Students revel in healthy living

Kingston Primary School joined other schools from around the greater Hobart area at MONA on March 6 for the MONA Carnival, organised by 24 Carrot Gardens Tasmania.

The students took part in dance and music activities and learned about healthy eating with a cast of colourful characters.

The 24 Carrot Gardens program establishes gardens in schools and communities where children learn to grow, cook and eat healthy produce.

They host ceramic workshops where students make their own tableware. Reusable napkins are dyed using plants from the garden.

The gardens are located in Tasmanian schools and communities and at the 24 Carrot Gardens sister campus at the Material Institute in New Orleans, USA.

Inspire inclusion Blackmans Bay

The seventh annual International Women's Day (IWD) dinner was held in Blackmans Bay at the Beach House Restaurant on March 6, with the theme 'Inspire Inclusion'.

IWD is officially observed on March 8 every year, celebrating the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of women.

The day also marks a call to action for accelerating gender parity.

Significant activity is witnessed worldwide as groups come together to celebrate women's achievements or rally for women's equality.

The guest speaker at the IWD dinner was Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt.

In 2011, Cr Wriedt was elected as a councillor on Kingborough Council in 2011, and in 2021 became Kingborough's first female mayor.

For the past ten years, she has chaired the Council's Disability Inclusion and Access Committee, advocating for improved facilities for people living with disability.

Presenter Mikala Grosse interviewed Cr Wriedt on her work on disability inclusion and the importance of interconnected and accessible communities.

Other IWD events were held across Kingborough including a wellness talk and tea hosted by nurse and health counsellor Heather Kennett at the Kingborough Community Hub on Friday, March 8.

Heather led her audience through some simple steps to improve their health and wellness.

Fran Spears set up a stall at the Kingston Town Shopping Centre where she sold her new book His Crimes, Her Secrets, raising awareness about domestic violence.

Community supportive during almost two-hour wait

Dear Editor,

On behalf of my family, I would like to sincerely thank the members of the public who stopped to offer their assistance when my adult son had a severe medical condition on the side of the Channel Highway, just north of Electrona, late Friday afternoon, March 1 while we were on our way home to Woodbridge.

To us, his family, who were with him during this event, it was extremely traumatic as it escalated into what appeared to be a life-threatening situation.

During this time, I was also assisted on the phone by a paramedic from 000 for the last twenty-three minutes before the ambulance finally arrived.

He advised me on at least four occasions to start CPR on my son as he wasn't passing the breathing test that we were monitoring according to his instructions.

Luckily, each time we didn't need to.

Checking my phone log, sometime after the incident, it showed that from the first of three phone calls I made to 000, it took 1 hour and 40 minutes before an ambulance finally arrived on the scene.

An absolutely agonising wait for their assistance.

The relief for us was enormous once the ambulance arrived and the paramedics took charge.

Their professional calmness and reassurance were wonderful, and we are naturally extremely grateful to them and the paramedic who assisted on the phone.

As mentioned earlier, our hearts do go out with big hugs to all who stopped to offer assistance, particularly the martial arts man, the female GP and the lady from Middleton.

I also couldn't have coped without the help from my other son and my wife who were on the scene in a flash after phoning them.

My son has recovered and is now fine but we are all pretty shell-shocked from the experience.

Sincere appreciation.

Tim
Woodbridge

To the politicians

Dear Editor,

For the first time in my life, I am questioning who I am going to vote for in the March 23 election.

On March 23 I plan to vote for whoever will fight for an immediate end to native forest logging in Tasmania.

Can you make a commitment to me to fight for an end to native forest logging?

Do you care enough about the future of our planet to make that commitment?

Does the climate emergency mean enough to you to enforce the necessary changes?

Sincerely,

Dr Colette Harmsen

Our future tracks and trails

Kingborough Council is seeking feedback on the Draft Kingborough Tracks and Trails Strategic Action Plan.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the plan was prepared to provide a strategic approach to the Council's municipal-wide network of tracks into the future. "The strategy captures in greater detail the desired future tracks and the missing links within the Kingborough network," Cr Wriedt said. "We know our community has a growing desire to participate in recreational activities such as walking and bushwalking. "The Kingborough community are constantly telling us our recreational tracks are important to them for their health and well-being, for exercise, social benefits as well as important active transport routes." This document will help provide the necessary direction for resource allocation in the future. The community's feedback will be used to inform the strategy.

Kingborough family raising dementia awareness

On May 5, Kingborough local Ryan Jones will lace up his running shoes to participate in the Australia Dementia Memory Walk and Jog, tackling a 10 kilometre route alongside his family.

Ryan and his family have joined forces to raise awareness and funds for dementia research and support services for the families and carers.

Despite the absence of a local event in Tasmania, Ryan, his wife Sarah, daughter Amy and other family members have committed to participating in the Melbourne Dementia Memory Walk and Jog event, one of 22 such events across Australia.

Seven years ago, Ryan's mother Libby was diagnosed with early-onset dementia at the age of 57.

The diagnosis sent shockwaves through their family, altering the vibrant life Libby once led as a dedicated teacher, loving mother and devoted grandmother.

Libby is one of the staggering two out of three individuals in Australia affected by a form of dementia.

This debilitating disease ravages the mind, robbing individuals of their memories and identities and eventually controlling their bodies.

For Ryan and his family, witnessing the transformation of his mother has been heartbreaking, knowing that their children and other grandchildren will never fully experience the essence of the woman Libby once was.

As Ryan, Sarah and the whole family gear up for the challenge ahead, they invite the community to show their support.

The Memory Walk and Jog is organised by Dementia Australia, the national peak body for people impacted by dementia.

They represent over 400,000 Australians living with dementia and the almost 1.5 million Australians involved in their care.

Kingborough family the Jones are determined to raise awareness and funds for dementia research and support services in honour of Ryan's mum Libby, who was diagnosed with early-onset dementia seven years ago. (PS)

The Jones family will be taking part in the Memory Walk and Jog in support of Dementia Australia in May this year. Ryan and Sarah Jones and their daughter Amy are travelling to Melbourne to participate as there are no Tasmanian events. (PS)

There has been an uptick in platypus rescues in the Kingston Browns River area lately, possibly due to low water levels. Photographs of the animal brought to Bonorong for assessment on Tuesday, March 5 were not appropriate for publication. This is another animal being assessed at the wildlife hospital at Bonorong. (PS Michael Eastwell)

Please cut looped waste

Bonorong Wildlife Sanctuary's rescue service received an adult female platypus from Browns River in Kingston on Tuesday, March 5.

The animal was found floating in shallow water by a member of the public with an elastic hair band wrapped tightly around its body.

Bonorong's Head Wildlife Veterinarian Dr Luke Gregory said that on assessing the animal under anaesthetic, it was found to have a very deep wound around her upper torso where the hairband had cut in. "She had also sustained a permanent injury to one of her front legs," said Dr Gregory, "which meant that she was unable to use her foot normally."

Based on similar cases seen at the Sanctuary in recent years, Bonorong believes that the hairband had initially been wrapped around the foot before sliding back along the body.

Due to the serious and inoperable nature of her injuries, combined with a very poor body condition, the animal had to be humanely euthanised.

Bonorong Primary Care Director Matt Clement said that when we think about waste in our waterways, we commonly think of larger, more visible items like plastic bags.

"Smaller items such as twine and hairbands are difficult to spot but can have a devastating impact on our wildlife," said Matt.

"This platypus likely suffered for many weeks before being brought to our wildlife hospital."

Bonorong encourages people to follow the advice of "Seize it - Snip it - Bin it" about looped rubbish.

In addition, the Sanctuary encourages people to shop with zero-waste principles in mind.

Volunteer garden the life of the party

The annual Fusion Garden Party, with 120 guests, was celebrated recently in glorious sunshine with delightful food and company.

It was the perfect way to raise money for the Fusion Food Relief Veggie Garden.

The garden donated 1.380 tonnes of veggies last year, and almost 10 tonnes in the 10-year history of the garden, to agencies in Kingston.

"It's the most rewarding feeling in the world, on a Thursday morning, dropping off crates of fresh veggies, knowing they'll be in someone's fridge tonight," said garden coordinator Susan Rowe.

"Vulnerable families in our community are suffering where they simply can no longer afford the basics.

"It was encouraging to feel the support of the local community and the shared commitment to support families doing it tough.

"With recent research showing that less than six per cent of Tasmanians eat enough fruit and vegetables and the cost of living so high, what is happening through our volunteer-run garden is more important than ever.

"We're so thankful for the way everyone came out in their best hats for the day."

Highlights included a jazz vocalist Amelie De Lacy, a live auction and an afternoon tea.

The garden always welcomes more volunteers.

If you are interested in joining the team, you can email them at susan.rowe@fusion.org.au or find them on Facebook at Fusion Southern Tasmania.

Meet the Candidates

2024 Tasmanian State Election - Franklin Electorate

The Kingborough Chronicle newspaper asked the community for questions to ask the Franklin electorate candidates running in the 2024 Tasmanian State Election. All candidates were contacted, with the following responses received.

Eric Abetz
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
Reducing the cost of energy with a $250 rebate per household, supporting investment and job creation which provide higher paid jobs.
Amending planning laws to enable quicker and more affordable house builds.
Increasing supply reduces the cost of rentals and mortgages.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
Housing costs have grown through planning restrictions and requirements that impact affordability.
The continual closure of productive forests sees the cost of wood increase.
Stamp duty relief for first home buyers with a view to the abolition of this inefficient tax.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I support a Tasmanian AFL team, the time has come.
The multipurpose stadium planned for Mac Point is exactly that - multipurpose.
The AFL would be the anchor tenant.
The stadium attracted Federal Labor support to the tune of $240 million and support from the AFL.
If Tasmanian Labor kills the stadium, this money is denied to the Tasmanian economy along with all the jobs.
With the AFL team also comes AFL funding for grassroots and community football right around Tasmania.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
Long-term strategic thinking is needed beyond a four-year horizon.
Economic strength is the underpinning for any government activity and spending.
A strong resilient economy based on self-reliance, with people committed to advancing Tasmania's best interests ensuring a Tasmanian future for our children while protecting our way of life.
The instilling in the young a respect for others including for frontline workers and the need to recognise they have agency in the direction of their lives.
A society where identity politics is eschewed and personal responsibility is embraced.

Ebony Altimira
Labor candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
Having been a single mother, I am acutely aware of the cost-of-living struggles facing Tasmanian households, including the complexities of returning to the workforce and navigating childcare.
As someone who has spoken to many Tasmanians facing these pressures, and who has felt them myself, I want to be part of a Labor government that makes reducing the cost of living its number one priority.
Labor will provide more access to affordable childcare by setting up 50 additional childcare centres in Tasmania.
Labor will provide free school lunches at every Tasmanian government school to help kids and family budgets.
A Labor government will pass legislation to cap power price rises at 2.5 per cent for the next three years, and return the past two years of power price rises back directly to households.
To find out how much you will save on power bills under Labor's policy, visit taslabor.org.au/our-plan/energy-savings-calculator
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
As I am doorknocking and talking to Tasmanians, I hear stories of people struggling to afford rents that are going through the roof, and saving a deposit for your first home is harder than ever.
Tasmania used to have the most affordable housing in Australia.
Now it is one of the most expensive.
Since the Liberals came into government, the housing waiting list has doubled and average wait times for priority applicants have quadrupled.
It will take a long time to clean up the mess left by the Liberals, but we need to make a start.
To put an end to out-of-control rent increases, Labor will oversee the construction of more than 1000 dedicated rental homes.
We will expand the shared equity scheme to help hundreds of Tasmanians own their own home and remove red tape slowing new builds and deliver a state planning scheme.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
As the former president of a peak state sports body, I understand the incredible benefits of participation in sports.
I also understand that to drive participation you need to be inclusive, whether it is at the grassroots or elite level.
Our kids aspire to represent Tasmania.
We need to create the foundations and pathways to ensure our children get the opportunity to represent Tasmania on a level playing field.
The AFL and AFLW cannot truly be called national competitions if Tasmania is excluded.
The time for a Tasmanian team in both is well overdue.
While Jeremy Rockliff and the Liberals claim we cannot have a team without a stadium, they know the stadium cannot be built - not at that location and not for that price.
They still cannot defend the stadium's flawed business case or explain how it will be paid for.

- Labor will go back to the negotiating table with the AFL and the Australian Government and deliver a better deal for Tasmanians.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I am proud to have been born and raised in Tasmania and feel very fortunate to call Tasmania home.
My experience in business leadership and management, and my participation in team sport, have taught me what can be achieved when you work together as a team.
Tasmania should take pride in being a state that sells unique, quality products and offers a visitor experience to rival the world's best tourist hotspots.
We have some of the best business innovations and if we can drive economic opportunity, we should be able to attract the best workers and entrepreneurs with a lifestyle that is the envy of the world.
To achieve this, we have to get the basics right first.
Tasmanians should be able to afford a roof over their head, see a doctor when they need to, and to be able to access quality, affordable childcare.
Our government must have the right priorities.

Aldo Antolli
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
With mortgage rates going up, and food and petrol prices increasing, energy bills are just an added pressure on Tasmanians.
While Tasmania has the lowest energy prices in Australia, we know Tasmanians are still struggling which is why we will credit $250 to all households this financial year.
For the next 12 months, we will also immediately halve the cost of bus fares state-wide and halve the cost of Derwent Ferry fares.
This is one of many initiatives in our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's future.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
I am passionate about housing because of my charity work with the homeless.
Our strong plan for housing affordability and accessibility will include helping Tasmanians buy their first home by stamping out stamp duty.
We will also unlock more affordable rentals by boosting our Private Rental Incentive Scheme, with an additional 200 homes renting between 25 to 30 per cent below median rates and in return property owners receive an incentive payment and are guaranteed rental income for a two-year lease.
Furthermore, we will remove land tax for property owners who build to rent or switch a short-stay home to a long-term rental.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
Successive governments, since the 1990s, have aspired to establish a Tasmanian AFL team.
The Liberal government is committed to fulfilling this vision.
At a time when JackJumpers games are consistently sold out and international events seek to engage with Tasmanians, it is our moment to deliver this crucial infrastructure development.
This initiative will contribute to tourism revenue for decades to come.
The resulting economic activity will result in more funding for health, transport and education for generations.
The Liberals alone have the courage to realise the desires Tasmanians have held for as long as I can remember.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
My vision is a Tasmania where our young continue to thrive and can afford to stay here and build their families, rather than seeking fortune and fable elsewhere.
A state whose infrastructure meets the varied landscape of our mountainous state supplies, our people with cheap and plentiful renewable energy, can host multinational events and attract revenues from around the world to us right here.
Freedom for our old and young to be free and speak freely to be the best they can be in the best state in the most blessed nation.

Gideon Cordover
Greens candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
To alleviate the cost-of-living, the Greens propose a comprehensive plan focused on housing affordability, the cost of bills and education.
Tasmanians are coping rent increases of hundreds of dollars a month, which is why we will again move to change the law to protect people from unreasonable rent increases.
We'll fight to bring down the cost of bills by capping power prices and halving the cost of car registration for concession card holders.
On education, our fully costed plans will introduce no-fee TasTAFE for all Tasmanians, and make public school free by scrapping levies, replacing them with more direct funding for schools.
By making big corporations pay their fair share and focusing on the needs of everyday Tasmanians, we can make a real difference to people struggling with the cost-of-living.
All this is possible with a new government and the Greens in the balance of power.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
After a decade of the Liberals, the size of the public housing waiting list has more than doubled, homelessness is growing faster than anywhere in the country, and rents have skyrocketed.
The Greens are fighting to make sure every Tasmanian has a place to call home by establishing a Department of Public Works that we'll task with build-

- ing 1000 quality public homes each year.
We will be halting unreasonable rent increases, ending no-cause eviction, and setting minimum standards for rental property appliances.
Our plan to put limits on short-stay rentals like Airbnb will help bring whole-home dwellings back onto the long-term rental market whilst ensuring that traditional short-stay business owners and people who list a room in their home, or their principal place of residence while they are temporarily absent won't be affected.
We will strengthen the rights of tenants who own pets and improve transparency in real estate practices.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
If I were given a billion dollars to improve the lives of everyday Tasmanians, there is no way I would blow it all on one great big gift to millionaire mainland AFL CEOs.
Rockliff's stadium deal bungle has been rightly condemned as one of the most shocking examples of political tone-deafness in recent memory.
With ambulances ramping and many Tasmanians facing homelessness or choosing between turning on the heater or getting groceries, the Rockliff government has decided to build a billion-dollar stadium.
Talk about not reading the room!
The Greens strongly support an AFL/AFLW team for Tasmania, but this shouldn't mean Australia's smallest state is paying for an expensive, brand-new stadium.
In balance of power in the next parliament, the Greens will fight to renegotiate the contract with the Tasmanian AFL team to stop the stadium and to invest in upgrading Bellerive Oval and York Park instead.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I want every family in Tasmania to enjoy a higher standard of living than they do today, including access to a secure and affordable home and a safer health system.
I want our precious environment to be protected, and to reverse the catastrophic population decline of critically endangered species like the swift parrot, red handfish and maugean skate.
I want us to be resilient and adaptable in the face of climate change and be as prepared as possible to face and recover from natural disasters like fire, flood and storm surge.
With a new government and the Greens in a balance of power, Tasmania can enjoy a brighter future, where corporate money is removed from politics, homelessness is eliminated through housing-first policies, and access to world-class health and education is guaranteed.
Importantly, I long for a political change where politicians put people before profits and where the local community comes first.

Josh Garvin
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
While there are no fast, one-size-fits-all solutions to fixing cost-of-living pressures, I know Tasmanians are doing it tough.
Helping Tasmanians with energy bill relief is just one way we can reduce that pressure in the immediate short term.
But we also need to look long-term at things we can do to support Tasmanians who are feeling the pinch.
We've already announced a range of measures like halving bus fares and stamping out stamp duty for first-home buyers.
These have been costed and considered to ensure they don't turn into problems for the next generation.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
We must implement measures that make rentals more accessible and affordable by incentivising homeowners to rent out their property over short-stay accommodation.
We must also be thinking long-term: we must build, build, build.
We need to get more homes on the market by building up and out.
We must ensure that the growth of our cities do not outpace the capacity of our roads.
Therefore, we need to look seriously at what opportunities there are to ensure our infrastructure is built with growth and the future in mind.
In this, it is critical to hear the voice of the next generation who will be here to see the outcomes.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I can't wait to be barracking for our team in our stadium!
I've been a strong supporter of the team and stadium from the beginning.
I have family members who had to move overseas to the mainland to follow their footy dreams.
I look forward to sitting with my future kids watching Tasmanians playing for a Tasmanian team.
I know the inspiration that will be for them.
Not only will the team and stadium inspire future Tasmanians, but having thousands of people in the heart of our city after a game will supercharge our local businesses.
Transport is a serious issue, though I see an opportunity to drive investment in our public transport.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I hope that in four years we will be able to look back having made the tough calls, having built more homes than ever, improved our public transport systems and kept Tasmanians safe.
We must act now to implement our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future.
Today's problems cannot be allowed to become tomorrow's regrets.
It is critical that every voter recognises that many of the problems we face today won't be the problems we face in four years.
So, we must ensure that those sent to parliament have a vision for the future and the ability to respond to new pressures as they arise.

Meet the Candidates

2024 Tasmanian State Election - Franklin Electorate

Clare Glade-Wright
Independent candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
This is a complex issue that has many contributing factors, and many at a federal level.
At the state level, I would support public transport being free and any measures to cap electricity bills.
Car owners should also have the option of a weekly deduction to pay their car registrations.
This would equate to a weekly payment on average around $12 per week and will assist families and individuals deal with the cost-of-living crisis by alleviating bill shock.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
I support higher density in urban areas.
I support keeping land tax high which deters property investors from owning more than one home.
I support the regulation of whole home properties being converted to short stays in urban areas.
This may mean a cap on the number of nights.
I support greater investment into the building of social housing.
I support greater investment into accessible housing noting that a quarter of Tasmanians are living with a disability.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I support an AFL stadium in principle.
This is subject to a design that is sensitive to its surroundings, subject to detailed costings that stack up, and subject to the assessment by the Tasmanian Planning Commission.
I don't personally like Mac Point as a location due to the historic aesthetics but prefer Regatta Point.
I would like to see the Truth and Reconciliation Park at Mac Point as per previous masterplans.
Now that the proposal is to cap the taxpayer contribution to $375m some risk is eased.
I see the investment into our state by the AFL and the Federal Government's contribution as a good opportunity that we should take up.
I would like to see soccer being able to be played at the stadium, and I also look forward to attending a Dark Mofo or other arts events there too.
I believe the Northern Rail Corridor is necessary infrastructure.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
Healthy and happy; environmentally, socially and economically.

Jock McGregor
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
We are taking action to ease the cost-of-living pressures.
From helping more Tasmanians into home ownership by stamping out stamp duty to giving Tasmanians energy relief with $250 cash back before June and half-price bus and ferry fares, we aim to support Tasmanians who need it most.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
First-home buyers will pay zero stamp duty on properties up to $750,000, helping an extra 1500 Tasmanian households into home ownership every year.
We are also offering 100 per cent land tax exemptions for property owners who either build-to-rent or switch a short-stay property to a long-term rental property.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I am the strongest supporter of Tasmania's AFL team and stadium at Mac Point.
This is not just about football.
This is about building stronger communities, economic growth and better health outcomes through increased physical activity and pride, which positively impacts well-being.
It's for our kids.
It's for our future.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
If we are courageous right now, then I see a strong Tasmania that is a beacon of opportunity.
A place where our kids want to stay and have access to a diverse range of jobs.
A place where they're supported into home ownership and where community safety is prioritised.
That's our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's future.

David O'Byrne
Independent candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
While the cost-of-living is often talked about as an issue, few are providing solutions.
There are many different cost-of-living policies that I have advocated for during my time as a Member of Parliament, and I'll continue to fight for these policies if re-elected.
I believe a root-and-branch review of Tasmania's government-owned businesses is needed.
Companies like Metro, Hydro and Aurora are owned by Tasmanians - they should be leveraging their position to keep prices as low as possible.
The next Parliament must properly invest in public transport, which is something I will always fight for.
Over the last decade, our public transport system has been undermined and services have been axed.
Transport and fuel costs are a significant burden on households, but having an efficient, affordable and desirable public transport system can help alleviate these

- costs by giving families a viable alternative to a private vehicle.
This is particularly true for those in regional areas including the Channel and Huon who regularly commute into Hobart.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
If you don't have a stable and secure roof over your head, how can you make your way in the world?
Increasing the supply of social and affordable housing should be the key priority of the next Parliament.
There has been too much reliance on not-for-profit community housing providers to build the thousands of social and affordable housing dwellings this state needs.
Instead, the next Government should utilise its own capacity and remove barriers to sensible private and public development.
Owning a home is now completely beyond the reach of tens of thousands of Tasmanians, leading to more people renting.
Renters need better protections through legislative changes, but a balance must be struck with the interests of landlords too.
Last year, as an Independent Member, I successfully carried legislation through both houses of Parliament with unanimous support to better protect social housing tenants.
There are many more reforms I am passionate about that will make renting and housing more affordable, including a model of a short-stay accommodation levy that I first proposed in 2022.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I strongly support Tasmania having its own team in the AFL and AFLW.
It would realise the dream that many Tasmanians have had for so long.
However, the reality is that our state does not currently have the facilities needed to set up a team for success.
Building a multipurpose stadium at Macquarie Point isn't just about the footy.
It would also provide a space for large conferences, exhibitions and events which Tasmania isn't able to host currently.
It would be an intergenerational asset that will spur decades of economic activity in our capital city.
However, any stadium built must be developed in a sustainable way.
The project and funding need to be transparent, and there must be plans for traffic and people management so the impacts to Hobart's waterfront are minimised.
I think the Government's handling of this project has been poor, which is jeopardising the entire AFL/AFLW team dream.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I want Tasmania to be a happier, healthier place that provides greater economic opportunities for all.
We can have a health and hospital system that can deliver timely care to all Tasmanians, including those in our regions.
The trend of increasing homelessness can be reversed, and the ever-growing social housing waitlist can be reduced through clever and targeted policy initiatives.
In four years, I hope our state can provide shelter and a safe place to sleep for those who can't afford to keep a roof over their head.
Tasmania has tremendous economic potential across a whole range of existing and emerging industries that can be realised with smarter government decision-making.
I don't think it's unreasonable to hope for a Tasmania that delivers good government services, good jobs, and looks after its people within the next four years.
The next Parliament just needs to ditch the mudslinging and personality politics and get on with the job.

Jacquie Petrusma
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
Our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future is all about taking more action on the issues affecting us most right now, and the most important of these to me is the cost-of-living.
Our energy prices are already among the lowest in the country, and our new Renewable Energy Dividend is driving bills lower.
We've also increased our support for concessions by 28 per cent over the past year to support the rising cost-of-living, including electricity bill relief payments that total $880 a year for concession card holders.
To further assist, we will halve bus fares on Metro and rural routes, and Derwent ferries.
More exciting announcements to come.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
Increasing supply and making housing more affordable and accessible are one of our main objectives.
Under our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future, eligible young Tasmanians won't have to pay a cent of stamp duty for any home valued up to $750,000 with huge savings of up to $28,935.
We are already on track to deliver 10,000 more social and affordable homes by 2032 and have already delivered almost double what Labor and the Greens did when they were last in government, with two a day on average being delivered.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
As the daughter of an AFL player, I wholeheartedly support the stadium.
We need a stadium that all children and young people can aspire to one day play AFL in, instead of being forced to give up on their sporting dreams as they cannot afford to move to the mainland.
I want my children to live, work, play and be entertained in Tasmania - not having to travel to the mainland because Tasmania lacks the capacity to host any significant events.
Importantly, it will create thousands of jobs, helping my children and yours to get a job, while being able to watch Tassie's very own AFL and AFLW team.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I want to see Tasmania as the best state in which to work, live and raise a family, which is why I am fighting for stability and certainty through having a strong, stable, majority government.
Under our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future, we will strengthen Tasmania's economy to create jobs, secure the essential services all Tasmanians rely on, and ensure young Tasmanians can get the training, apprenticeships and jobs for their future right here in Tasmania.
I want our children and young people to have the best possible start in life through a stronger economy that enables us to invest in health, housing and cost-of-living just to name a few.

Philip Pregnell
Labor candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
I know that so many people in Franklin feel like they're drowning in this cost-of-living crisis.
I'll back Labor's plan to take urgent action by getting bills down and tackling all those little costs that add up for families.
Tasmania owns the Hydro, but under the Liberals we've been paying mainland prices for power.
Prices have shot up by 22.5 per cent in just the last two years.
Labor will roll back these price hikes and save the average household $400 a year.
We'll also cap power prices to make sure they don't increase by more than 2.5 per cent per year.
Little expenses can pile up quickly for families, so I'll also back Labor's plan to take the pressure off parents.
We'll provide free school lunches, help to cover the cost of children's sports, provide extra support for school excursions, and let parents spread out the cost of school fees across the year.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
We need to build more houses for renters, give a leg up to aspiring first-home buyers, and provide more social housing for people who need it.
As part of a new Labor government, I'll back our plan to make more houses available to renters by incentivising the construction of an extra 1000 rental properties.
To help first-home buyers, we'll invest $20 million in the MyHome program which provides guarantees so that people can buy a house with only a 2 per cent deposit.
We'll also change the income thresholds to make the scheme available to more people.
To improve the long wait experienced by people who need social housing - a wait which has gotten four times longer under the Liberals - we'll urgently repair more than 200 public housing properties that are sitting empty because necessary maintenance hasn't been done.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I absolutely support Tasmania having our own AFL and AFLW teams, and I'm sure they'll find a place in my heart alongside the mighty Pies.
The stadium proposed by Jeremy Rockliff just doesn't make sense.
It can't be built at that location, for that price, and in that process.
We need to go back to the negotiating table with the AFL and the Federal Government to work out a better deal for Tasmanians so that we can also take urgent action on Labor's top priorities - health, housing, and the cost-of-living.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
Having spent over 40 years volunteering in Tasmania and nationally for community service and sporting organisations, I believe that strong communities are safe communities.
To achieve this, we need to start ensuring that our youth, being our future leaders, have an educational system that supports and encourages their dreams.
We need to provide mentors who can show that it doesn't matter where you live, you can achieve greatness.
We need to have activities that are available and affordable for our youth to give them a sense of belonging in our communities.
I would also like to see affordable health services available when and where people need them, and a higher priority placed on mental health than currently.
Mental illness is currently an epidemic in Tasmania, yet we are seeing the closure of treatment facilities and access to the help that so many Tasmanians need now, not in six or 12 months.

Nic Street
Liberal candidate for Franklin

- 1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
The Liberals' 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future is about taking action on the things that are affecting Tasmanians, right now - like the cost-of-living.
Tasmania currently has the lowest power prices in the nation but we know Tasmanians are feeling the pinch which is why we have announced that a re-elected majority Liberal government will deliver a one-off $250 dividend to every Tasmanian household this financial year.
- 2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
While we're building a record number of new houses, 3000 delivered in the last four years alone, we know that for many Tasmanians, their first home lies beyond reach, and rental prices are still too high.
Under our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future, our Private Rental Incentive Scheme will support a total of 500 households into affordable rentals.
We will also provide land tax exemption for up to three years, where a newly built home is made available on the long-term rental market.
- 3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
I am a very strong supporter of Tasmania entering the AFL/AFLW.
I want Tasmanians to have access to opportunity and aspiration at home and our new teams will be a shining example of that.
We want to ensure the team succeeds, so we need the best infrastructure and facilities to attract and retain talent, including a multipurpose stadium, and a high-performance centre planned for Rosny.
The stadium will generate significant economic activity and thousands of new jobs and will transform Hobart.
- 4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I want Tasmania to be moving forward, providing opportunities and jobs for Tasmanians.
We need to continue to invest in health, housing and mitigating cost-of-living challenges as best we can but we can only do that with a growing economy that is providing job opportunities for right now.
I firmly believe that Tasmania can be nation-leading in areas like renewable energy generation, technology development and our incredibly innovative agricultural sector.
But to keep moving forward, Tasmanians need a majority Liberal government that will provide the certainty and stability our state needs.

Meet the Candidates

2024 Tasmanian State Election - Franklin Electorate

Dean Winter

Labor candidate for Franklin

1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
We can't do everything on the cost-of-living, but we have to do everything possible. As Labor's energy spokesman, my main focus has been on ensuring families and businesses pay Tasmanian prices for Tasmanian power. We will reverse the Liberals' massive electricity price hikes and cap future increases to 2.5 per cent a year - that will save the average family $400 per year. Tasmanians built the hydro and we must be the ones who benefit from it. Our power bills should not go up because of coal and gas prices on the mainland.

2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
On top of the work already being done, we want to accelerate the construction of affordable housing, especially since there has been an easing in the market. We will deliver 1000 new properties through build-to-rent programs that offer tax incentives for developers to provide long-term rentals. To help people to own their homes, Labor will invest $20 million into the MyHome program, which allows people to buy a property with a much smaller deposit. We will urgently fix up untenanted social housing properties that are awaiting repairs. To boost the supply of new housing, we will make planning simpler.

3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
Labor absolutely supports Tasmanian AFL and AFLW teams. We support the ongoing funding of $144 million over 12 years and the high-performance centre. But we have to face the reality that it is going to be impossible to build a stadium at the site the Liberals are proposing. All the evidence, including soil contamination, restricted size of the site, impact on the Hobart Cenotaph, the port and nearby businesses, and the location of the historic Goods Shed mean actually building the stadium on that site will be highly problematic. Labor has said we will sit down with the AFL and discuss how we can work together to get a team that doesn't break our budget and can actually be delivered.

4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
I want to see a state that's the home of renewable energy in Australia. We have so much to be proud of but we do need to get some basics right. We need to implement Labor's plan to ease the cost-of-living, fix our broken health system and make sure every child has the best chance in life through an education system that works. After 10 years of the Liberals, it is pretty clear we need a change.

Rent and mortgage payments, bills and grocery prices have all gone up, and people are being forced to make impossible choices about what to pay for. Then you throw in things like school levies or transport costs, and things get even harder. The Greens are campaigning for meaningful action on the cost-of-living - not just nice-sounding slogans some politicians love. Our plan includes limiting rent increases and capping power prices. We'll fight to make public transport free and reliable everywhere and to halve the cost of car registration for low-income Tasmanians. And we're pushing to make public school genuinely free by scrapping school levies and having the government invest more instead. Change is possible, and Tasmanians deserve to be represented by politicians who are fighting for that change - as the Greens are.

2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
Access to secure and affordable housing is a basic human right, but too many Tasmanians are missing out. It's nearly impossible to find a place to rent, and if you want to buy somewhere now you're faced with prices we never would have dreamed of just a few years ago. The Liberals have not made housing their focus, and even now they're more focused on building a billion-dollar stadium instead of homes for Tasmanians. The Greens are fighting to build more public homes, to put strong limits on Airbnb, and to stop the massive rent hikes that are being experienced by so many people. We're also pushing to see more support for homeless Tasmanians and the organisations that support them. We will again make housing a priority focus in the next Parliament, and make sure Liberal and Labor politicians can't ignore the needs of everyday Tasmanians.

3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
The Greens have always been, and continue to be, strong supporters of an AFL/AFLW team. But Tasmania has been sold out by a Premier who didn't have the backbone to stand up to the AFL and say no to a stadium. With so many major issues facing Tasmania, we shouldn't be putting a stadium at the top of our to-do list. Liberal and Labor politicians both voted to support the stadium this year and, in this campaign, Labor is still refusing to say where they stand. But the Greens are crystal clear - we will fight to stop the stadium and to make sure the next Premier finally stands up to the AFL and brings them back to the table to renegotiate our AFL deal. Rather than spending a billion dollars or more on a stadium, we need to be investing in housing, health, infrastructure and school upgrades.

4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
After a decade of the Liberals, Tasmania is in a bit of a mess. Stories of people waiting hours for an ambulance or hospital bed are common. More Tasmanians are struggling to find a home and to pay their bills, mortgage or rent. And we're meant to be the clean and green state, but native forests are still being logged and burned. All these problems are so big that it can feel like we'll never fix them, but change is possible. And this election is a huge opportunity to make that change happen.

Nobody should pretend the problems facing Tasmania can be fixed overnight, but we have to act now to turn things around. With a new government and the Greens in the balance of power, we'll fight to make sure Tasmanians have better access to housing, a safer health system and an environment that's properly protected.

Dean Young

Liberal candidate for Franklin

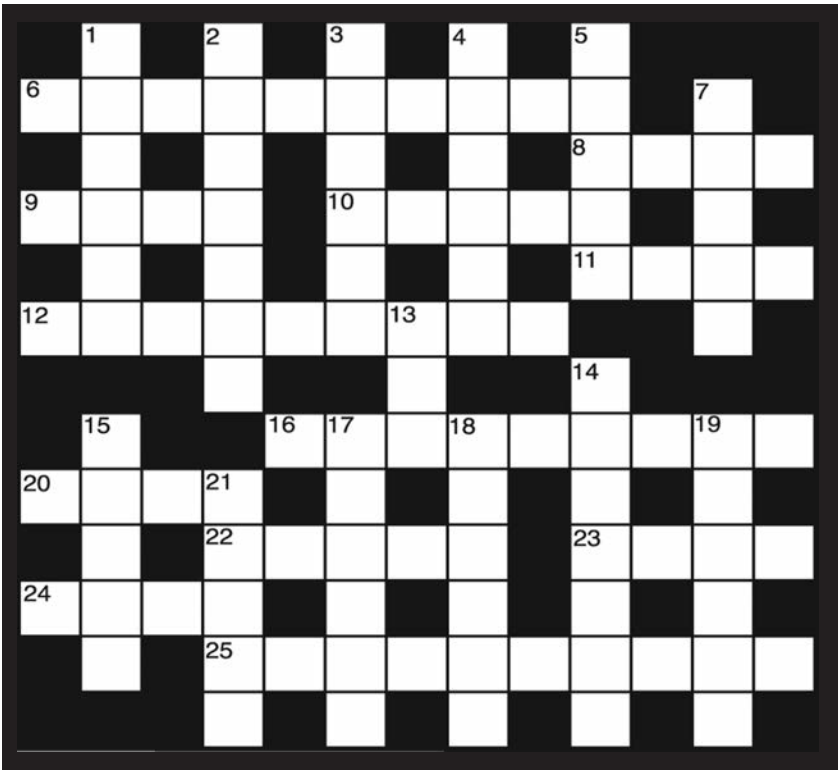

1. How will you ease the cost-of-living burden on Tasmanians?
To ease the cost-of-living pressure, the Liberals will implement targeted policies promoting job opportunities and attracting investment to Tasmania. Our focus on affordable housing initiatives and accessible healthcare services is integral to fostering a higher quality of life. Our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's future will navigate the challenges in the short and long-term, making Tasmania an even more prosperous and affordable place to live by 2030.

2. What is your plan to make housing more affordable and accessible?
Our 2030 Strong Plan for Tasmania's Future provides Tasmanians with the opportunity to own a piece of Tasmania. We will be stamping out stamp duty for first-home buyers, abolishing millions of dollars in stamp duty costs. Increasing housing supply is also our priority and we will unlock more affordable rentals by boosting our Private Rental Incentive Scheme. We will provide land tax exemption for up to three years, where a newly built home is made available on the long-term rental market, and a one-year land tax exemption for property owners who switch their property from the short to the long-term rental market.

3. What is your position on Tasmania having an AFL team and stadium at Mac Point?
This is a once-in-a-generation opportunity for Tasmania. A Tasmanian AFL team is a game-changer; it's an investment in our future. The stadium is a huge opportunity for Tasmania, positioning our state as a premier destination for national and international events, attracting tourism and injecting revenue into small businesses across Tasmania. The influx of visitors will stimulate hospitality, accommodation and retail sectors, creating jobs and building a strong economy that can then fund our essential services like health, housing and education.

4. Where do you want to see Tasmania in four years?
My passion lies in the heart of Tasmania - small businesses and education. I firmly believe in the power of education to elevate and inspire. Whether it's a toddler's first steps in early learning, a teenager mastering a trade, or an adult pursuing a university dream, education is the key to unlocking our fullest potential. My vision for Tasmania is one where small businesses not only survive but thrive. This means creating an environment conducive to growth, innovation and fair competition. It's about cutting red tape, providing support and resources and celebrating the entrepreneurial spirit that drives our economy.

This term Calvin Christian School is offering a girls-only lunchtime basketball activity every Tuesday, encouraging girls with all levels of experience to participate. (PS)

Calvin's queens of the court

Calvin Christian School is offering a girls-only lunchtime basketball activity every Tuesday this term.

Dubbed 'Queens of the Court' by Sam Twigg and endorsed by the Health and Physical Education department, this initiative encourages girls to know the basketball court is for everyone at all times.

Another member of the Calvin Christian staff said this was in an effort to encourage more girls to participate in lunchtime sport, as the basketball court has traditionally been a male-dominated area.

"Attendance has been good, with 14-20 students each week," the staff member said.

"These students range in age from Year 7 to Year 12 and the older students have been encouraging the younger students, building cross-age friendships."

This year Calvin expects to have up to three girls' teams representing the school in the SATIS competition in Term 3.

The Kingborough Lions had high hopes facing Devonport Strikers in the final of the Summer Cup on Saturday, March 9. Unfortunately, the Strikers were too strong against the Lions and won 3-2. Alfred Hess with a header. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Around 14-20 students play each week, ranging in age from Year 7 to Year 12. (PS)

This weekend teams from the Huon Channel Cricket Association (HCCA) faced off in some epic grand final matches. Margate Mecca took on the Crows in the HCCA C Grade Grand Final on Saturday, March 9. Mecca (pictured) claimed the victory 6-144 to Crows' 10-142. The Blackmans Bay Sharks started out strong in their matchup with Longley Bunyips in the HCCA B Grade Final but the Bunyips overtook them with their slow and steady innings. Bunyips claimed top of the ladder with 2-236 to Sharks' 8-235. HCCA A Grade played their preliminary finals with the Snug Scuds and Longley Bunyips facing off at Kingston Beach Oval. The Scuds triumphed with 2-317 to the Bunyips' 256. Scuds will take on the Blackmans Bay Sharks in next week's grand final. (PS Steve Ross)
