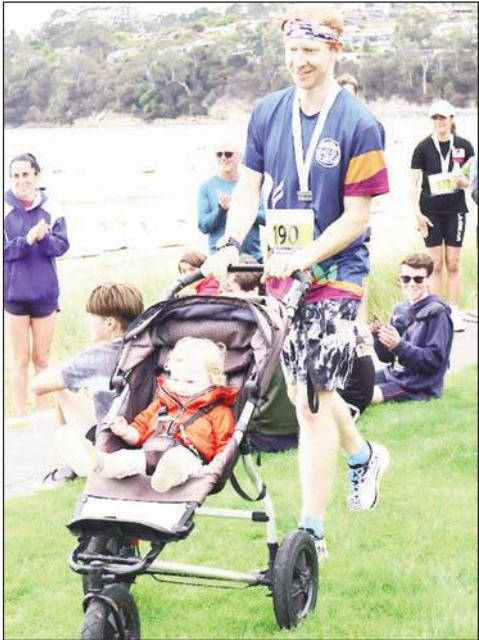

The numbers were lower than in previous years and organisers hope to return to the May date next year. (PS)

Sixteen-year-old Oliver Thiessen was first over the line in the men's section. (PS)

Regular fun run participant Meriem Daoui came first in the women's section. (PS)

The third place winner in the male section was Marc Isell, who ran the entire five kilometres pushing his toddler in a pram. (PS)

The Blackmans Bay Sharks faced up against Huonville Bulls on a damp morning on Saturday, December 9. Sharks captain Chris Hevey won the toss and elected to bat. Hevey got off to a strong start but lost his wicket for 26 to Tyler Cowen. The Sharks (9-209) defeated the Bulls (10-91) off their 50 overs. Mitch Backhouse was the Sharks' highest scorer with 70. Come and try Blind and Low Vision Golf

A Blind and Low Vision (BLV) Golf Come and Try Day was held at Kingston Beach Golf Club on Sunday, December 3.

About 10 prospective golfers and their caddies participated in the event.

The day was launched by the newly formed Blind Golf Tasmania (BGT), headed by President Patrick Dwyer.

Pat was a past president of the Kingston Beach Golf Club.

After his eyesight started to decline in the last 18 months, Pat recognised that BLV golf wasn't accessible to players like him, or new players to the game, in Tasmania.

Pat addressed this gap by establishing BGT in just 10 months.

The Come and Try Day was supported by Blind Golf Australia, Golf Australia, Minister for Sport and Recreation Nic Street and Minister for Disability Services Jo Palmer.

BGT will be holding its inaugural championship game at Kingston Beach Golf Club on February 5-6, 2024.

In the second game the Summerleas Eagles (2-128) defeated the Snug Scudettes (5-127). Eagles' Sumedha Sharma bowling. Men's matches on page 31. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)
